An investigation was conducted all day Monday by Attorney F. W. Stevens and Gen. Supt. Trump, in which Operator Cassidy and others were examined.

The probable cause of the delay of the freight which led to the wreck was the unloading of a car of gravel a mile east of the scene of the wreck.

The conductor and engineer should not have gone toward Salem on the excursion train's time, says Mr. Stevens.

An inquest will be held in Northville. Coroner Parker may hold another inquest in Detroit.

PLEADS WITH JURY TO SAVE HAYWOOD

ATTORNEY RICHARDSON SPEAKS ALL MONDAY MORNING AND EVENING.

Is Frank About Adams—Says Neither Side Dared Put Him on Stand—Preliminary Hearing of the McGee Perjury Case.

Boise, Idaho, July 23.—For four hours and a half Monday E. F. Richardson pleaded with the jury for the life of William D. Haywood. Under order of the court the hours for the day's sessions were changed and in place of sitting in the afternoon, court met at six o'clock in the evening.

The preliminary hearing of the case of Dr. I. T. McGee, one of the witnesses for the defense, charged with perjury, came up Monday afternoon and will be continued Tuesday.

Mr. Richardson plunged directly into the death of Gov. Steunenberg in his opening sentence. He declared it was Gov. Steunenberg's fortune during his administration to stand in the forefront of a labor war in the Coeur d'Alenes.

Perhaps, he said, the situation demanded that the governor did. Perhaps it did not.

Mr. Richardson reviewed the events following the death of Steunenberg, saying Harry Orchard was caught almost red-handed in the act.

A Pinkerton detective came to Idaho and soon had a confession from a man who, to save his own worthless neck, was ready to place the blame upon others, said Mr. Richardson.

At the evening session Mr. Richardson said he would do all he could to abridge his remarks on account of the intense heat.

Richardson charged that the independence depot explosion was the result of a plot by the mine owners to extirpate, root and branch, the Western Federation of Miners, which was trying to control wages and secure work for its members under proper conditions.

Answering Mr. Hawley's taunt in his opening address as to why the defense had not put Steve Adams on the stand, Richardson declared he wanted to be perfectly frank.

It would have been a case of dog eat dog, and Hawley and Borah knew it. Under the same influences that worked on Orchard they secured a confession from Adams which he repudiated. They have the confessions and we have the repudiation.

The Decisive Factor
Temperament is a word that has fallen into some discredit, because it is a writer in the Review Scientific, but after all, temperament is the decisive factor in the daily life of every human being. Heredity counts for much, no doubt, and environment is very important; but heredity and environment together are not so influential in determining the factor of every-day life as temperament. An illustration of its potency is seen in the case with which a fortune teller can read the past of a perfect stranger. Many well-informed persons are skeptical when astrologers claim to be able to read the past life of an individual. The too credulous, on the other hand, are amazed on the fortune teller states accurately the record of their lives. The fact is comparatively easy. One needs but to know that a human being's temperament is—anguine, lymphatic, bilious or phlegmic—in order to read an outline of his or her past. Hence all impostors of the successful sort like Carnegie—intense, sanguine, and strong temperament. Character, we are told, is destiny. It would be more scientific to say that temperament is destiny. It is the factor that determines the course of one's life. It is the factor that determines the course of one's life. It is the factor that determines the course of one's life.

FAMOUS "SPITE CHURCH" ABOUT TO BE TORN DOWN

NEW YORK—Brooklyn's famous "spite church" is about to be dismantled and it is a matter of conjecture whether the structure will be ground upon which it stands will be used. The little spite church was built in the center of a district inhabited by some of Brooklyn's most fashionable families, and its history is full of detail. It was built when the church had been razed, for it is a reminder of a "trick" that they do not take particular pride in. The church was built by west-meaning people in order to prevent the installation of a saloon on Lenox road several years ago. A large structure with stores on the ground floor and flats above was started on the southeast corner of Park avenue and Lenox road. Members of the Park side church, then, in the hands of a few architects, and many of the residents of the street did not want one on it. Particularly did the members of the Park side church object. After trying by appeals and protests to prevent the opening of the saloon, they started a little church on the site. According to the laws of New York state a saloon cannot be opened until the ground is covered by a brick side church. The church was razed down by the city, and a saloon was built on the site. # Manchester Enterprise

By MAT D. BLOSSER.

William H. ...
The traveling public would be better satisfied if railroad men would use more common sense in the performance of their duties and not rely altogether on time tables.

We want every reader especially every resident of Manchester, to know that they gain nothing by "knocking." Besides, they injure the good name of the village and its business men, by doing so. We may be mistaken in some particulars, but taking all in all Manchester is a little better than any other place. Just remember that.

The habit of spilling upon the floor or sidewalk is a very bad one, and in some of our Michigan towns persons and dogs are arrested. In the war against contamination every person should guard against spilling upon the walks. The spout from comminative dishes and cans as dust into others, and give disease to others by careless spilling.

Japanese who have come to America declare that they would like to become naturalized. San Francisco is re-letting and declares that Japanese shall receive the same treatment as other foreigners. Under such circumstances it would not be light to take the little Japanese in. We believe that they would learn to love this country the same as Germans and other good foreign-born citizens.

The awful horrors of the late Pate Marquette road do not appear to have caused a disinclination of travel. The Sunday trains were well patronized and people are planning on going here and there on excursions. The fact is that railroad accidents are of such frequent occurrence that people pay but little heed to them. The desire for a day's vacation is so strong that they are willing to take any risk to get away and they go.

Judge Smith yesterday denied the petition of Norman Townsend to have Charles Kemler removed from the guardianship of the latter's son, Charles Kemler, and also denied the petition in his charge, on the grounds that he was an unsuitable person. The petition was denied by the court at the hearing on the grounds that the petition did not set out any facts tending to show that the present guardian was not a suitable person for such a trust. The parties reside at Brooklyn—Patriot, July 23.

From reports given by the secretary of state, there were filed at his office in Lansing, Michigan, five candidates for the 16th district, for delegate to the constitutional convention: John P. Lawrence, M. J. Cavanaugh, D. John A. Parille, Ann Arbor; E. W. McKinnon, Detroit; J. E. H. Allen, John C. Campbell, Ypsilanti; Daniel H. Kingsley, Manchester; Daniel P. Skenderovich, Frank Maynard, D. Jackson, Lewis J. Wood, Russ Junction; J. E. Shier, Irving B. Rich and Charles J. Daniels, Jackson.

A few days ago we read an account of how a man in another country used an American flag to wipe off a table in a restaurant and then threw the flag on the floor. The restaurant keeper had used the flag and others for decoration purpose and he was offended and caused the man to be arrested and fined. At Marquette yesterday a British subject was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $10 for leaving down a United States flag. People should be taught to respect the flag of all nations and you can't begin too early to teach children how to love and respect the flag of their country. And along this line it might be well to teach them to be loyal and one of the first lessons in loyalty should be to be loyal to your own town.

Merchants complain that farmers do not come to town to trade as they used to, but are patronizing mail order houses. We do not presume that this is true of Manchester more than of some other towns, but we have heard a great many things home town what they wanted, and were obliged to go away for it. We wondered if the fault did not lie in the general store, where it is impossible to keep a complete assortment in any line if the storekeeper would keep a good line, one of dry goods, another of groceries, another of shoes, another of clothing, and so on, wouldn't it be easier to keep a better assortment than to send orders? We believe it would and would like to see it tried. It might be a difficult task to make the change, but our merchants have simply got to do something to keep what trade they have and our expectation is worth pondering over.

Do Your Buildings Need ROOFING?

The Life of Carey Roofing is not estimated, or based upon theories, but is a known fact, established and judged from the years of satisfactory service it has given applied to buildings in all climates.
Where CAREY'S ROOFING is applied according to instructions, and painted at intervals of from three to five years, during the first ten years of application, it will easily last twenty to twenty-five years, and all the expense of maintenance, including its first cost, will prove it to be the cheapest roof that could be put on any class of building.

Consider this subject from a common sense standpoint, and you will see that everything about the farm requires more or less attention and care, will prove it to be the cheapest roof that could be put on any class of building.
Only one complaint! 14 months handling Cromwell Shingles is a good record.
I am now ready to deliver to our private customers, O.M. at the market and your requirements. Call at the market and your requirements. Call at the market and your requirements.

and by the time I had studied your dispatches here a trifle, things began to happen below. It sounded like a St. Patrick's day celebration in an Irish village, and I went down at a gallop to see if there was any sense of festivity. I have you seen the room? Well, it gave several turns to his head, as though he were dizzy by the fire place. Another chap had got in there, and he was very drunk. I'm sorry that you are black as my eyes, but I'm sure you're not. I was defending myself gallantly with a large thing of brass that looked like a candlestick. I was very much surprised to see a man in a chair. My presence seemed to surprise the attacking party. I was very much surprised to see a man in a chair.
