MAY JOIN FAIRS OF NORTHEAST

Union of northeastern Michigan county fair associations was consider-acting a proposal of the Michigan Board of Commerce recently.

According to plans, it would mean that county fairs would be merged into one state fair association.

Complete details of the association were not available, but it is believed that the proposal will be submitted to vote at the annual meetings of the various fairs.

Michigan fairs are believed to be the largest in the state and their merger would result in a larger, more efficient organization.

Star Beans Range From Excellent to Poor, Report Says

The 1926 bean crop ranges from poor to bad, according to the October report of the state department of agriculture.

The report says that a good harvest of beans is possible in the counties bordering the Lake Michigan shore.

In general, the report states that there has been a decrease in the bean harvest this year.

The report also notes that the weather conditions have been favorable for the bean crop.

The high temperatures and moderate rainfall have resulted in a good harvest of beans in the counties bordering the Lake Michigan shore.

Old Records Broken By Michigan Horseracing

The world's record for pulling held by a full-grown horse has been broken by this bay brood mare owned by Michigan farmer. The record, which is 225 seconds held by the horse, was broken by a mare owned by a farmer in Michigan.

In the light team class, the new record holder, a bay mare, was run by a man owned by Allen M. II. The horse weighs 250 pounds and has the longest pull made at the races in the state, measured at one minute and 45 seconds, or 223 seconds.

A mare of the same breed owned by a farmer in Michigan was run in the new class and held the record for the longest pull made at the races in the state, measured at one minute and 45 seconds, or 223 seconds.

Labor Ask Some Farm Fund Gets

The Grange Federations of the state are asking for a $50,000 appropriation for the Federations, which are working on the general welfare of the farmers. This money is needed to fund educational activities that will be used under the supervision of an educational committee that will be appointed by the federation. The petition asks that the funds be used for the benefit of county farm work and farm clubs.

CONSTANT EXPANSION
—to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—their new Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles. This outstanding achievement has been attained not because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring these mammoth facilities of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there has been erected 25 big service parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continuing and—since four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1928—

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment will enable them to maintain maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every Chevrolet service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available at 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics, over 25,000 of whom have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car. In addition, there are over 4,000 other points where genuine Chevrolet parts may be obtained.

Uniformly excellent service is now available and within easy reach of everywhere—where this great service organization is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned.

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service facilities are offered you by this great national service program.

Statistics On Deaths In State Are Compiled

Nearly one-third of the deaths in the state of Michigan last year were caused by heart disease, a report issued by the U.S. Public Health Service, Division of Vital Statistics, states. Michigan ranked second in the nation in number of deaths from heart disease, with 15,571 deaths reported for the year.

The report also states that heart disease accounted for 17.5 percent of all deaths in the state, followed by cancer, which accounted for 12.4 percent of all deaths. The third leading cause of death was accidents, accounting for 8.9 percent of all deaths.

The report notes that the death rate from heart disease has been increasing in recent years, with 1950 rates being twice as high as those of 1930. The death rate from cancer has also been rising, but at a slower pace.

The report also contains information on other causes of death, such as accidents, suicide, and homicide. It also includes data on the age, sex, and race of those who died.

A full copy of the report can be obtained from the U.S. Public Health Service, Division of Vital Statistics.

WEEK OF NOVEMBER 11

Counter notices in its current at the beginning of November 1911, in Michigan it makes a week when the weather was perfect. It was a day to ski. The snow was perfect, the air was crisp, and the sun was shining. It was perfect for skiing. The ski slope was crowded with skiers, and the air was filled with the sound of ski poles scraping against the snow. It was a perfect winter day.

In the town of Avercliff, Vermont, a group of women were coming together to plan their winter activities. They had decided to start a ski club and planned to meet every Sunday to discuss their plans and strategies for the upcoming ski season. The town was surrounded by picturesque mountains, and the women were excited to explore the slopes and challenge themselves.

As the day wore on, the ski club met at the town hall to discuss their plans. They decided to start a ski race on Saturday, and everyone was eager to participate. The town was buzzing with excitement, and the atmosphere was electric.

At sunset, the ski club members gathered at the town hall to plan the race. They had decided to include both expert and novice skiers, and everyone was eager to get started. The night was filled with anticipation, and everyone was excited to see what would happen.

On Saturday morning, the race began. The expert skiers started off, and they were soon followed by the novice skiers. The town was filled with the sound of skis scraping against the snow, and everyone was cheering on the skiers.

As the race progressed, the expert skiers started to pull away, and the novice skiers had a hard time keeping up. However, they were determined to keep going, and they pushed themselves to their limits.

In the end, the expert skiers won the race, but the novice skiers were determined to keep practicing and improving. They knew that with time and practice, they could become just as good as the expert skiers.

The evening ended with a warm and hearty dinner, and everyone was looking forward to the next race. They knew that they had learned a lot and had made some great friends in the process.

As they all said their goodbyes, the ski club members realized that they had found a new passion in their lives. They knew that they would continue to ski and to challenge themselves, and they were excited to see what the future had in store.

In the town of Barlow, Vermont, a group of women had decided to start a new club. They had always been interested in art and had always wanted to share their love of it with others. So, they had decided to start an art club and meet every Tuesday to discuss their plans and strategies for the upcoming season.

The town was filled with artists of all ages, and they were eager to share their passion for art. They had decided to start with painting classes, and everyone was excited to learn.

On Tuesday morning, the art club met at the town hall to plan the classes. They had decided to include both beginners and more experienced artists, and everyone was eager to get started. The town was filled with the sound of easels and paintbrushes, and everyone was cheering on the artists.

As the classes progressed, the beginners started to improve, and the more experienced artists were determined to keep going. They knew that with time and practice, they could become just as good as the more experienced artists.

In the end, the beginners won the competition, but the more experienced artists were determined to keep learning and improving. They knew that with time and practice, they could become just as good as the beginners.

The evening ended with a warm and hearty dinner, and everyone was looking forward to the next class. They knew that they had learned a lot and had made some great friends in the process.

As they all said their goodbyes, the art club members realized that they had found a new passion in their lives. They knew that they would continue to paint and to challenge themselves, and they were excited to see what the future had in store.
