First Report of Disease From Aid Loan

Most of the campaign for fire protection this year will be directed against brush, which last year caused half of all the forest fires that occurred in Michigan.

"The careless smoker is the real menace in our woods today," said E. S. Hayes, chief forester. "Fire is spreading at an alarming rate, and the number of forest fires has not been decreasing proportionately. It is necessary for the average citizen to be certain that his first-aid kit is fully equipped and that he is aware of the dangers of brush fires.

"However, the number of first-aid kits and matches has decreased from the record 1914 harvest to the present levels.

In the event of such a fire, it is necessary to act immediately, and the only effective way to prevent fire is by extinguishing it before it spreads.

For the second year, persons using matches and firewood are requested to observe the following:

1. Matches and firewood should be kept in a safe place.
2. Matches should be extinguished immediately after use.
3. Matches should be kept away from children.
4. Matches should be used only for the intended purpose.

The Michigan Department of Conservation has established a campaign to educate the public on the dangers of fire and the importance of preventing it.

ROOSTER PNEUMONIA

New federal and state laws have been passed to control the disease, "brooder pneumonia," which is a disease of hot and difficult birds.

"The disease often occurs in the first two weeks of life, and it is necessary to take precautions to control it.

"The new laws will be enforced at the local and state levels, and it is necessary to follow the guidelines to ensure the health of the birds.

SMOKERS SET FOREST FIRES

The uh-ohs propaganda has been released in the belief that the proposed warhead will be before the public in the form of a television or radio broadcast, but it is not the first time.

"The uh-ohs propaganda has been presented to the public in various forms since 1918, and it is necessary to be aware of it and to follow the guidelines to ensure the safety of the public.

LEVI'S BACK, RAPS HIS CRITICS

Knots Ropes

Piloting her own 14-foot power boat, Mrs. Levi L. Brady, daughter of the late Levi L. Brady, plans to make another attempt on the record of sailing a small boat from Europe to take her home by this fall, it was announced yesterday.

"I'm an American," said Mrs. Brady, "and I'm going to make another attempt on the record of sailing a small boat from Europe to take my home by this fall."

ZELAND EXCHANGE PUSHES PROJECTS

The Exchange club has appointed a committee toورد the state highway commission in regard to continuation of a federal highway through Zeeland on the remaining mile, which will be used upon the petition, in place of the ordinary 80-foot roads.

The club also is supporting the amendment to the highway bill, which now laps in Michigan through the present situation. A committee was appointed to deliberate with state officials in regard to the matter.

WHEN CHILDREN FRET

There are times when children fret. They may act as if they wish to be left alone. This is quite common and often occurs when children feel their privacy is invaded.

When this happens, parents should allow their children to have some quiet time to themselves. However, if the fretting continues for an extended period, it may indicate a deeper problem that needs to be addressed.

Parents should remain patient and understanding during these times. They can also provide structure and boundaries to help children feel safe and secure.

WEEK OF MARCH 28

The month of March marks the transition from winter to spring. The days become longer, and nature begins to wake up. This is a time of renewal and growth, and it is a great opportunity to encourage interest in nature and the outdoors.

For children, March can be a exciting time as they explore the changes in their environment. Gardening, planting, and watching nature come alive can be fun and educational activities.

Without observing the changes, the child's ability to engage with the natural world will diminish. It is important to encourage curiosity and exploration during this time.

JULY

When children feel neglected or unloved, it can be frustrating and overwhelming. As a parent, it is important to listen to their concerns and offer support.

When a child feels ignored, they may start to act out or withdraw. It is important to communicate with them and address their needs.

When children feel loved, they are more likely to feel safe and secure. As a parent, it is important to create a nurturing environment where children can thrive.
