LOCAL BREVITIES

School Fair starts tomorrow noon Community orchestra is reorganized and will play Sunday for church and Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Knapp of Eaton Rapids were week end guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John McDonald.

Owing to the Mason barber shop being closed Saturday Pine Grove township registration will be at Marble Works office.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Covey and Leo attended the golden wedging anniversary of Mrs. Covey's sister at Coldwater Saturday.

Register at Marble Works office Saturday if you live in Pine Grove township and at Taylor's store if you live in Bloomingdale township.

Arvin Myers and H. E. McElheny spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. McFellin in Toledo and with the latter's brother in Akron.

Egg prices in Gobles for past two weeks are higher than those quoted in New York. Another proof of the merits of our town as a place to sell produce.

Dorgan's Filling Station had its first experience with burglars about ten days ago when they were touched for about $40 worth of tires and accessories.

Don't forget the big time you had at School Fair last year and tomorrow n will be bigger and better. You'll get your money's worth at every turn.

Mr. and Mrs. Stahl and family of Chicago were week end guests at A. Nordstrom's. Mrs. Stahl is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nordstrom. Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson were dinner guests there.

Mrs. Robert Curtiss entertained several tables of ledies at bridge at her pleasant home on North State, last week Wednesday afternoon. All had a fine time despite the fact that the Bloomingdale visitors carried home the honors.

In the rush of last week we failed to report the successful dedication of the new community club house. The occasion, however, was a decided success and liberal contributions of cash and labor, combined with the untiring efforts of Rev. the hands of the community with but small indebtedness which they hope to reduce rapidly.

The Kalamazoo Conservatory of Music presented its two new faculty members in a recital Sunday afternoon. Maybelle Church VanAlstyne, dramatic reader, was one of them, and we congratulate the organization in securing her services. Gobles has been fortunate in having the services of Mrs. VanAlstyne on many occasions and we trust that her new duties will not prevent her being with us again and often.

Past Matrons and Patrons night was fittingly observed by the local O. E. S. Tuesday evening, after a potluck supper at seven. The floral degree was exemplified by past matrons and an artistic drill which drew favorable comment. After a program the evening was given over to a social time and games until a late hour. The honored ones were presented with flowers and tokens.

A Rally Day program at the Community Sunday school proved another enjoyable occasion. Each class presented one item of the program and resulted in a series of surprises and each proved a credit to the class. The younger set, as usual, drew much applause, though the young married women were a close second. The Hello Boys won the attendance prize and the Business Men the collection prize. As the attendance passed the 100 mark by 3, a movie of the school was taken to be an added attraction at some show later. We cannot understand how so many men failed to be present to see how well their kiddies and wives can entertain.

The Fair opens tomorrow at one o'clock instead of 10 o'clock as stated in the paper. All arrangements have been made to handle a large crowd. Plenty of entertain. ment has been provided and there will be a large exhibit of agricultural products. A new innovation this year is the school exhibit to be held in the 5th and 6th grade room. It you do not take in this School Fair and Carnival you are going to miss one of the really big events of the year. Our advise is to be there!

The Student Council has appointl a committee to revise its constitution to better fit the needs of the school. Regular weekly meetings are being planned and many other things that will make Gobles High a better place to go to school.

The school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Wauchek, made its first appearance at P. T. A. last Monday night. Everyone was pleased and will expect many more interesting numbers from the orchestra during the year.

Parents are urged to visit school whenever possible. Every parent should make at least one visit during the first semester. You have a right to know what is being done, and we extend to you a most cordial invitation.

October meeting of the P. T. A. was held last Monday night at the schoolhouse. About 50 were present The orchestra played three very pleasing numbers and the boys and girls of the primary room sang some nursery rhymes, which have been learned in their regular music work. Mr. Ellsworth of Western State Teachers College gave a travel talk on his recent trip to Europe. Mr. Ellsworth's talk was very interesting and instructive. Next meeting Nov. 19. Program to be announced later. If you want a P. T. A. in our school, come to the meetings.

Manistee to Receive

500 Young Pheasants

The Manistee chapter of the Izaak Walton league is to receive 500 young pheasants from the state game farm at Mason, according to word received by President E. C. Burton. Ten crates were received here recently, each containing 15 birds, 3 cocks and 12 hens. Accompanying this shipment are 500 aluminum bands that bear serial numbers. These are to be clamped to the leg of each bird for purposes of identification.

It is planned to erect feeding stations throughout the county this winter to provide food for the pheasants at seasons when many starve to death.

Experts from the conservation department will assist in construction of these stations, which will be built like tepees. Manistee has received more pheasants than any other county in the state this year. No county north of Mason county has received any birds as yet.

Buy Farm Lands Now

Buy farm lands now may not sound like good advice. That may be true, but at least it is as sensible and in the end far more profitable than trying to beat Wall Street by gambling in the stock market.

Right now farm land values have shrunk to a low ebb, probably the lowest in years. That is bad for those who have their money invested in farms and wish to sell. It is good for those who wish to buy.

There are many fine farms on the market that can be bought for less than it cost to erect the farm buildings on them. That is also good and bad—bad for those who sustained this loss when they quit farming—good for those who would like to quit their jobs in city or village and engage in the farming business.

There are plenty of farm lands to ment and liberal time and interest terms. It will cost less now to become a farmer than in any other period of the farming industry. Farming during the next few years will be less an element of speculation than it has been for a long time. Many a man chained to a city job can find success and independence on the farm with but little effort. And now is the best time to make the change.

> One common method of treatment pounds of dry tobacco dust in each 100 pounds of mash. The tobacco dust used for this should not be less than 1.5 per cent nor more than 2.5 per cent nicotine. This should be fed daily for three weeks and then after discontinuing for three weeks, the treatment should be repeated. Epsom salts should be given at the rate of one pound per 100 full grown birds after the first week and at the end of each period.

Other than the general objection voiced against all collective treatments, this system has still another flaw, in that the nicotine content of tobaccos used for this work varies a

The nicotine treatment can be administered individually, however, with much more satisfactory results by using a capsule dose prepared according to the following directions, recommended by the Canifornia Experiment Station. The prescription, which can be filled by any druggist consists of 6.6 cubic centimeters (7.92 grams) of be had with a very small down pay- black leaf 40 thoroughly mixed with 16 grains of Lloyd's alkaloidal reagent and packed in No. 2 gelatine capsules in sufficient quantities to make a 350-400 milligram capsule when filled. This same preparation is also on the market under different trade names ,in fact there are many good commercial remedies on the market.

Individual treatment is to be recommended for tapeworms as well as roundworms. One of the more effective means of expelling tapeworms is through the use of turpentine and olive or cottonseed oil in equal parts. Birds should be shut up at night and given from one-half to one teaspoonful of this through a pipette the folon an official 305-day test a pure bred the treated birds within three hours Jersey sow owned by Samuel Odell, after treating and should contain one-York City, where its attempt to land was frustrated by high winds. Treatment should be administered in houses or coops that can be easily and effectively cleaned. After the treatment is concluded the birds should be moved to clean quarters. All droppings should be burned and all houses thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. All old runs should be plowed up if possible and the flock doubly sure of doing a thorough job of cleaning to prevent reinfection.

THINKS POULTRY HAS POWER OF REASONING

A tale of the strategy and generalship of a rooster in a war with weasels is being told by H. L. Darr, farmer iving near Freesoil. He believes it shows poultry has certain reasoning powers

Darr's rooster and an old hen virtually controlled the activities of about 30 White Leghorn pullets. The pullets had been raised in small coops and were accustomed to roosting up on a low fence surrounding the coops. The rooster and hen persuaded them to abandon this roost after a weasel had killed three chickens.

The next evening at roosting time the hen clucked to her charges and crowed loudly in warning and after an excited few minutes of cut-a-cuter set off for a nearby haystack followed by every chicken. The rooster remained on the ground to protect the voungsters until every last one of them had safely clambered up the steep sides of the stack and then followed them as they flew into a nearby Preventive rather than remedial tree, where no prowling weasels could reach them.

DON'T OVERCROWD PULLETS

Pullets that are nearly grown require much more space than they did but the leading eastern and midwest- fore it reaches susceptible animals is when two or three months old. Be sure to have sufficient roost space so that each pullet may sit on the roost without being crowded. Overcrowddriver over his shoulder. TROLLEY LINES TO BE JUNKED

Junking of all Michigan's interurban lines outside the Detroit metropolitan area was one step nearer through issuance by the Public Utilities Commission of permits authorizing the Michigan Railway company to operate motor freight lines in conjunction with its bus lines.

The permits are issued to a subsidiary of the Michigan railway, the Southern Michigan . Transportation company. The permits cover the routes between Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo; between Jackson, Lansing and St. Johns; between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids; between Lansing, Owosso and Flint; between Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon and between Lansing and Grand Rapids.

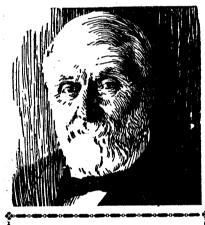

All except the Lansing, Grand Rapids, Owosso and Flint routes are now served by Michigan Railway interurban lines. The Utilities Commission has been given to understand that shortly after the motor freight lines are established the interurban cars will be discontinued.

WHAT DR. CALDWELL LEARNED IN 47 YEARS PRACTICE

A physician watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipa-tion will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for consti-pation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the system and is not habit forming. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for anybody's system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just

ineers Want Auto Lights Seen From Side ROAD SKIRTING Engineers Want Auto

Present automobile lighting systems are now so constructed and installed that it is possible to view the car from the side without being able to see the light from the lamps at all. This is particularly true when the headlamps are dimmed and when the weather conditions are bad. This situation has aroused so much interest on the part of many who are concerned with safety work that Colonel Barber, of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, has called the attention of the Society of Automotive Engineers to it and a special subcommittee has been authorized by the Society to consider the matter.

It is possible that a recommendation will be made to the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety for a requirement that motor vehicle lamps be constructed so that their light shall be visible from all angles when viewing the car.

The chief engineers of motor car companies have been asked by the society whether the lack of side illumination is a real source of danger, what construction they would recommend to make the light visible from all angles, and what action they would recommend should be taken. With reference to the last question, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has asked for the advice of S. A. E. before taking a position itself in the matter.

E. R. Benkert, resident engineer in Port Huron of the Michigan state highway department, pictures a 1,000 mile scenic highway following the water line around the lower peninsula of Michigan from Ohio to Indiana, as an accomplishment of the near future, according to tentative plans of the state highway department.

"Michigan already has trunk highways following the coast line, but some of them are ten miles from the water. These portions of the highway will eventually be located so that they will be in view of the water most of the way around the Michigan shore," Mr. Benkert said.

In the Thumb district several sections of this project are being carried on now, Mr. Benkert states. Contracts have been let for a highway and bridges along the shores of Lake St. Clair. The road will connect Jefferson avenue at Grosse Point and Detroit with New Baltimore by a panoramic highway near the water and skirting Selfridge field.

This year's paving on the highway near Pearl Beach along Anchor Bay, joining Algonac and Fair Haven, has been completed and will be open to traffic in about 10 days, Mr. Benkert

Old Belief Dispelled

Experiments made at the University of California have proved that a bull's reaction to the color of red is no more than any other color. In fact, judging by the conduct of the steers tested, it seems doubtful whether it can tell red from green, white or blue. It is even possible that the animals have no realization of color at all.

Shortly after taking the oath of office it became necessary that the President purchase a new coach. Because of the dignity of his position, Fillmore thought the coach should be somewhat out of the ordinary, and sent an old White House servant, Edward Moran by name, to shop about. Moran eventually learned that a wealthy citizen of Washington was about to leave the city and wished to dispose of his elegant equipage, which seemed to him quite the thing he was

The President viewed the coach and liked it immensely, but "How will it do for a President of the United States to be riding around in a second-hand carriage?" he asked

Moran could not resist the opportunity. "Sure," he replied, "you're only a second-hand President."

Fillmore thought this remark was one of the wittiest he had ever heard, and told it on himself so often that be became known among his friends as the "second-hand President." Incidentally, he bought the coach and used it during his three-year tenure of office.-Brooklyn Eagle.

Good Friday Beliefs

in Parts of England

How Good Friday got its name is a matter that is often discussed. The word Friday is really the strangest part of the name of so solemn a date in the Christian calendar. Few realize that in saying Friday they are commemorating a pagan deity, Freya, the Scandinavian Venus.

In France Good Friday is called Passion Friday: in Germany, Quiet Friday; and in Italy, the Blessed Fri-

Good Friday in former days enabled the careful citizen to save his fire insurance policy, for it was believed that an egg laid on that day would extinguish any fire on which it was thrown.

Bread baked on Good Friday was supposed to have its protective value, for it was believed that three loaves put in a heap of corn would prevent the latter from being devoured by rats and mice. An infant born on Good Friday was supposed to possess the power of curing fevers.

There are some things to be avoided on Good Friday. West-country people consider it a sin to wash any clothes on that day. They declare that should you do so you are likely to lose your most valued possession before the year is out.-London Answers.

We Are All Bores

An outstanding fact in life is that we bore each other: the habits and notions of many worthy people drive other fairly worthy people to distraction. Most books, most plays, most events public and private, bore us. Popularity is to be fairly agreeable to a few, and unknown to the many.

The old are tiresome to the young. I doubt if they realize it, but the young are tiresome to the old.

The time men and women do not devote to denouncing each other, they devote to seeking and boring each ever you do, and wherever you go, you are a pest to many. Therefore behave as well as possible.--E. W. Howe's Monthly.

An Old Map

The family was enjoying a delicious pineapple dessert for dinner. A younger member of the circle inquired of his wise father where most of the pineapple came from. The father explained that most of it came from the Hawaiian islands in the "Atlantic" ocean. An older daughter told her father he was mistaken about their location. After a heated argument an old geography was found in the attic. The daughter soon found the Hawaiian islands in the Pacific ocean.

"Now, daddy, what you got to say? Who was right?" said the counterpart

"That's an old geography. We'll have to buy us a new map," replied the invincible father.

Phrase Long in Use

"Full as a tick" refers to the habits of the creatures called ticks, which are biologically degraded species of the same family as spiders. They attach themselves to persons and animals to suck blood; when they are full they drop off. The phrase has no reference to a bed tick, as often erroneously supposed. "Full as a tick" is very old in the English language. Just when it originated and under what circumstances are not known.-Pathunder Magazine,

If re-elected I will continue to so treat you and believe that I can serve you much better during a second term.

I am twenty-five years old, married and a tax payer and have been a resident of Van BurenCounty all my life.

If I were a Republican and were running for my second term as Prosecutor, would you want to defeat me? Your answer must be "NO". Just because I am a Democrat RUNNING FOR MY SECOND TERM, should I be denied what has almost always been given a Republican?

I want to be fair with the voters of Van Buren County and with my opponent If given a second term I will not ask for another, for as I have told you I am strictly against life tenure in office and my opponent may aspire to the office two years hence.

If you think that I DESERVE A SECOND TERM, vote for Robert H. Cavanaugh at the election on Novem. 6

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT H. CAVANAUGH.

Great Soldier's Bed

Speeding Motor Car One black day in April, 1918, when the British army was fighting for its life, I came upon a strange spectacle in the retreating flood of war wreckage that filled the roads leading westward from our crumbling front.

It was a shining limousine, all plate glass and upholstery, with a solitary occupant behind the smart soldier driver, a general officer of the type commonly known as a "Brass Hat." He was muffled in an overcoat, and he half sat, half reclined on the cushions, his head tilted against the padded back, altogether an incongruous picture of ease and contentment. The tired and hungry soldiers on the road looked at him with amazement, for he was asleep.

Few of them noticed the union jack on the top of the car, or realized that tragic multitude was the "C. in C." - once and settle

Sir Pengles Heig as he was then, or that he elept from sheer exhaustion because he had not slept since the German advance began. As he drove constantly from one headquarters to another behind the stricken line, he would snatch a few uneasy moments of slumber. It was his only chance.

This is my most vivid recollection of Lord Haig. During those critical days when, as he himself said, our men were fighting with their backs to the wall, he was constantly among them. and in places where no commanderin-chief need have been. He was a silent man, and shy, and by no means given to spectacular gestures of approval.-Sir Percival Phillips in the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

Measurement of Time

Vague Among Savages

Strange methods of counting time are in vogue among savage and semi civilized peoples, and often the scarcity or abundance of rations serves to measure the year. Thus, in Alaska, one month is known as "people gnaw belts," for at that time seals and fish are particularly scarce and the tribes are often on the verge of starvation. In Dahomey, French West Africa, the year is divided only into the times of planting and eating maize, of planting again, and of harvest.

The Polynesians have a "month of grumbles," the time of little food, rainy weather, smoking houses, watering eyes and constant quarrels. Among more primitive races the measurement of time is even more vague. The chief of a Pacific island may reply, when asked how long his house has been standing, that it has existed for only two smallpox epidemics.

These methods of distinguishing the seasons, it is said, are akin to the inability of primitive peoples to count There is a saying in Denmark that all who desire to remain perpetually young should go to Greenland, where they will never be more than twenty years old. No native of Greenland can count above 20, it is said .- De-

Have every semaphore block along the line show the white light of hope, that I may make the run of life without stopping. Help me to use the Ten Commandments as a working card and when I have finished the run on scheduled time and pulled into the terminal, may Thou, Superintendent of the Universe, say: 'Well done, good and faithful servant; come into the general office and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness."—Exchange.

Twain's Literary Dinner

While traveling in England, Mark Twain was entertained by the editorial staff of the magazine Punch at a dinner which he later spoke of as one of the happiest incidents of his life. It was characteristic of the American humorist that, although many honors were accorded him, among them the presentation of the famous red and gray robe of an Oxford "doctor," he got his greatest delight from the menu card, upon which the various dishes were named for his books.

That night Mark Twain feasted on Innocent Oysters Abroad, Roughing It Soup, Huckleberry Finn Fish, Joan of Arc Filet of Beef, Jumping Frog Terrapin, Punch Brothers Punch, Gilded Duck, Hadleyburg Salad, Life on the Mississippi Ice Cream, Prince and Pauper Cakes, Pudd'nhead Cheese, and White Elephant Coffee.--Kansas City

Supplemental Meal

"Tiffin" or "tiff," the more usual form, is the name of a light repast between breakfast and lunch, says the Pathfinder Magazine. It is derived from an old northern English word "tiff." meaning to drink, sip or quaff

The tiffin is a general custom only in India. The refreshments at the tiffin usually consist of curried foods and fruits. Sometimes the word "tiffin" is applied in England and this country to any lunch, especially in the afternoon between the mid-day meal and dinner or supper.

For Repairing

Plaster of paris is useful for repairing articles in the home, but it will not withstand water very well. It is a good idea when preparing the plaster to mix with milk instead of water, but the milk must be absolutely fresh Plaster prepared in this way will resist dampness to a considerable degree. The only difference in the working is that the plaster does not become hard quite as rapidly, which is really an advantage, as it allows a longer time in which to do a job of repairing.

Non Partisan Voters For Newton B. Foster For Sheriff

Again the governmental forces are put before the people. National, state and county politics hold the attention of every thinking citizen. Probably never before have decisions been so hard to make. In national contests party lines have been stretched almost to the breaking point, "platforms" blend and overlap, while issues never before even remotely considered, confront the voter. State and county lines are somewhat more clearly drawn and the electorate is carefully comparing the qualifications and general fitness of candidates for November's election.

Briefly this is the situation throughout the United States. In Van Buren county with but two exceptions the Republican forces have a clear field. Why this exception was made necessary is plain enough to anyone who has given the matter consideration.

Laws are written on the statute books for the benefit of all and to obtain their obeyance, impartial administration is necessary. This we have not had. This is particularly true regarding our prohibition laws, the increasing violation of which leads to the disregard of other statutes and often to far more serious crime. More rigid, impartial enforcement has become imperative!

In selecting Newton B. Foster as Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Van Buren county careful consideration of his qualifications for the office were given.

Mr. Foster is a resident of Keeler township and has been an active worker for the welfare of his county since he cast his first vote. In the prime of life he is both physically and mentally capable of coping with the strenuous duties of the office. He has no "connections" and makes no promises except an impartial, businesslike administration and if elected will be under no obligations except the honorable discharge of duties of the sheriff's office.

His candidacy is a clear case of the "office seeking the man," he having made no effort to obtain the nomination, but now having accepted the obligation, Mr. Foster has tossed his hat in the ring to justify the confidence placed in him by his many friends throughout the

Comparn'ng Patants

The term "basic patent" is used or dinarily with much the same significance as pioneer patent-that is to say, as having reference to a patent covering an invention which represents a marked advance in some art as when an inventor for the first time accomplishes a certain result. There have been a good many basic patents granted, from first to last, but no precise enumeration is possible, inasso classed. We note Dell's patent on the telephone and Howe's patent for the sewing muchine employing an eye pointed receive there are basic pat ents new in force for inventions re lating to y lictors, radio, etc., and oth er subjects.

Do Honor to Marcus

Austrians have honored the name of Siegfried Marcus, credited with the invention of the modern automobile, by erecting a statue to his memory in Vienna, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is of unique design, showing an athletic youth cleaving his way through space, while a cast of the inventor's head is on a front panel. Marcus introduced an automobile as early as 1864, and, in 1875, he devised one that had many of the advantages of the car of today.

TO ELIMINATE FEE AT S. S. MEET

The board of trustees of the Michigan Council of Religious Education has ordered that the state Sunday school convention doors this year be opened to the public without registration fee. This is an experiment only for 1928.

Two conventions are announced, one at Petoskey, Oct. 24 to 26, and the other at Adrian, Oct. 29 to 31. The program at the two places will be very similar. Each of the conventions begins in the evening of the first day and closes the afternoon of the third day. The local churches in the two cities have guaranteed lodging and breakfast for visiting Sunday school workers.

The principal speakers will include Prof. M. A. Honline of Pasadena, Calif., nationally known speaker on religious education, and Miss Mary Alice Jones, the new international children's division superintendent, who is in the employ of 39 Protestant denominations. Most of the denominational leaders working in the state of Michigan also will participate in the program.

There will be no restriction as to the number attending from any church. It is assumed counties north of Saginaw bay line will be interested chiefly in the meeting at Petoskey, while those south of the line will attend the Adrian convention.

This is the sixty-eighth year the Sunday school hosts of Michigan have been gathered in annual conventions.

Albion Homecoming Set for October 19-20

The annual Albion college homecoming will be held Oct. 19 and 20, when many alumni will return to the campus.

The feature event will be the Albion-Olivet football game Saturday, Oct. 20. Other events include the freshman-sophomore tug-of-war, circus parade, alumni dinner, fraternity house decorations contest and a play by the class in dramatics.

The homecoming committee is Detroit.

WEEK OF OCTOBER 21

GENERAL FARM OUTLOOK: Rather changeable and extreme weather conditions are to be expected over the most parts of Michigan during the greater part of the week beginning the 21st. In fact, we believe this class of weather will be prolonged over a period covering the balance of this month and part of November. For this week temperatures will average den wild thought came, a still more unsettling thought: "What if I should the starts of the overhanging of the starts were cold and seemed a long way off. Another sudden wild thought came, a still more unsettling thought: "What if I should the starts of the overhanging of the starts of the overhanging of the starts were cold and the starts wer above the seasonal normal although there will be a period of sharp change to cold. I might. Those things happen. He wouldn't a whole will average above the seasonal normal, or, at least, there will be some heavy rain or snow periods during this time that will considerably delay farm work. Any potatoes or beans still left in the field are almost sure to be damaged by the wet weather expected at this time.

DETAILED WEATHER FORE-CAST: The week of October 21st in most parts of Michigan will open with temperatures quite cool to cold for the season, with frosts. By Monday or not later than Tuesday most counties will be experiencing a warmer period, due to the oncoming western storm of wind, thunder and rain or snow.

Storms of general rain and plenty of it are to be expected during the first half of this week. In some sections where the temperature may fall low enough there will be some snow.

About Wednesday warmer weather will hit Michigan, the forerunner of fall thunder storms, high winds and porch. locally heavy rain areas. Some rather severe storms are to be expected during last half of this week and property damage from the elements is almost sure to occur.

Thunder storms occurring at this time of year may not be as severe but are about as dangerous as the summer type because the lower lying clouds allow the lightning to strike easier. Most of these storms occur after dark at this season because the air contrast is greater between warm and cold.

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giv-ing to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless thay may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

But she didn't yet know what she was going to say to him. So she stopped at the Age office. Miss Curry and Ashbury were there. They reported that Homer was better, and would be about by Monday. The Bos-ton papers were full of the attack and the escape of the thugs. She glanced through all of it. Then for a time made a pretense of writing notes, but her mind wasn't on it. Finally she went into Breckenridge's and called up the Touraine. She had to wait a long time while they paged him about the hotel. It was hot in the booth, and she felt tired and confused. Finally she heard his voice, and spoke with nervous quickness. Explained how her mother had failed to waken her. Adding: "But, Ernie, you simply mustn't call the house." So much was she committed to

She went out to the street and stood for a time gazing idly at the posters in the window that announced the various activities of the village. The Knights of Columbus were holding an athletic meet. The Unitarian church a strawberry festival. Such small matters. She'd have to do something between now and six o'clock. Something active. She found herself wondering if Homer knew the details of that curious transaction of Henry Harker's. It might have a bearing on the case. Any small fact might. Perhaps she ought to run out there and tell him. In New York she'd have gone to him without a thought. But here in the village it might look odd. His neithors would note that she'd called. They might wonder. So might he. There was the telephone, of course. But the telephone wasn't always as a But the telephone wasn't always safe. The plain fact was, she wanted to see him. Mortgage Sale

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Anna Blanchard DeFriest, sole survivor of James K. Blanchard and Anna Blanchard of Pine Grove township, Van Buren County, Michigan to Elbert I. Barker, of the same place, dated the 10th day of August, A. D. 1925, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the county of Van Buren and State of Michigan on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1925 in Liber 122 of mortgages, on page 367 on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, taxes and insurance paid the sum of One Thousand Two and 32,100 ($1002.32) dollars, and an attorney's fee of Fifty ($50.00) dollars, as provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceed. ings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Notice is Hereby Given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, on Monday, the 24th day of December, A. D. 1928, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, the undersigned | Meetings the First Thursday evening will, at the North Front Door of the Court House in the Village of Paw Paw, Michigan, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the county of Van Buren is held, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount so as afore. said due on said mortgage, with seven per unused transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use. It will provide many thousands of miles of satisfactory transportation.

But only occasionally are all its years and all its mileage used up by one owner. Many owners turn their cars in after an average use of only two to three years-long before the cars' lives have been exhausted.

This custom brings into the market every year so-called "used" cars which represent outstanding opportunities to buy unused transportation at low cost.

Every year more and more people appreciate this fact. Today millions of families are driving cars of which they are the second or third or even fourth owners; and this year the volume of new car sales and tradein transactions has created wider choices and greater values in unused transportation than ever before.

buy used cars

HREE out of five of the cars you see on the road have been purchased as "used" cars. You cannot tell-nor do vou ask yourself-whether the driver of any particular car is its first owner, or its second or its third, providing the car looks well and is running satisfactorily.

The cars which General Motors dealers have accepted in trade vary in name, body style and price. Some have seen sturdy service; in others the potential mileage has scarcely been touched. And all offer a wide field of opportunities—

> To the family wanting transportation at lowest possible cost.

> To the family wishing to own a car of a higher price class.

To the family needing a second or third car to meet the requirements of all its members.

We invite you to examine the unused transportation in the stores of General Motors dealers. For your convenience General Motors extends the GMAC Purchase Plan.
