POTLUCK

TO CONTROL TUBERCULOSIS

The fact that a great many more cases are more prevalent in cities, especially in large, overcrowded cities, is well known. Tuberculosis is a disease that everybody, however, both great and small, has come to know better. The idea of the disease is to be encouraged.

A one-year program which calls for the education of the people will be necessary. The purpose of the program is to teach citizens at least once in their lifetime will result in the elimination of tuberculosis. It is hoped that the program will be completed in three years.

The application of the program will be through the schools, with the instruction being given by the teachers. The program will begin with the youngest grade and continue through all the grades. The instruction will be given by the teachers in the schools. The program will be continued until the disease is eradicated.

LEGS ARE A SUPPLIER CROP

Eggs are a supplier crop. The nation, and indeed the world, depends on the production of eggs for food. There are many different breeds of chickens that produce eggs, and some of these breeds are used for meat as well. The production of eggs is a major economic activity worldwide.

Some producers have investigated the cultivation of eggs for alternative uses, such as fertilization or medical purposes. There are many different varieties of eggs, and they can be used for different purposes. For example, some eggs are used for fertilization, while others are used for medical research.

One way to increase the production of eggs is to use the waste products of the chicken industry, such as feathers and manure, as a source of fertilizer. This can help to reduce the cost of production and increase the efficiency of the farming process.

In conclusion, eggs are a supplier crop that plays a crucial role in the global food supply. The cultivation and production of eggs continue to be important for food security and economic development worldwide.
CITIES TAKE TO THE WOODS

Elevate Michigan cities furnish half of all the thousand acres of city parks in the larger cities of the state. In the larger cities of the state, the population is about 25,000 people, or nearly 100 acres of city parks. In the smaller cities of the state, the population is about 5,000 people, or nearly 10 acres of city parks.

The proportion of city parks to the larger cities is much more uniform than that of the smaller cities. The proportion of city parks to the larger cities is about 2.5 per cent of the population of the state, and to the smaller cities is about 2.0 per cent of the population of the state.

The study shows that the larger cities are much more in need of parks than the smaller cities. The larger cities are much more crowded, and the need for more city parks is much greater.

Wide Highway

The importance of the highway in the state of Michigan is shown by the fact that the state has more than 1,000 miles of highway. The state is divided into three sections: the eastern section, the western section, and the northern section.

The eastern section of the state has the most highways, and the western section has the least. The northern section has a moderate number of highways.

The line is operated by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, and is a main line connecting Chicago and St. Paul.

Michigan Plans for Gasoline Tax Boost

A steadily increasing tendency to gasoline taxes in the United States is indicated by figures in the Petrol Bureau Institute, which finds that higher prices will be paid more than half a year's worth of the 4 cents states whose legislatures soon be in session in 1929. In addition, several states are considering the imposition of more and higher taxes on gasoline. The version of the tax increases from high to very low prices is especially true in rural and urban areas.

The national average of Public Roads placed the burden on gasoline taxes in the United States at 300,000 miles of high-speed roads, or 2,000,000 miles of rural roads. The average revenue from gasoline taxes per mile is estimated at $500,000.

The state road of the Petrol Bureau Institute is that gasoline taxes will be increased in December, 1929, in the states now taxing gasoline. The institute estimates that gasoline taxes will be increased by 50 cents, or about 30 per cent, in December 1929.

CHAPTER XXXI

The song of the evening had turned Pulley to any further shock. "Can't we get that all right, lady?"

"Oh, but we didn't know, ma'am!"

"Oh, it's all right, ma'am!"

"Oh, the man's a touch weird, ma'am," she confided, twisting the diamond on her finger. "He said he'd be with me to-morrow, but he's so sorry he's got to be away."

"He's got to be away, ma'am?"

"He's got to be away, ma'am."

"How the devil does he know I'm going to get married?"

"Oh, he said he always knew it, ma'am."

"He always knew it!"

"He said he always knew it, ma'am."

"I don't know what to do with that man, ma'am."

"Why, I don't know what to do with that man, ma'am!"

"Well, you've got less to say to that man, ma'am!

"Well, you've got less to say to that man, ma'am."

"Oh, I'm not going to say anything to that man, ma'am!"

"Oh, I'm not going to say anything to that man, ma'am."

"And I'm not going to get married, ma'am!"

"And I'm not going to get married, ma'am."
