GEES MAKE PROFITS
WHEN GRASS OF ANY KIND IS AVAILABLE

Abundant pasture of a sort that is tender and remains green for a long period is the most remunerative basis for the raising of grass. A stream of water, or even meat of cold water and a small amount of water, is required to keep the grass alive and growing. Geese cannot be raised successfully and profitably on the meadows of the United States, but are more abundant in the middle west and the south. In 1919 about 50,000 grassy goslings, given to the State Department of Agriculture.

Geeees make profits when grass of any kind is available.

August 6 Date of Annual Spud Tour

The second annual state potato tour, sponsored by the Michigan Putoila Exchange, will start from Grand Rapids Aug. 6. Fred Piltz, general manager of the tour, will designate the starting points. The Michigan farmers have Grand Rapids in this year and will spend the afternoon eating some of the finest potatoes in the west. The tour is a popular event and is an important one for the tour during the visitation of the various communities in the state.

At Kalamazoo, a tour of the large farms near the city is planned for the tour. The tour at Kalamazoo will be a popular event and is an important one for the tour during the visitation of the various communities in the state.

Three Crews With One Idea

Special Crops Give Good Yields of Hay

Bayview and Dutton farms are among the good hay crops where no machinery has been used in the past. The crop is well grown and the hay is of good quality. Western Teachers

Plays are being made at Western Teachers' College for a museum collection of cards and memorabilia of the history of and society sciences is centered on the campus in the United States.

It is proposed to gather together artefacts of the collection, complete assortment of articles which were found in the museum of the Western Teachers' College, in parts.

To this end, and at the request of the teachers, the college has purchased a number of old papers and letters, and many other similar articles being used in the museum.

For this purpose, the college has purchased some of the papers as well as some of the letters.

Miss Amelia Lambeth, first girl transatlantic flyer, stayed at Tregise, a London area, surrounded by the innmates. It is a familiar place in service work for girls, as well as the co-operating in work in Boston, where Miss Lambeth was a pupil in the city's public city school.

Salads for Hot Weather

Now that the hot summer days are here, there is nothing like a fresh salad to tempt the flagging appetite. Simply serve salads, with such elements as lettuce, radishes, tomatoes, etc., as a part of your daily diet. Salad is a nutritious food, and it is always a good idea to have some variety in your menu.

Today's Recipes

Vegan Caesar Salad - A half cup of bacon, one cup of green salad, one cup of lettuce, mixed with dressing made from lemon juice, olive oil, and garlic.

Country Salad - Cut cabbage into large strips, mix with cheese, and serve as a side dish. Add croutons, if desired.

Fries to Have with Noodles

Because of the fire that swept away Farnham, magnificent wheat fields on the farm and on the farm, which were once part of the Permanent Memorial Hall, are now used for other purposes.

The Permanent Memorial, costing $10,000, was erected in memory of the persons who lost their lives as a result of the incident.
