How Much Are Poor Roads Costing You?

5,000,000 of America's 18,000,000 motor vehicles are recognized as an economic necessity on the farm.

Is your car giving the full efficiency of which it is capable--and at the lowest cost per mile possible?

When you are jumping over bumps and ruts. Not if you get stuck in the mud.

In addition to the time when you slow along the way, you also pay for four to four cents a mile more repair, tire and repair tolls than you would pay on perfectly paved highways.

Then, too, many so-called improved roads have gone to pieces within the past few years, thereby filling up huge maintenance and rebuilding costs.

Contrast this all with the record of Concrete Roads--the roads that have been built and maintained built in Farm, town, and suburban areas, and they are, in every way, the most economical roads.

Tell your highway officials you want more Concrete Roads. Such investments will pay you big dividends in your year after year.

Romance of Old Spanish Traffic off the California Coast

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

The trip down the coast of southern California, one of the most picturesque and romantic潇洒 routes in the United States, has a new attraction this spring as a result of the opening of the new Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor. The harbor has been the scene of a great deal of activity during the past few months, and the new docks are now in operation. The harbor is located on the southern end of Long Beach, at the mouth of the Los Angeles River, and is one of the largest and most modern in the world.

The harbor is divided into two parts: the southern, or harbor proper, and the northern, or industrial district. The southern part is built on the old piers of the old harbor, and the northern part is built on the newly reclaimed land. The total length of the harbor is about 10 miles, and the water depth varies from 30 to 45 feet. The harbor is equipped with a modern system of lights and harbor aids, and the docks are equipped with modern cranes and other facilities.

The harbor is owned and operated by the City of Long Beach, and is under the supervision of the Long Beach Harbor Commissioners. The harbor is designed to accommodate large ships, and is capable of handling a large volume of cargo. The harbor is also equipped with modern facilities for the repair and maintenance of ships, and is designed to meet the needs of both the local and international trade.

The harbor has already attracted a great deal of attention, and is expected to bring a great deal of business to the city of Long Beach. The harbor is expected to be a great asset to the community, and is expected to bring a great deal of economic prosperity to the city. The harbor is already attracting a great deal of investment, and is expected to bring a great deal of new business to the city.

The harbor is also expected to be a great asset to the city in the future, and is expected to bring a great deal of economic prosperity to the city. What Makes a Hotel Popular?
THE BASIS of popularity of a hotel is satisfying service; and growth comes from the fact that guests not only come back again but also tell others of the good treatment they receive.
Here at the Rowe we endeavor to render service that is unobtrusive but effective in making our guests comfortable. And we know we are giving values that are not usually associated with the exceptionally low room-rate now in effect.

SCHOOL DAY SEPT. 30th
PROCLAINS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

President Says Year's Record Justification for Shame and Sorrow.

Washington—President Coolidge in a message to Congress calling for a national fire prevention week opened October 6 to be observed as a holiday, said that the record of fire deaths has been greatly reduced in the past, and that the greatest fire losses have occurred recently in homes and apartment buildings.

He said that the fire prevention week was the time to call the attention of the public to the necessity of not using open fires or candles in garages, attics, basements, or in any part of the home where they are likely to cause a fire hazard. He also urged the use of automatic fire alarms in homes and apartment buildings.

Newspaper for sale at Anniversary Hill, which has been approved by the President, will be sold for the benefit of the American Red Cross, which is fighting the fire prevention campaign.

CHAPTER II—Continued

He handed a slip of paper to the other, who glanced at it casually. Then he handed one copy to Mr. Bly and set down the other. Mr. Bly examined it carefully, then held it up to Mr. Smith and said:

"Yes. And have you taken any further steps?"

"I did," said Mr. Bly. "And you know what I’ve been doing."

"I know," said Mr. Smith. "How did you know that?" he continued, looking at Mr. Bly curiously.

Mr. Bly smiled. "Well, I haven’t told you yet how I knew it."

"Oh?" Mr. Smith said. "How did you know?"

"Well, I just happened to overhear a conversation between two men in the elevator."

Mr. Smith looked interested. "What did they say?"

"Oh, just ordinary, everyday kind of talk. About the weather, and the stock market, and that sort of thing."

Mr. Smith nodded. "I see."

"And then I went to my office and made a few inquiries."

"Oh?" Mr. Smith said. "What did you learn?"

"Well, I found out that the man who was with Mr. Bly was Mr. Smith’s secretary."

"Oh, really?" Mr. Smith said. "I never knew that."

"Yes, he told me he was."

"Well, that’s interesting."

"Yes, it is."

Mr. Smith nodded. "Well, I suppose we’ll have to see what happens next."

"Yes, we will."

Mr. Smith thanked Mr. Bly and went on his way. Mr. Bly stood looking after him, a triumphant, triumphant grin on his face. He then turned to his secretary and said:

"Okay, get this message to Mr. Smith."

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Bly smiled at the man. "Thank you."

Mr. Smith walked out of the building, his mind filled with thoughts of the future. He knew that this was only the beginning of things to come. But he was ready. He was ready for whatever lay ahead. And he knew that he would be successful. For he was Mr. Smith, the master of the universe.
