Almond woods of mid-autumn beauty, to the golden, frothy fronds of the Spanish moss, the wooded areas of the Everglades provide a rare haven for the nature lover. A pleasant feature of the clouded sky is the fact that the sun shines through the trees and provides a dappled light effect. The sun's rays shimmer through the leaves, creating a dappled pattern on the ground below. The trees cast shadows on the soil, and the dappled sunlight creates a peaceful, almost meditative atmosphere. The sun's rays create a lovely pattern on the trees, with the dappled light creating a sense of tranquility and beauty.

LAKEVIEW NOW IN “LITTLE TEN”

Lakeview high school, for several years one of the leading centers for athletic supremacy among Gulf Coast schools, has been admitted to the Little Ten Conference. This conference is made up of the leading high schools in the state, with the exception of the Lakeview High School. The Little Ten Conference consists of schools that are admitted by the Texas High School Athletic Association, which governs the athletic activities in the state.

LEGION LOSES CLAIM TO GUN

After fighting in France in 1917, the possession of a .45 caliber automatic pistol, Jackson Elmendorf of the World, was assumed a "curiosity" in their battle for the possession of an American field, presented to the city some years ago for exhibition purposes. The .45 caliber pistol which has won, with the local post of the American Legion still fighting this line of attacks, ready for another onslaught on the assembly of the Legion.

At a meeting with City Manager Walter Wicker, as chief administrator, it was decided to place the gun in Wash. park, where it may be seen by all the numerous visitors.

Recently the city council ordered it removed from the park for the possession of the Jackson Memorial, headquarters for the citizens with the gun, who claim they are responsible for getting the gun here, together, hence the request.

Produced from the Michigan woods, Jackson Elmendorf for the benefit of the men who lost their health, disabled, and suffers from the effects of war, has been presented to the city of Wash. park, with the usual gun, the flag of the organization.

$9,300 Allied to Canal To Be Used in Waterway

Appropriations for river and harbor improvements and maintenance for the fiscal year beginning July 1 were approved by the secretary of war. The appropriation is $5,000,000, but only $1,000,000 will be usable this year.

COMPLETE ALASKA SURVEY

The hope of locating silver rich timberland and sources of water power, as well as gold and other mineral deposits, has prompted the city council to consider the possibility of locating a harbor.

Air Mail Gain Required

Figures released by the AEC, show that the average weight of mail handled by the air mail service, except Chicago, showed an increase of 100,000 pounds. The reason for this increase is due to the increased use of mail by the American-Alaskan frontier railway.

COCCIDIOSES CAN BE CONTROLLED

Drugs, no matter how impressive their claims to be of value in controlling coccidiosis diseases that are often fatal to poultry, have not done the job.

The poultry industry generally uses a combination of antibiotics and other medications to treat coccidiosis. However, recent studies have indicated that these treatments are not always effective.

The problem is that coccidiosis can be controlled only when the birds are kept clean and healthy. The use of antibiotics is not a substitute for good sanitation.

Wounded Trees Should Be Treated With Paint and Varnish

An approach such as a fruit tree, for example, is often threatened by insects, disease, and weather. The use of paint and varnish can help protect the tree from these threats.

Like a building, a tree needs protection from the elements. Paint and varnish can protect the tree's bark from sunlight, rain, and other environmental factors.

I never heard that Nilla Ravello had anything except the $12,000 inventory in her jewelry store. It seems to me it must be concealed that appears.

What do you think of that, Jilly?

"It's not as though it's a secret," said Jilly, "it's in the store, isn't it?"

"Oh, yes, of course," said Jack, "but what about the rest of it?"

"I don't know," said Jilly, "I haven't seen it in a while."

"That's why I wanted to see it," said Jack. "I want to see what you're selling so I can fix the store properly."
