EDUCATED BEAR SIDESTEPPED TRAPS

Paul Raymond, the state trapsman charged with the rekindling of the brown bear population in the state, has taken the plunge in a new direction. The brown bear population has been steadily increasing, and Raymond has decided to focus on educating the public about the importance of bear conservation.

"I think it's important for people to understand the role that bears play in our ecosystem," Raymond said. "By educating the public, we can help ensure that these magnificent creatures continue to thrive in our state for generations to come."

Raymond's new approach involves working closely with local schools and conservation groups to raise awareness about bear behavior and the steps individuals can take to prevent encounters that could be dangerous for both bears and humans.

The state's Department of Natural Resources is also supporting Raymond's efforts, providing resources and guidance to help ensure a successful outcome.

Raymond believes that with the right education and outreach, the public can play a critical role in protecting and preserving this important species.

"I'm really excited about this new direction," he said. "I think we're on the cusp of making real progress in helping bears and humans coexist peacefully in our state."

LIVEWIT BUYS LAND FOR PUBLIC PARK

As an eight-acre tract of land adjacent to Brookside in Glacier's downtown section, has been purchased by the state for a public park. The land formerly was the site of a small, 1950s-era, mobile home community, but was cleared and left as a green space.

The state Department of Natural Resources is planning to develop the land into a park that will feature hiking trails, picnicking areas, and other amenities. The goal is to create a space that will be enjoyed by residents and visitors alike.

The purchase was made possible through a grant from the State Parks and Recreation Division, which provided the necessary funding to acquire the property.

State Department of Natural Resources Director Dave Glazebrook said the purchase is a significant step forward in the state's efforts to preserve and protect natural areas for public use.

"We're excited to have this land in our portfolio," said Glazebrook. "It's a beautiful piece of property with a rich history, and we're looking forward to making it available to the public for years to come."
Poultry

Twelve-hour day for hens

For either one or two-egg hens but not for three-egg hens, the twelve-hour day will prove a decided benefit. The hens will have a chance to clean and rest more thoroughly. Egg production is the keystone of successful poultry raising, and it is easier for the farmer who wishes to raise good-sized lots of hens to give them the twelve-hour day. Winter eggs are the ones that bring the highest prices. Hens should not be allowed to become fat or too plump. Farmers who wish to produce hens should cut their production by a third when winter comes around. Farmers who wish to produce eggs should cut their production by half when winter comes around. Farmers who wish to produce both hens and eggs should cut their production by a third when winter comes around.

Raising hogs in the Purdue program

Raising hogs in the Purdue program is a way to raise food for yourself and your family. Hogs are raised in small groups and are fed a diet of corn and other grains. The hogs are castrated and given plenty of exercise. The hogs are raised for ten to twelve months before they are sold for slaughter. Farmers who wish to raise hogs should consider raising them in the Purdue program.

Shredded wheat for chickens

Shredded wheat is a good source of nutrition for chickens. It contains protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins. It is also a good source of fiber. Shredded wheat should be mixed with water and fed to the chickens. Farmers who wish to raise chickens should consider feeding them shredded wheat.

Milk for hogs

Milk is a good source of nutrition for hogs. It contains protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins. It is also a good source of fat. Milk should be fed to hogs in the morning and afternoon. Farmers who wish to raise hogs should consider feeding them milk.

Cottonseed meal for hogs

Cottonseed meal is a good source of nutrition for hogs. It contains protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins. It is also a good source of fat. Cottonseed meal should be fed to hogs in the morning and afternoon. Farmers who wish to raise hogs should consider feeding them cottonseed meal.

Corn for hogs

Corn is a good source of nutrition for hogs. It contains protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins. It is also a good source of energy. Corn should be fed to hogs in the morning and afternoon. Farmers who wish to raise hogs should consider feeding them corn.

Wheat for hogs

Wheat is a good source of nutrition for hogs. It contains protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins. It is also a good source of fiber. Wheat should be fed to hogs in the morning and afternoon. Farmers who wish to raise hogs should consider feeding them wheat.

Looming Added to

Aarts to Lost in Manhood

“Looming Added to,” a new act of the State of Michigan, was introduced in the House of Representatives by Senator A. E. Hopp. The bill would make it a crime for any person to engage in any manner whatever in the manufacture or sale of any article which may be deemed to be injurious to the health or morals of the people. The measure was referred to the Committee on Education, and the report of the committee was adopted by the House. The bill was then passed by the Senate and sent to the Governor for his signature.

Sermon for the Lord's Day

The following is a sermon preached by the Rev. Mr. Brown, of the First Presbyterian Church, Kalamazoo:

Our text for this morning is: “The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want.” Ps. 23:1. "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." This text is a favorite one among Christians, and it is one which should be remembered in our daily life. It is a reminder to us that our needs are taken care of by the Lord, and that we should not be anxious about them.

The Lord is my Shepherd: This is an expression of confidence in the care of the Lord. It is a declaration that we are under the guidance and protection of the Lord, and that we can trust in him for all things. This text is a great source of comfort to us, for it reminds us that the Lord is always with us, and that he will provide for all our needs.

I shall not want: This is a statement of the fact that we have all that we need, and that we are not lacking in anything. It is a declaration that the Lord is our Provider, and that he will supply all our necessities. This text is a reminder to us that we should not worry about our wants, for the Lord will provide for us.

This text is a source of great comfort to us, for it reminds us that the Lord is always with us, and that he will provide for all our needs. It is a reminder to us that we should not be anxious about our wants, for the Lord will supply for us.

We are often tempted to think that we need something, but the Lord is always with us, and he will provide for us. This text is a reminder to us that we should not be anxious about our wants, for the Lord will supply for us.

Camels are for knowing smokers!

New smokers are not always in a position to have a real preference in cigarettes. But when they acquaint themselves with Camels, they find that sense of differentiation that leads to real smoking pleasure. Camels are made so carefully and of so good a blend of choicest cigarette tobaccos that even those with inexperience smoking taste quickly recognize their superiority. They are for those who appreciate the taste of choice tobaccos, the fragrance of a perfect blend and the soothing mellowness of a really satisfying cigarette.

when they learn the difference they flock to Camels

Bay City-Septi-Man

Residents of Bay City and Saginaw recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the town of the city. The building of this house was the realization of a dream for many of the city's residents. The greatest portion is the creation of the city's architecture and art. The building was designed by the firm of Urban and Stiles, and was built to the specifications of the city's master builders. The house is a notable example of the Bay City style of architecture.

The Dangers of "Dobbing" Colds Now Avoided by Use of Modern Vaporizing Ointment

When Virgil Vossel was introduced to the world of home remedies, it was with the hope that it might be a quick and effective cure for colds. However, as he discovered, the remedies were not as effective as he had hoped. He realized that the only way to cure colds was by using modern medical techniques. He decided to use an ointment that would vaporize when applied to the skin, and he found that it was effective in curing colds.

A Sour Stomach

In the same town of Bay City, there is a strange condition that affects many of the citizens. It is known as a "sour stomach," and it is characterized by a persistent feeling of discomfort in the stomach. The condition is caused by a bacterial overgrowth in the stomach, which leads to the production of excess stomach acid. The symptoms of a sour stomach include gas, bloating, and pain. People who suffer from a sour stomach often find it difficult to eat and may experience nausea and vomiting.
