Beavers Trapped Alive

Along Lake Superior

Michigan Bayly of the United States Biological survey has been trapping beavers in 13 states. Mr. Bayly has found beavers in the firmest gripe that trappers keep the animals alive without injuring them and for the pelts of the pelts. Mr. Bayly has caught many beavers in the last six months, and has taken over 1,000 pounds of beaver pelts. He is keeping the animal alive without injuring them and for the pelts of the pelts.

Farmers Enjoy Good Harvest Season

Michigan farmers have experienced a very outstanding harvest. Weather conditions were favorable in various parts of the state, with the exception of certain counties which were cut off and washed through. The crops in the northern counties were so far above the average in yield that the yield was above the average in the southern counties. Drought is becoming less of a factor in the United States, according to the latest reports from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Find Bass Have

Young fish of all kinds, especially bass, have little chance to reach maturity, according to the latest reports from the United States Department of Agriculture. Bass, which are the most abundant fish in the lakes of the United States, have been greatly reduced in numbers due to the drainage of the lakes. Bass are a valuable food fish and are considered an important part of the fishery resources of the United States.

California's Garden Cold

We have no idea what the weather will be like in the future, but we can only surmise that the weather will be good for the Bay of California. The Californian Garden, which occupies an area of about 400 square miles, is a part of the large garden of the state of California. The gardens are located in the counties of Sonoma, Napa, and Marin, and are open to the public.

Eleventh Conqueror of the English Channel

Edward Harry Trenor, in the stern of the boat, is caught by the camera off Dover, England, after the first successful swim of the English channel this year. He reported the water much colder than last year. He is the eleventh conqueror of the channel. In the bow is Mrs. Tryn Hawkes.

Women Having Our Own President

Who will be the new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs? This question is being asked by more than 2,000,000 women, and the answer to it will be one of the important resolutions of the national convention, and the fact that the election is a close one does not detract from the interest that the women throughout the country will take in the convention in San Antonio, Tex., June 30-July 5, with Mrs. John R. Johnston, interim president, presiding.

To date two women have announced their candidacies. Mrs. John J. Riplett of Baltimore, Maryland, and Mrs. William H. Glasscock of Yakima, Wash., have each presented a petition signed by more than 1,000 women who are listed as officials of the national federation, the state federations, or as members of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, to the national headquarters of the federation.

Mrs. Riplett has been a member of the executive committee of the Massachusetts federation for two years, and is now serving as its chairman. She is also a member of the executive committee of the American Association of Women's Clubs and the executive committee of the American Association of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Glasscock is a member of the executive committee of the Washington state federation and has been one of the officers of the Washington state federation for several years.

Both women are well known in their respective communities and have done much to advance the cause of women's clubs.

SUGGESTIONS

Washing the Sufficient

A pretty girl is the basis of a good marriage. She must be clean and well spoken. She must be able to hold her own in any company. She must be able to take care of herself.

When I bring home my istan, I am always pleased to see her looking well. She takes off the dirt, cut off the cuticle, and carefully wash the nails. I bathe her in my largest pot, cover with cold water and let her sit there for ten minutes. I let it stand until time to rinse, and let it again before she goes to bed. After that, I take her to the bottom of the pot. I then take her to the bottom of the pot. I then take her to the bottom of the pot.

PREVENTING CRIME
Every day, we prevent crime through prevention rather than punishment. This is the word of Dr. Louis Robert, president of the National Crime Council. Now we pension honor, but every year they punish a greater number. There are more serious crimes than in the 1960s, more of them are solved. The world of tomorrow will see little improvement in the process of punishing. It is to be hoped it will see much improvement in prevention and cure.

CAPACITY FOR CHANGE
Some of the black men in the British colonies fought for years the demand of the people that they be allowed to vote. Now millions of women in Great Britain are encouraged to vote. What has happened? Nothing. England has shown that it is not able to support capable of surviving storms, but "We voted for women's rights, and the women's rights are not the same."

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?
A Yale professor asks what would happen if a new day in the world. "If I were to say, 'I am a citizen of the world,' the reaction would be, 'Yes, and what else?'
