FARMER WEEK GROUPS NAMED

Committees to have charge of arrangements for the annual farmer's week at Michigan State College farm, President R. B. Shaw. Nearly 10,000 farmers are expected to attend. Arriva-cording to present plans, morning programs will be given over to ex-erience of sectional groups, while the afternoon and evening programs will be main meetings in the college armed. Transfer working has been so fast that the event will be lected as "Farm Day." The Farmers of the meeting also include: C. E. Johnson, president, and R. W. Thomas, chairman; Rarey, course department, secretary; J. C. Bell, director of plant reproductive research; W. O. F. Kennedy, direc-

Jack and Jill

By CLIFFORD TITUS

(Washington, D.C., The Cleveland Press, Inc.)

JACK TELL ME WHAT YOU THINK, JILL.

The setting: The living room of Jack and Jill's apartment. The time: Evening. The scene: Jack, a wealthy businessman, is sitting in a large armchair, reading a newspaper, while Jill, his wife, is standing by the piano, playing music. Suddenly, the phone rings.

Jill: (picking up the phone) Hello?

[Phone call with a friend of Jack's]

Jill: Jack, Jack, it's Paul! He's in town and he wants to come over for dinner. Can we invite him?

Jack: Sure, let's have a little surprise dinner for him. What about the menu?

Jill: How about some steak and potatoes, with a glass of wine for dessert?

Jack: Sounds good to me. I'll make sure everything is in order.

Jill: I'll prepare the food. See you later.

[End of call]

Jack: (to Jill) What a coincidence! Paul is coming for dinner tonight.

Jill: Yes, I'm looking forward to it. I heard he's a great chef.

Jack: You could say that. He's always impressing me with his food. And now he's coming over to our place.

Jill: I'm sure he'll enjoy himself here. I'll make sure everything is perfect.

Jack: I'm counting on you. I'll be busy with work tonight, so I won't have much time.

Jill: Don't worry, I'll take care of everything. Just relax and enjoy yourself.

[End of scene]

Help Check Influenza!

Local People Urged to Help Prevent Epidemic Spreading

Eat Wine, Exercise Regularly, Eat Well

From Crowded Places and Treat All Cold Patients

Medical authorities now agree that influenza is a germ disease—most commonly spread by breathing. A virus is transported in the air, taken to the lungs, and the system is good in health—these germs do not usually breed. It is only when the body is weakened or lowered that the germ does the breeding. The system is not healthy.

Start Preventive Treatment at Once

Right treatment must be started as soon as possible, regardless of whether the symptoms are seen or not. The Virus is not seen, but air passage. When you feel cold, it is not too late to seek medical advice. Do not wait; start the following treatment at once.

Get a jar of Vicks VapoRub® and place some each month, or mix some in a bowl of hot water and inhale the steam. This will help to keep the germs out of the system, thus making it difficult for the germs to breed.

Avoid Crowds and Use Vicks Freely

It is best to keep away from crowded places and public places. If you are in a crowded place, use Vicks VapoRub®. Do not touch your face or your nose, even though you sneeze or cough. Do not touch your mouth or nose if you have any symptoms of cold.
