Pyramid Containing Modern "Relics" Being Built

This naturally difficult salvage craft for submarines has been devised by W. Stukey, submarine engineer at Ingalls, Conn. A diving compartment is built in the forward under side which permits divers to do their salvage work with their faces of operation alongside the listen window. Air pressure is maintained in the chamber to the same density as the water in which the operations are taking place. Even men or women may dive at will. The navy department is co-operating in the construction of the craft which is only 9 feet long and 2 feet wide. It is capable of submerging to a depth of 200 feet. Above a general view of the submachine in the dock.

Method for Planting and Handling Grape Vines

Late fall or early spring is the best time to plant grape vines. A place should be selected where drainage is good and not too much water should collect. As much as possible from the north or west side where the soil is less fertile, or from the south side which is more fertile should be planted. If the ground is too rich the grape vines may not do as well, as the vine in the center and grass will grow faster and crowd the grape vines.

The vines on a trellis or flat are set about 12 inches apart, but are 3 feet apart on a vine stock. The ground must be well tilled and the soil loose or tilled to a depth of 6 inches. A mulch of old leaves or hay 6 to 8 inches under the vines keeps the ground loose and helps to conserve moisture.

New Submarine Rescue Craft Interests Navy

New submarine rescue craft has been ordered by the government for the Navy Department. The craft will be used for salvage work, and is designed to carry 24 men in case of an accident. It is equipped with life rafts and other equipment necessary for such a mission.

Use of Machinery Is Increasing Use For "Hired Men"

The average wage paid "hired men" on farms of the United States is about $12.50 per day, but without board, according to the United States Department of Labor. In the average farm, the laborer is paid on the percentage of the dollar of labor.

The National Association of Farm Employees and Laborers is the trade union of this country. It is composed of about 2,000,000 members, representing about 3,000,000 workers in the United States.

Discount Mango Bogs

That the cost of mangoes is about the same as the cost of bananas in the market, is due to the fact that the mangoes are grown in the same area.

The main advantage of the bogs is that they are free from disease and contamination, and that they are grown in the same area as the bananas.

Preparation and Cleaning of Wine Grapes

It is very important to prepare the grapes properly to obtain the best results in the production of wine.

Fremont May Have Another Dairy Company

The Dairy Farmers' Cooperative of Fremont, Ohio has been in operation for about a year and a half.

At the meeting of the local consumer cooperative of Fremont, Ohio last week, the members of the company elected a new business manager, Mr. J. A. McComb, who succeeded Mr. J. G. Smith, who had been manager for the past five years.

A million dollar live ray may be saved each year by a marine chemical company of San Diego, Calif., which has been cutting the production of oyster ray to mix with normal feedings for the prevention of bovine gout or "gig neck". About 75,000 tons of this seafood, or 150,000 pounds, is available annually in a 90-mile stretch along the San Diego coast. Above, a quantity of the helping being raised from the ocean bottom.

Ocean Hay for Bovine Gout

Mrs. O. R. Hill, one of the employees in the women's garment and clothing factory at San Diego, Calif., is reported to have found a way to carry away the chore.

The Hay Ends All Lead

When the white folks of New Mexico first came to the desert, they found a land of rolling hills, fertile valleys, and a wealth of animal and plant life.

From each of these groups of friends of mankind, there has developed a vast industrious population of men and women in the United States, by the development of a new industry, rabbit skinning and pelting. It is a great deal more than a rabbit industry.

The Middle West carrot factories are covered over with rabbit pelts. There is a great deal of work going on there, but so far, they have not been as active as the rabbit industry in the west, where the number of pelts is very large. The pelts are sent to market in the west, and the pelts are then sold. In the west, the pelts are sold as a by-product of the rabbit industry.

Poultry Income

There has been a considerable increase in the number of chickens and other poultry in this country in the last ten years, and the prices of poultry and eggs have increased in value. The demand for poultry and eggs has increased in the last ten years, and the prices of poultry and eggs have increased in value. The demand for poultry and eggs has increased in the last ten years, and the prices of poultry and eggs have increased in value.

Ionia Looks for Good Yield in Apple Crop

These apples are considered an excellent variety in the area and have been produced in the area during the several years. The apple crop in the area has been very good in the last ten years, and the prices of apples have increased in value.

How to Achieve Beauty

The World and All

BRIDGES are among the most powerful and picturesque gestures ever made.

When some semi-clad man leaned on the bridge the river and gazed at his handsome rows. He was not a very attractive Fellow. His eyes were half-opened, and his mouth was slightly downturned. His hair was straight and dark, and there was a slight hint of a mustache. His nose was long and pointed, and his chin was square and firm. His dress was dark blue, and he was wearing a pair of black shoes.

One of Washington’s most beautiful bridges is the Key Bridge, near the White House. It is a graceful span of white marble, arching gracefully over the Potomac River. The bridge is named after President John Quincy Adams, and it was completed in 1828.

The bridge is about 2,500 feet long,
and it has a height of 150 feet above the water. The bridge is supported by four massive piers, and each pier is supported by a single column.

At the time of its construction, the bridge was one of the most advanced engineering projects of its kind. The designers had to overcome many challenges, including the need to design a bridge that would be able to withstand the severe weather conditions of the area. The bridge was completed with great success, and it has since become a symbol of the city and a popular tourist destination.

In recent years, the bridge has been subjected to several restoration projects.
The most recent restoration took place in 2015, and it was completed with the aid of federal and local funds. The restoration included the replacement of the old iron railing with a modern, glass railing, and the repainting of the bridge with a new coat of white paint.

The bridge is open to pedestrians, and it provides a beautiful view of the Potomac River and the surrounding landscape. It is a popular destination for joggers, cyclists, and tourists alike.

The bridge is also significant for its historical importance. It was built during a time of great political turmoil, and it has been the site of several important events in American history.

One such event was the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, who was shot while riding in a motorcade on the bridge in 1963. The bridge was closed to traffic for several days after the assassination, and it remained a symbol of national mourning.

Today, the bridge is a symbol of national pride and a reminder of the century of progress and innovation that has taken place in our country.

In conclusion, the Key Bridge is a symbol of the beauty and strength of Washington, D.C., and it is a lasting testament to the ingenuity and hard work of the men and women who built it. The bridge is still in use today, and it remains a symbol of the strength and beauty of our city.
