GRADING AVERTS LOSSES IN PEACHES

Several packing houses are grading peaches in this state during the last season and reserving for profit for growers, while in the past peaches have been sold on the grade of the industry. Heavy losses have been sustained in past years from the shipping of unsold peaches because of the absence of grading and packing houses. This season the grading of peaches is being uniformly done and in consequence large profits are being made.

Strange North Bird

Seen in State Park

It is incorrect to state that the unusual birds that have been observed in Michigan are a result of the changing climate. Many of the birds observed, such as the snowy egret and the American white ibis, are known to be migratory. The snowy egret is a large white bird with a long, curved bill. The American white ibis is a large gray bird with a long, curved bill. Both birds are known to migrate south in the winter and return north in the spring.

Michigan Spuds in February

Short U.S. Crop

There is a demand for Michigan potatoes because of the low quality of other potatoes, especially the surplus crop from the federal agricultural statistics, and the low price paid for the crop in the local market. In 1955, the price of potatoes in Michigan was $2.00 per hundredweight, which was below usual prices. This resulted in the destruction of the surplus crop.

March winds and April showers are hard on the face of a woman, for although they do not last very long they are always there. They are like the weather; they come and go, but always they are there, basking and breathing cold through the summer months, and thawing and warming the winter season. They are like the wind; they come and go, but always they are there, stirring and stirring the air with their icy fingers, and blowing and blowing the leaves with their stormy power. They are like the rain; they come and go, but always they are there, dropping and dripping on the ground with their heavy weight, and streaking and streaking the streets with their flowing streams.

THE FEMINIST MOVEMENT EXTENDS TO WALKING STICKS

Most women who do not already make an effort to walk are now doing so. The reason for this is that the women of today are becoming more health conscious. They are realizing that walking is a great way to stay healthy and fit. In addition, it is a great way to get some fresh air and enjoy the outdoors. The movement is spreading rapidly and is gaining momentum.
