FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN BONDS.

Bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan are now being turned out by the thousands daily by the Treasury's Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The bonds are similar in form and design to those of the third loan and space has been left on each bond for insertion of the exact terms of the bonds.

It is believed that a sufficient number of the bonds will be ready to make possible immediate delivery of all bonds of the fourth loan as they are purchased.

Kaleidoscope of Costume and Color In Charming Chautauqua Number

THE MERRILEES ENTERTAINERS

Have you ever longed to be transported as on a magic carpet, with lightning rapidity to the most beautifully picturesque quarters of the globe—through the very heart of Japan, into the quaint lowlands of Holland, and back to the romantic days of the American Revolution? The Merrilees will take you on such a trip during Chautauqua.

These four clever, young women, whose talent, training and beauty will be one of the sensations of Chautauqua week, feature a series of pictures in costume, music and song.

Their Japanese numbers possess all the charm of the Orient and transport one's thoughts to the land of cherry blossoms.

In the quaint wooden shoes and starched head-dress of the land of dikes and wind-mills, they picture some of the delightful beauties of life in Holland.

And their interpretation of Colonial days whisks memory back to the time when grandma was a girl, with the piquant regret that styles and maids have changed since then.

The Merrilees open the local Chautauqua in the afternoon of the first day and in the prelude at night.

The heads of the local Chautauqua committees are getting more and more enthusiastic as the dates of the great event, Thursday, July 25 to Tuesday, July 29, approach.

On the first day the entire afternoon and a part of the evening is given over to the program of the remarkable young ladies who comprise The Merrilees Entertainers.

There is an unusual charm to their work, in a series of beautiful musical numbers in costume, transporting one to dainty Japan, quaint Holland and the graceful Colonial days.

The second day brings Dean R. G. McCutchan, ably assisted by Miss Freda Hiatt, in their demonstration of that new musical art, Community Singing.

The nation-unifying effects of mass-singing will be demonstrated and they will make the second day one long to be remembered.

On the afternoon of the third day the Imperial Russian Quartette will render the full program and they will also provide a musical prelude for the evening.

This clever group of Slavic musicians will bring to life the weird and mystic music of the great white realm.

The fourth day brings the famous Fischer's Exposition Orchestra with a complete double concert at night.

MUSIC PRESENTED TO BAND

Former Manchester Boy Still Shows Interest in Town of His Birth And Boyhood.

We were surprised and pleased to receive the following letter a few days ago:

Chicago, July 10, 1918.
Dear friend: I see by The Enterprise you are organizing a band, so thought I would send you some up-to-date music. Wish you all a grand success. I remain
Yours respectfully,
LOUIS BEUERLE.

Many of our citizens will remember Mr. Beuerle, who was born here in 1870, but went to Chicago with his parents when he was quite a small boy. He is a splendid musician, dealer in music, furnishes band and orchestra music for theatres, concerts, dance parties and receptions. Besides, he owns a garage.

His father, Gottlieb Beuerle, died several years ago, but his mother is still living and with Louis has occasionally come back to renew acquaintances.

As the band is a product of the Welfare Club, which is made up of business men of the village, we are certain that the five pieces of music will be greatly appreciated and everybody will join The Enterprise in thanking Mr. Beuerle for his generous and timely gift.

HURRY AND GET THE AXE

Segregation of Roosters Urged by Prof. Burgess of Agricultural College at Lansing

If Michigan poultrymen will segregate their roosters during the months of July and August, the infertile eggs produced will retain their youth for a longer period while in storage than will fertile eggs, according to C. H. Burgess, head of the department of poultry at M. A. C.

The males should be removed from the flock during July and August, he says. Infertile eggs contain no germ of the chick and can be held at a temperature of 100 degrees for a period of two weeks, if necessary, without spoiling from this cause.

Fertile eggs can be kept for food only if they are taken a very short time after being laid and placed in a cool place or removed to a storage room where the temperature is almost at the freezing point.

The same egg, if left in the nest or gathered and held at the farm for such a short time as 36 hours is sometimes made unfit for food by the summer heat of July and August.

In the case of infertile eggs produced by a flock from which the males have been removed, the eggs are not damaged if it is necessary to keep them a week before carrying them to market. A much larger per cent will be saved and eaten by someone next winter instead of being burned as spoiled food.

A PRAYER.

Father, protect our boys in brown
Who marched from hamlet, field and town;
Each one a replica of Thee,
Each bears a cross to Calvary.

Be with them on the bloody field;
Be thou their armor and their shield,
Whisper to those so sorely tried
"Hold firm, thy Comrade stands beside."

When far from friends and mothercare,
Be with them there, be with them there,
"No greater love hath man than this,"
Be unto them the love they miss.

Father, behold how straight they stand,
These boys of our beloved land!
Oh, bring them safely home again,
This is our fervent prayer—amen.

The drought has ruined the early potato crop, at least in this section of Michigan, is the claim made by farmers. If we get sufficient rain soon the late potatoes may be saved.

One of the attractions at Camp Custer now is a camouflaged farm-

JACKSON COUNTY FAIR.

Indications point to a bigger and better fair this year than ever before.

Already more space has been spoken for in which to make exhibits than last year, but more room has been provided for them.

The secretary urges farmers to prepare now to show their stock at the Jackson fair. They give a man a square deal and the location being near it will be less trouble and expense to show them.

Stock breeders from every part of the country will be there. Farmers' wives are urged to take canned fruits, vegetables, butter, besides needle-work, etc.

The Safe, Steady, Farm Light

LALLEY-LIGHT is electric light for the farm.

It is safe. It is clean. Its cost is low. Its brilliance is always steady, without a flicker.

The light direct from the generator, with the plant in operation, is as sure and steady as when current comes from the storage battery.

This is so because Lalley-Light engine is designed especially for driving an electric generator.

It has extra large ball-bearings throughout. No other uses two ball-bearings on the crank-shaft; one on the connecting rod.

Lalley-Light has been in successful farm use for seven years. It brings new conveniences, better living, to every farm. Its light and power cost but a few cents a day.

Let us demonstrate Lalley-Light, free, right on your own farm. Write for the owners' testimonial book.

"Back From Hell," He Brings a Message From the Battle Line

The story of Belgium crucified—the sickening strain of the battle-fronts contrasted with its glorious heroism—life in the trenches—big deeds, by little men made great by the needs of the hour—trial—the heroism that hides beneath the hide of an ordinary man and flames up to light the gloom of a humanity at war—all this will be told during the Chautauqua in a lecture, "Back from Hell," by Samuel Cranston Benson, who went abroad for the Red Cross.

SAMUEL CRANSTON BENSON

Arrested in Brussels as a spy—by the same Germans who put the cold hand of death upon Edith Cavell, wounded in the leg by a rifle bullet, the scar of which he carries as a perpetual memento of his hazardous experience of unspeakable Hun atrocities—Benson is no retailer of twice-told tales. He knows whereof he speaks. There is the ring of experience in what he says. Sincerity, honesty, and a whole-souled hate of the murderous practices and unholly usages of the enemies of mankind who pay homage to Potsdam—these make his words hit home.

of that section of the "Joan of Arc" country which was laid waste when the war began. And from there to Belgium, Louvain, Namur, Charleroi—wearing a wretched picture of real conditions as he saw them. Through it all there runs a sad-denying sense of the cruelty, the barbarism, the terror-dictating frightfulness of the whole system of German warfare. It is the kind of a tale which leaves no half-baked Americans in the audience. But it is not all a story of sorrow. In addition, it tells of the wonderful gratitude of the people of France and Belgium for the services of the American Red Cross. It contains much quaint humor, too—the real humor of the battlefields, that sustains the soldier in his hour of trial and relieves the deadly monotony of his existence in the trenches. Mr. Benson will make you want to laugh, as well as want to fight. His lecture occurs during the first evening of the Chautauqua.

At Manchester, Thursday, July 25 to July '9
