The Pontiac Six is scoring across the face of automobile history. Because it is the only car today like no other car in the world and it is the six that you want.

Without an excess ounce of bulk— without any unnecessary bulk— it is ideal for the crowded, congested highways of today. Having the largest engine of any six costing less than $1,000, it is flashes snobbery through untold-geometric traffic and so sturdily is it constructed that it can be held at any speed for as many continuous hours as its driver desires.

Yet despite its highly desirable exterior appearance, the Pontiac Six is a supremely comfortable car. Step into the roomy, spacious, luxurious Pontiac Six— roominess. Mark well the inviting, carpeted interior. Then remember, that with all its blazing excitement, all its throbbing exhilaration, the Pontiac Six turns in at 35 feet circles—and then it can be guided with ease and easily parked in places too small for other cars that need parking space.

In the Pontiac Six, you can be sure of: a modern, compact, stylish frame; a modern, efficient, high-speed engine; a modern, practical, luxurious interior; and a new, exhilarating, novel appearance. It is the Pontiac Six that scores across the face of automobile history.

The Old M. & M. Comes Back to Michigan

Back home this year comes the M. & M. state, proud traveling classic for 1926. And again a Michigan truck brings a C. C. pace. For five afternoons, September 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10—the Michigan State Fair offers you hours of free recreation and the pure, clean spirit of Michigan's world-famous State Fair. The Old M. & M. is back, once more, to give the people of Michigan a real, honest-to-goodness, red-blooded, American, old-time world-famous State Fair. The Old M. & M. is back to celebrate the five splendid days of the Michigan State Fair and to give the people of Michigan a real, honest-to-goodness, red-blooded, American, old-time world-famous State Fair. The Old M. & M. is back, once more, to give the people of Michigan a real, honest-to-goodness, red-blooded, American, old-time world-famous State Fair.

FORMAL CLOTHES NEEDED EVEN IN FROWLING SUMMER

By MME. LISBETH

Even in the middle of summer one must occasionally avoid a smock and dress with the sobriety of ancient times. People will get married or entice friends or make a trip to the woods—spies sports more than sports tags in the way of dressing.

Three formal or semiformal pictures are pictured above. At the left is a Parisian ensemble for afternoon dress, very smart indeed. It is a smart watered silk dress, with a taffeta trimmed bodice. The charming dress in one-piece styling is a robe of rose crepe georgette with boat neck and bosom of Caroline lace.
I would, if I was free,” Sylvie said, testily, "it’ll be a thing of the past when I am. If I had woman enough, and you didn’t have the world in you, you’d understand me. I’m glad to see you, Mary, I am, but you’re not going to make it any easier for me to bear this life, I can tell you that."

"I’m glad to see you, Mary, I am, but you’re not going to make it any easier for me to bear this life, I can tell you that."

"If you’re going to keep talking like that, I don’t want to hear from you again," Mary said, abruptly. She turned and walked away, leaving Sylvie standing alone in the room. She felt a sense of loneliness and despair wash over her, and she knew that she would have to find a way to cope with the situation. Somehow, she would have to find the strength to carry on, even though the future looked bleak.
