Fundamental Transportation

Into the vast and complicated network of Transportation in Michigan have been built several necessary types of carriers. Yet it is noteworthy that each of these necessary carriers exists only through service by certain of Michigan's 24 Steam Railroads.

Electric railroads get their power from coal. Steam Railroads bring it to them.

Motor cars, trucks and buses use gasoline for fuel. Steam Railroads bring it from far-away refineries—bring, too, the materials for the paved highways on which motor vehicles run.

Not even ships are self-sustaining. Their coal meets them at the railhead.

Steam Railroads are Fundamental Transportation.

On their faithful performance everything else depends.

This responsibility is ever before the Steam Railroad men of Michigan. And they feel they are meeting it today better than ever before.

Does your experience confirm this belief?

Do you appreciate the absolute need of protecting this Fundamental Transportation from further restrictions adding to the cost of service?

Write this association frankly and fully.
