What's What in Michigan

CAPITAL FOLK ARE EXPERTS AT POSING FOR PICTURES

Washington—A public man’s ease in front of the camera is really a mark of his ability to pose for pictures. Only a few weeks ago, on the day the President made his annual speech to Congress, his facial expression was captured by the camera. The same story was told by the newspapers around the country. It’s hardly possible to doubt his sincerity when he has a smile on his face, and the newspapers are unanimous in saying that he is not a natural type.

Mrs. Coolidge is said to be particularly fond of replying to Senate questions by saying that she doesn’t have any opinions. That, however, is not a natural type. It’s a natural type to be in a natural mood. Mr. Coolidge himself has a natural type of personality which is not easily caught by the camera.

THE USE OF ELECTRICITY INCREASES STEADILY FROM YEAR TO YEAR

The report of the production of electricity by public utilities for the year 1918 indicates a decided increase in the use of electricity in this country and a corresponding decrease in the use of coal for the same purpose. The total amount of electricity produced in 1918 was 50 per cent greater than in 1917. The increase in the use of electricity is due to the decrease in the use of coal for the same purpose.

Beer Is Important in Fruit Production

The farmers have found that beer is the most valuable ally in the production of fruit. The use of beer in the department of agriculture now plays a large part in the production of fruits. In 1917, the first year that beer was used, its yield was six tons for six barrels, whereas in 1918, the yield was six tons for three barrels.

End of the Week's News

The end of the week's news is the time to consider the week's events. It is a time to review the past, to think about the future, and to plan for the week to come. The end of the week's news is also the time to reflect on the week's events, to think about the week's news, and to plan for the week to come.
