DEER YARDS TO BE STUDIED BY STATE OFFICERS

A deer survey in the Upper Peninsula was completed January 14, when 400 experienced men from the Department of Conservation began operations for the second straight season. For some time, sportsmen and the public alike have been interested in the subject. By spring the department expects to have a 100-page report on the results of the survey, and in due course a detailed analysis of the report. The deer population is now being estimated on the basis of the report for the first time in 20 years.

Within a year or two, a waterfowl survey will be conducted in the state, and the Department of Conservation hopes to make a survey of the state's deer population for the next season.

Returning to Sea-His Enemy

A telescope on a mountaintop from which a man can see for miles is useless unless there is a man to use it. So it is with a national defense system.

President William H. Taft, recently in the Panama Canal Zone, was shown a map of the entire Pacific Ocean. He then asked, "Where is Hawaii?"

"Here it is," was the reply.

Although she had studied piano and voice in her youth, Mrs. Betty White, wife of a Cleveland lawyer, has become a great lover of music. "I have listened to music and enjoyed it for many years," she said. "I am particularly fond of classical music, and I like the way it evokes emotions in me." Mrs. White enjoys listening to music on her own, and she also enjoys attending concerts and performances. "I think music is a wonderful way to relax and enjoy oneself," she said. "I am grateful for the opportunity to continue to enjoy music throughout my life."
THE DEFINITE ANSWER

By MARY LINCOLN ORR

The jibe that "we're never really mother nature's messengers," and selected a simple flower from the garden, while leaning on her wooden cane, was touched by the "healing" hand of a gentle, loving spirit. The flower was a lily, and the message was, "Trust in the love and guidance of nature."

"Do you know, Lady, you might have made a fortune selling those flowers," he said, as he handed her a bouquet. "They're perfect for any occasion."

"Oh, no," she replied, "I'm just happy to have the chance to share nature's beauty with others."

"But think of the money you could make."

"I prefer the simple life."

"Lady, you're missing a great opportunity."

"You're right. I should think of it more seriously."

"Lady, do you know that you could make a fortune selling those flowers?"

"I don't think so."

"They're perfect for any occasion."

"I prefer the simple life."

"Lady, you're missing a great opportunity."

"You're right. I should think of it more seriously."

The woman smiled, "Thank you for your kind words, Mr. Martin."

"You're welcome."

The lily was gently placed in the woman's hand, and she walked away, leaving a trail of beauty and grace.}
