The Heritage From Europe's Cottagers

Cottage tulips, one of the great achievements in the garden, are the survivors of the humble cottagers of Europe, who grew them in great numbers and sold them by the bushel when occasion required. The cottage tulip is a very old flower, and has been cultivated for at least 300 years. The first known records of tulip cultivation date back to the late 16th century.

The cottagers have been the subject of many legends and myths, but there is little evidence to support these claims. It is believed that the cottage tulip was originally grown in the Netherlands, where it was introduced from the gardens of the nobility. However, it is not clear how the flower came to be associated with the cottagers.

Cultivate Your Orchard

There is no longer any question as to whether the orchard should be cultivated. In fact, just as a matter of course, orchards are being cultivated almost everywhere. The orchard is an important source of food, and many orchardists are turning to fruit culture as a means of support. The orchard is also an important source of employment for many people, and the cultivation of orchards is a way of life for many.

The Municipal Farmers’ Market

By C. C. CARPENTER and I. B. STAFFORD, Syracuse University

The farmers’ market is rapidly becoming a popular place for many farmers to sell their surplus produce. It is a way for farmers to sell their produce directly to the consumer, and it allows them to get the best price for their goods. The market is also a way for consumers to get fresh, local produce at a reasonable price. The market is open every Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Old Town Market, located at 123 Main Street.

Seneca Sweet Cherry

Seneca, a new sweet cherry developed by the New York State Experiment Station at Geneva, is said to be the earliest maturing cherry available. It was first introduced in 1928, and has since become one of the most popular cherries grown in the United States.

Start the Flower

Start your cutting garden this fall and you will have early flowers next year. The sooner you start, the sooner your garden will be in bloom. Start with bulbs and seeds, and then add annuals as they become available. For a beautiful spring garden, start with bulbs such as hyacinths, crocuses, and daffodils. For a summer garden, start with annuals such as petunias, marigolds, and zinnias.

Improved Bankers for the Future Ice

Refrigerator beakers with banks of water, which are used to keep ice cream and other perishable foods cool, were developed in 1923. These beakers consist of two banks of water, one inside the other, with a layer of ice between them. The ice is kept frozen by the water in the outer bank.

Formation of Fruit Buds

Whether or not the buds of apple, pear, and peach trees will come to flower next year, it depends on the conditions of the season. The fruit buds are formed in the summer, and the buds of the tree must be healthy and vigorous to produce flowers and fruit.

The WARE DUNES

By GEORGE M. FOX

Seven miles north of Three Oaks, on the main highway north bound to South Haven, is a rare and marvelous feature known as the WARE DUNES. Here, on a high ridge, are the remains of an ancient sand dune, standing out as a natural wonder and a symbol of the power of the wind. The dunefield is one of the most interesting features found in many parts of the world, where sand has been blown by the wind into large piles, forming what are called sand dunes. The WARE DUNES are one of the most beautiful examples of this natural phenomena.

In the early part of the last century, the dunefield was much larger than it is today. However, due to the activities of people, such as farming and building, the dunefield has been reduced in size. The WARE DUNES are located on the outskirts of the town of Three Oaks, and are easily accessible to visitors of the area.

The dunefield is a popular destination for tourists and locals alike. The WARE DUNES are a great place to explore and enjoy the natural beauty of the area. Whether you are a nature lover or just looking for a fun day outdoors, the WARE DUNES are a must-see destination.

My Last Appeal to the Voters
For Their Support

Through the press of Van Buren County I have spoken to the voters during the past three weeks. This will be my last opportunity to address you before you go to the polls and cast your ballots for the men and women of the county and the older people as well have given "see to my name."

I am also convinced that the old saying that a Democrat cannot be elected to county office will not be true this year.

My arguments have not been personal but I have argued against my opponent's SIXTH term as treasurer.

I believe you will agree with me when I say I have made a candid statement. I would not be putting forth my campaign pledges and bonds and letters so that if elected I can go into the office free from all obligations but my oath of office.

My name is the only DEMOCRAT for County Office. No matter what the result may be I shall "serve" and will not be "a bidder." To my mind a good loser is always a winner.

If it is going without saying that I shall be happy in the thought that MY FRIENDS REGARDLESS OF PARTY have helped me. I am very grateful for the opportunity that has been afforded me of meeting many of the good people of Van Buren county. It has been a happy time and I could not see to it all.

I am also grateful to the Press of the county for their treatment of my candidacy.

Yours Very Truly,

ROBERT H. CAVAUNAH

POPULAR FABRICS REMINISCENT IN THIS TWO-PIECE SUIT

The Weekly Fashion Hint

By MME. LIMEI

Popular fabrics reminiscent in this two-piece suit are wool and rayon, worn with a red and blue print. A checked suit is much chicer than one that follows the trend, and this is also a favorite in China. It may be worn with chokers, but the shades may be somewhat different. These fabrics are made of a more modern style, suitable for both evening and daytime wear. The costume is ideal for the red and blue prints. It is a very pretty combination and its color scheme is rich.

Pringle achieves a distinctive trimming in this charming frilled suit of striped cotton and wool. The frills add a refined touch to the skirt, which is trimmed with a button. The blouse will be made to fit the girl's figure. The fabric is not only beautiful, but also comfortable. It is a very pretty combination and its color scheme is rich.

The accompanying photo shows a woman wearing a red and blue print. She looks very happy.

Jennings, the 20th century gemstone, is very valuable. It is a very beautiful combination and its color scheme is rich.

They are trying to look over the wall very early morning and go over the fence. But we're not going out over the tap. We're not going to do that. We're just going to go there and see if we can get ourselves away like that! And we know we can. We'll see you later on.
