DEPARTMENT OF POST OFFICE AND POSTAL SERVICE

The Air Mail Service is Started.

Inauguration of overnight air-mail service between Detroit and New York was marked recently when the first plane flew over the newly laid Detroit-Frankfort airway.

Following the initial flight from Teen to Detroit, the plane left for Toledo at 8:15 a.m. to connect with the transcontinental flight flying the eight cities between Chicago and New York. The new air way has for its first route a direct line from Detroit to Chicago and the new municipal airport at Toledo, which has been the only one in this country to the Continental Airport. A Pizzaro Mail Line plane, a streamlined single engine biplane capable of flying 315 miles an hour, left Detroit and then the plane passed.

The mail being carried between Cleveland and New York has been replaced by this line, where the plane is to be maintained eight hours a day, and the flight is to be made without a change of lieutenants and aircrews to save the greatest possible amount of time.

Air National Transport is developing a new training field for use in carrying air mail, according to Bay W. Tenney, general traffic manager.

Detroit airmail, posted before 10:30 a.m., will be delivered in the city in sixteen hours, and at any point in the state in eight hours. The plan is to be extended to other parts of the country in the near future.

The flight was piloted by Charles O. Thompson, chief pilot of the American Express Co. of Detroit.
