Special Notice

On December 1, 1969 I sold my restaurant, the West End Restaurant, for $31,000. It contained only 400 square feet and was in a building that had been used as a store. It was very small. My new boss, however, was very kind and kept my job. I was soon made supervisor of another restaurant that was called the West End Cafe. I was very happy there and stayed for six months. During this time, I learned a lot about the business. I decided to open my own restaurant, and I bought the building from the bank. It is now called the West End Cafe. I have been there for five years now and I love it. I have many loyal customers who come back again and again. I am very proud of my restaurant and I am sure that you will enjoy it too.
