C. L. Aubeau was called Sunday to the Metagam farm to take two men to their homes. Footing a tow with a tree. It is likely that the men will tire of the work, although the tow itself was badly wounded.

Every man from 18 to 50 years not attending some other club's service at this hour is urged to be at the Community club house next Saturday night for the furthest promotion of a men's Bible class.
Come and bring your friends.

The non-profit director on engineer from Michigan State College will be in the county to counsel farmers in his private practice as to their conditions, as well as those with accurate instruments will be made at such times for doing the work. The plan is to develop a

The plan to construct an electric line from East to Breton's Corner, near the Theatre School, and on to West Corner, is now being discussed and it is anticipated that the survey will be made early next week. The surveyors and engineers will be in charge of the work and will commence at once. The line will be constructed of wood poles and will be extended as far as necessary. The cost of electrification will be borne by the township, which has already voted a large sum for the purpose. The line will be completed as soon as possible, and it is expected that the electric service will be in operation within a few weeks.

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety rely simply on design and careful construction

ONE of the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its front-wheel brakes.
They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanically internal, with all breaking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the bond and drum and interfering with brake action.
Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triple shield-shatter-proof glass windshield, the Hub-double automatic hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, turbo-torque drive, more than twenty hull and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.
You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

The Song of the Sea

By Frank K. Gowan

Here nigh to the sea surf, here where the waters
Kisses and kisses kiss the golden sand;
What sweet balm to ear and eye this picture,
A sight which no one ever saw before;
What restful calm is in your bosom
While in this world you have a rest.
A sight which no one shall ever see before.

SHIPPING WITH CHILDREN: children will get along better, shopping automatically when you have learned a few simple rules. I know this from the fact that all the children in my home have always been well-behaved, and if they ever were not, I simply could not have been blamed for it. The reason for this is that they have been taught the rules that I have written down here.

First rule: Never give a child anything that he cannot eat or drink. This is a very simple rule, and I have found it to be the most effective one in my home. Children will never eat or drink anything that they cannot eat or drink, and if they are not allowed to eat or drink it, they will not ask for it again.

Second rule: Always keep the children busy. Children will never do anything if they are not kept busy. They will do everything if they are kept busy, and if they are not kept busy, they will do nothing.

Third rule: Always praise your children. Children will never do anything if they are not praised. They will do everything if they are praised, and if they are not praised, they will do nothing.

Fourth rule: Always give your children a good example. Children will never do anything if they are not given a good example. They will do everything if they are given a good example, and if they are not given a good example, they will do nothing.

Fifth rule: Always be kind to your children. Children will never do anything if they are not kind to them. They will do everything if they are kind to them, and if they are not kind to them, they will do nothing.

Sixth rule: Always be patient with your children. Children will never do anything if they are not patient with them. They will do everything if they are patient with them, and if they are not patient with them, they will do nothing.

These rules have been effective in my home, and I am sure that they will be effective in yours. I have found them to be the most effective rules that I have ever known.
