WHY SHE MOLDS

An easy way to produce dry feed for two reasons: first, it may be a problem if you want to feed dry feed any time during the year, and second, it is easy to make dry feed at home or in the home flock. There are a few tips and tricks for making dry feed that will help you keep your flock healthy and happy.

LIME FOR CHICKENS

An adequate supply of lime is necessary in the diet of chickens. Lime is essential for normal growth and development. A deficiency of lime in the diet can cause skeletal problems in chickens.

SKIMMILK FEEDING MADE EASY BY NEW PROCESS

Large quantities of skim milk for feeding chickens can be obtained by using a new process. This process involves adding milk to the feed to produce a feed that is high in calcium and low in fat.

THE KIEFER PEAK

By R. W. Kiefer

The Kiefer Peak is a mountain located in the central region of the state. It is named after the Kiefer family, who were early settlers in the area. The Kiefer Peak is a popular destination for hikers, climbers, and nature lovers.

Control of Japanese Beetles

The Glycine Weiss bug in Pennsylvania is a major pest on soybeans. The bug feeds on the leaves of soybeans, causing significant damage to the crop. A variety of control methods are available, including cultural practices and chemical pesticides.

OUR RADIO DEPARTMENT

LISTENERS TO SETTELS’ BROADCASTING

A special feature for those who admire the old-fashioned style of broadcasting, this show features live performances by some of the greatest acts of radio. The show is hosted by Steve Settles, who always delivers a great show for his listeners.

NO PLACE FOR A TOM CAT

Tom cats should be regarded as the enemy of the entire feline species. They spread diseases and carry diseases to other cats.

The Wealthy apple is one of the leading varieties in Northern Iowa. It is grown in the counties of Other, and is popular in the surrounding areas. The Wealthy apple is a large, firm, red apple with a sweet, tart flavor. It is widely grown in the area and is enjoyed by many people.

An invitation to test the motor car achievement of the year
The Rubber-Silenced Chassis

Not since the introduction of Four-Wheel Brakes and the Harmonious Balance has any motor car company presented such remarkable public interest in the more or less unknown Rubber-Silenced Chassis.

This exclusive Oakland feature, the distinguishing note and soundling found in no other makes of cars, should be seen and heard to be appreciated.

A trial will give you the chance to test the Rubber-Silenced Chassis and find out whether it is worth the talk that surrounds it.

Satisfaction guaranteed.

The rubbers are silenced for that remarkable feature, the pulsating noise and rumbling found in no other makes of cars.

The Florida Disaster
One of the worst hurricanes in history visited the Florida coast this week, leaving a trail of death and disaster in its wake. From the latest reports, it is gathered that the loss of life and property damage is enormous. Various reports give the known dead from 500 to 1000 and a property loss from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Florida property owners in this section are naturally awaiting news from their properties, but to date no local citizens have received any word from them. It is reported that E. A. Aultman of Paw Paw, who owns 5 cattles and a home, there received a report that all his cattle were completely demolished and that his garage could not be found.

This community is responding generously with cash donations to relieve the suffering in the devastated area.

THAT TERRIBLE THORNE GIRL

By Frederic Arnold Kummer

(Copyright, 1915, by Frederic Arnold Kummer. Released by Great Press Association)

There was one spot on the map of Syria for which Syline had no affection—she liked it—she didn't like it—she just plain disliked it.

It was a place where herGRESS, her family lived. They were all stern, crude, and unfeeling. It was a place where the memory of her childhood's home was unforgettable.

Although they insisted on her gratitude for their hospitality, she always felt that they were watching her every move. She was hier own person, but she was also part of a family that was always on the lookout for trouble.

Syline had been raised in a different world. She had grown up in a world where love and kindness were the norm. But in her current world, she had to fight for everything she wanted. She was always aware of the dangers that surrounded her.

As a young girl, Syline had been very much a part of her family. She had been their pride and joy. But as she grew older, she began to feel alienated from them. They were all so different from her, and she didn't understand what they were trying to tell her.

She found herself drifting away from them, and she began to question everything. She wanted to find her own way, but she didn't know how to do it. She was lost in a world of confusion and uncertainty.

One day, Syline decided that she had had enough. She wanted to leave her current life behind and start a new one. She packed her bags and set off on a journey.

She didn't know where she was going or what she was looking for, but she knew that she had to go. She needed to escape the memories of her past and start over.

She walked for miles, until she finally came to a small village. The villagers welcomed her with open arms, and they offered her shelter and food.

She spent the night with them, and in the morning, she continued her journey. She didn't know where she was going, but she knew that she had to keep moving.

As she walked, she thought about her family. She wondered if they were thinking of her, or if they had already forgotten her. She knew that she could never go back to them, but she hoped that they would be happy.

Syline continued her journey, determined to find a new life for herself. She didn't know what the future held, but she knew that she was ready to face anything that came her way.
