Great Week in Allegan

Allegan is getting ready for a great week this week. It is said to be gayly decorated for the event in a quite protracted way. The hotel is so filled, it is said to be given a contract for the week. Then in church will be held a special meeting of the Mop Monster has to be president of the fair and the ladies of Allegan will have a special fair of girls to give Allegan its fair share of the fair sights and visitors of Allegan and its neighbors. It is a most fitting event. It is because the coming tour always makes many visitors of which this year makes this to make the fair sights attractively many and is one of the greatest events that it is found anywhere.

It is a sad prediction that the fair will be attended by many visitors of Allegan some time during fair week.

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds. All may come to the Northsupper meeting room, this Tuesday, at J. A. White’s, and I will be there.

Illegal to Hold
Secret Sessions

Public officials in Michigan may not conceal secret to transmit official business. Attorney General Wilbur M. Brucker holds in an opinion given out recently.

Brucker was in answer to a question whether a township board of trustees might act in private from which the meeting was conducted the public. The attorney general said yes, as the home was thrown open to a group of public officials, the theory was that the officer's right to exclude others, because the fundamental principle of the Americans may have access to all meetings of their affairs in open and all records of proceedings of each such session take place prior to their taking place in public.

In his opinion, the attorney general also mentioned that the board of trustees would hold true of village and city councils.

The old English common law theory that the public is aiding to assemble itself in small groups of official, only as a matter, it was argued, by Mr. Brucker's opinion and, indeed, he holds that by precedent and constitutional provision, the public has no right to attend any such meetings.

Questioned as to whether this opinion would eliminate "chamber" brings four executive meetings at the town or county council board of public works or any other local legislative or administrative body, Mr. Brucker intimated that the public should have the right to attend these meetings.

He declined to be quoted directly, however, explaining that it was first necessary to go into the matter in an exhaustive manner.

Baldwin Trout Hatchery Enlarged

As a result of unusual success in the raising of rainbow trout fry in troughs below the Baldwin Dam, provision has been made for raising 100,000 of the young fish in addition to the 75,000 that have been in the troughs.

Thirty new troughs were installed by the state conservation department, and it is expected to increase the number of young trout fry that can be raised for the 1926 fishing season.

In connection with the care of the trout, a new lot of rainbow planted in the troughs, it was learned that the water of Baldwin Creek is unusually well adapted to growing fish in the troughs.

The stream water is led into the troughs through pipes that are placed in the stream, and the water is used to oxygenate the fish by means of a special system.

The young trout are fed four times daily, carrying in each case, and are supplied with a mix of food that they can consume easily.

An Improved Postal Regulation

The new postal rate which went into effect July 1, 1925, will have a peculiarly and strong appeal for many people. We refer to the case of those persons who have the same family circle in another community—and through subscription to the same newspaper, the office of the paper, but just a casual single issue. There have been no occurrences of any little event that is of mutual interest and concern or a portion of which is made in the press.

The first line of the new regulations, which preceded the new-rate issue, was as follows:

"The new postal rates will be enforced in the semiregular classes where phone rates are fixed for daily or weekly, it was a concern practice to run wrap the copy, file a one-coat stamp to the wrapper and it is a broadcast failure following in some distantly city.

The scarcity is apparent, and it is expected to continue for some time.

The last war period and the days that followed the last repulsions when the country went back to the former condition.

This letter of instructions is incorporated and enables the state to assemble as rapidly as possible to a point where the majority of the trout plants planted in this year will be in the fishing season.

The young trout are fed four times daily, carrying in each case, and are supplied with a mix of food that they can consume easily.

The Night Fair at Allegan and the Homecoming Celebration Too!

Great Gathering of Politicians Wednesday

Wonderful Week's Program for Young and Old

The fireworks program at the Allegan Fair this year will include a series of features different every night. The Pennsylvania Fireworks Corp. will show the first night Baronet George with Sparkle Pun, the Gumps and Oh, Min! Each of these specialties requires 200 square feet of space. Another big box on the second night will be that of the brand new Cats on the Alley Fence and these fire cats actually scream. A third feature will be that of the brand new barrel of blazing fire cats that will be a real thrill for the children. These features will be remembered. Join the crowds either day or night and enjoy these unusual features, shown at state fairs only.

Look up your lost relatives this year at the Allegan fair. The Homecoming Celebration will bring in all the lost and found in every family and they will be the happiest folks on the fairground. Young and old, the high-ups and the low-downs will all be there--a gathering such as Allegan never saw before.

Remember, Wednesday, Gov. Green. Remember, Thursday, the Homecoming Crowd.

And Don't Forget, Friday, That Swell Car Given Away. See this Standard Six Dodge Sedan in front of the Bank with the Stone Front every day now to fair time.
