A Rooftop Plate

Why have an ordinary Full Moon or Moon photograph that does not give true height of the full moon?

Our Rooftop Plates do not require any special technique from a strictly scientific, never mind artistic standpoint. They are easily obtained, and the results are uniformly satisfactory. Over 2500 amateur and professional photographers have been sent to us. They have been in constant demand for years.

SINNERS IN HEAVEN
By CLIVE ARDEN
Copyright by The Delta-Merrick Co.
He was never enough to receive a place among the saved. She was not enough to be saved, because, as she put it, in the "righteousness of her own life, she was not righteous enough to go to heaven."

The next few days were strangely happy. The first change of scene and of license to have a house had made the wild free life seem much more desirable. She saw more people and had her share of excitement with the new business the town. "I have always been a little bit of an adventurer," she said, "but I've always been afraid of the consequences."

That very afternoon, a stranger came to her door. He was dressed in the latest fashion, and he was accompanied by a beautiful woman. "I am a professional gambler," he said. "I have come to make a big bet with you."

"Of course," she said. "What is it?"

"I will bet you ten dollars that you cannot enter the next church door and tell the first person you see that you are there because you want to get saved."

She thought for a moment, then smiled. "I'll take the bet," she said. "But I will have to think about it." She spent the rest of the day in a state of excitement, wondering what she should do.

The next morning, she woke up early. She dressed in her best clothes and went to the church. She found a place at the back of the congregation, where she could hear the service but not be noticed by anyone.

She listened to the sermon for a moment, then turned to the man next to her and smiled. "I have decided," she said. "I am going to get saved."

"Oh, yes," he said. "Congratulations."

She felt a surge of relief and joy. "I am going to get saved," she repeated. "I am going to get saved." She closed her eyes and smiled, as if she were already in heaven.

PIT IN TURMOIL AS WHEAT DROPS

Selling of Fleischmann's Hollander's Wheat Have Stopped Slump.

Chicago—May wheat prices hit bottom today when breaking another 25 cent floor break in the market. The price dropped to $4.75 a bushel, the lowest point in the market this season, and the low was not touched until 4:30 P.M. when it closed at $4.75 and 25c.

With the work prices of all the wheat producing states, it was predicted that the market would drop, but the actual price drop was unexpected. The market is now in a state of uncertainty, as reports from all parts of the country indicate that the situation is improving.

Veteran traders said the market is in a state of uncertainty, and that the price is likely to rise. The market is now in a state of uncertainty, as reports from all parts of the country indicate that the situation is improving.

YEAST KING DIES DURING POLIO GAME

Throughout the world, the market is in a state of uncertainty, as reports from all parts of the country indicate that the situation is improving.

Julia Fleischmann of Cincinnati, world's greatest worker, succumbed to her battle with polio.

Miss Fleischmann, 32, who was the subject of an article in the Cincinnati Enquirer, died at 3:45 A.M. today, following a long illness. Miss Fleischmann was admitted to the hospital on June 15, 1935, with a diagnosis of polio. She had been in and out of the hospital several times since then, but her condition had not improved.

For several years Miss Fleischmann maintained a constant vigil over her invalid mother, who was also a victim of polio. She had been very active in the polio relief work, and had been a frequent visitor at the hospital where her mother was confined.
