I plan for the Greenville Potato Show association for a meeting at Greenville next fall and am in training for the same. This is the fourth and final stage of the training. The purpose is to improve the quality of potatoes grown in and around the town of Greenville. As a result of this training, a number of potato growers have agreed to participate in the show association's annual activity in Greenville, which is expected to be one of the largest in the state.

In addition to the above, there are several other potato growers who have expressed interest in participating in the show association's activities. These growers are located in and around the town of Greenville and are working to improve the quality of potatoes grown in the area.

The Greenville Potato Show association was formed in 1987 and has been active in promoting the quality of potatoes grown in the area. The association has a number of activities throughout the year, including a annual potato show, a potato growing contest, and a potato cooking contest.

EGG STANDARIZATION HELPS THE BUSINESS

Eggs standardization has greatly increased in marketable demand. The reason of course now lies in the fact that they receive a regular supply of eggs that are of uniform quality. Eggs are usually sold by the size of the egg and by the weight of the egg. The size of the egg is determined by the number of eggs in a dozen. The weight of the egg is determined by the average weight of the eggs in the crate.

EGG MARKETING

Egg marketing is governed by the law of demand and supply. The market for eggs is affected by the amount of eggs produced, the price of eggs, the demand for eggs, and the availability of eggs.

EGG QUALITY

Egg quality is affected by a number of factors, including the breed of the chicken, the feeding regimen, the housing conditions, and the environmental conditions. The quality of the egg is determined by the appearance of the egg, the size of the egg, the weight of the egg, and the degree of freshness.

FACTS — AND THE OPEN MIND

The most important element in business success—
and the most difficult—is to be sure that you have all the facts before you act.

Tt err them all, from every possible source, is the first objective in General Motors. The Research Laboratories contribute some. These are nuggets, left in the crucible, after hundreds of ideas that looked good have been burned away. The Proving Ground contributes others. Dealers contribute.
The public contributes. Every department contributes.
Through the whole organization runs a spirit of independence and of rigid insistence on proof.

Out of such thinking come the new models
announced from time to time by Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, LaSalle,
Cadillac—all with Fisher Bodies. And by Frigidaire.
Each new model is a tested step forward. Nothing goes into it as a result of habit or guess or pride of opinion.

Nothing counts but hard-won facts, gathered and used with an open mind.

LIVING AND LOVING

By Mrs. Virginia Lee

A LITTLE PREACHMENT

I sopleed if you might be permitted just a little bit of preaching. Just to remind myself in the midst of the bustle of not being out of order. Do you know, boys and girls, that is my problem? I can't help feeling that if you would devote some of your time to learning to spell quite grammatically you might help that beauty feel a good deal better.

Suppose you and your friends have questions to ask each other, not about some one else. Your heart is come to a point of some struggle and you write a letter to this extenuation. You pour out your heart to me, my dear, and tell me letter brilliantly how low you are and how low you have been, and how many words you have mis- spoken, and how you can no longer find the way home. And then, in the end, "What now? We can't 'go on without money to live on.'"

Another says, "I just can't find anything to do."

You probably know what I mean. I know that there is a wonderful basin of hearts, and that there are casualties in the years that you can count on your fingers, and that there is a beautiful way to live the rest of your life.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a burn 18 years old and a very conscientious youth. I have been going to a boy for some time now. He is very handsome and sweet. I have been reading books to him. He has been speaking to me. He has done nice things for me. He has surprised me;

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I am a girl in my 16 years and I am having difficulty with my boy. I want to break our friendship. He has been so nice to me. I want to break up with him. I am going to divorce him."

I want to say to you boys and girls, if you are in the habit of writing letters that are not addressed to me personally, I must ask you to write me personally. Don't write to me. I want any number of you to write me personally. Give me your advice and tell me how I can help you.
