Still Explosion Sends Boiler Ripping Through House

Agricultural prices are going to increase 15 to 30 per cent within the next 12 months, Prof. C. J. Holbert, of the state university, told yesterday. At that time, the price of most of the meat animals will be about the same as they are now, but the prices of the grain and meat animals will show a decided increase.

The remarks of the state livestock specialist were made in an address to the members of the stateLivestock Association, of which he is president.

Winter in All Its Glory

The popularity of John L. Fugate’s radio program is apparently increasing every day. At that rate, the next step will be to open an office for the fan mail. He is a tenor.

New Radio Singer

Girls Enjoy Winter Pastimes

A new photograph of Ann Leaf, all dressed up in a pair of them several which she had found to be the most comfortable and least visible under your clothing. One is the existence of a new type of clothing that is now appearing on the market. It is a type of clothing that is designed to provide warmth and comfort in cold weather.

Less Futures Trading

Trading in grain futures in the United States was 23 million in the year ending June 10, 1931, than in the previous year, according to 2. Davis, chief of the grain futures administration. The total volume of grain in the United States was $7,000,000,000,000,000, of which $5,000,000,000,000,000 was in wheat.

Hog Quality

Ordinarily the meat from hogs under 12 months old will be of better quality than the meat from older adults. This applies to pork, beef, and veal, which are the most valuable meat animals in the United States.

Farm Work Will Be Held

Field Day Held on March 14

Farmsmen of the state will be met at the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., on March 14, for the annual farm management education program. Departmental meetings and field staff will feature the Farmers’ Field Day.

FORD SECURES 1,000 MORE Acres of Land

Further indication that the Ford Motor Company is building its Michigan assembly line in full stride is the fact that the company has purchased 1,000 more acres of land on which to build its new plant. The addition of this acreage will give Ford a total of 6,000 acres of land devoted to factory purposes. This acquisition brings the company's total investment in the new plant to $150,000,000.

Fuels and Work for Fuel

United States' oil supply is threatened by the rapid increase in the use of automobiles and trucks. The demand for fuel has outstripped the production of crude oil, leading to a shortage of gasoline and diesel fuel. The federal government is considering implementing rationing to conserve fuel supplies.

MICHIGAN'S PARKS ATTRACT MILLIONS

While much smaller in area than the great national parks of the West, Michigan's state parks were visited by more people in 1931 than those who visited the national parks of the United States. The estimated number of visitors for 1931 in state parks was about three million. The popularity of these parks is due to their accessibility and the variety of recreational opportunities they offer.

KELLYGRAMS

HAS A BIG FIELD
WOLVESNESS STILL

I went into a drug store for the past piece of coffee and some salt. The man behind the counter said, "You want a cup of coffee and some salt?" I asked, "What's this?" He said, "It's a tiny cup of coffee and some salt." I asked, "What's the point of this?" He said, "It's a way to make coffee and salt a little more interesting." I asked,
"How do I use it?" He said, "Just add water and salt, and enjoy the coffee.
I know that it might be a little strange, but it's a way to make coffee and salt a little more fun." I asked, "What is this actually good for?" He said, "It's good for people who want to add a little extra flavor to their coffee and salt. It's also good for people who want to add a little extra fun to their coffee and salt. It's even good for people who want to add a little extra challenge to their coffee and salt." I asked, "What is the background behind this?" He said, "It was created by a small company in the United States, and it's becoming popular in bars and cafes all over the world. It's a way to make coffee and salt more interesting and fun for everyone."

The Romance of a Business Girl

By Edna Bobo Webster

---

CHAPTER LV

Have you heard? said Mr. Amory, turning the card over.* Mary was engaged to Jesse.*

Mary sat bolt upright. Jesse's surprise jerked her several points. That meant that the man she had thought she ought to marry was actually engaged to another girl. It also meant that probably she would be left alone after all. She sighed as she realized the quietness of the room. Mr. Amory still seemed to mean to marry her. But she was glad to be alone. The quietness was soothing. She could think about the situation. Why had she never given Jesse her answer? She had been too timid. She had known all along that he was engaged, but she had been afraid to tell him. She had tried to make up her mind to marry him, but she couldn't. She had been too afraid to tell him. She had been too afraid to tell him.

CHAPTER LVII

Dark telephoned in the afternoon, and his voice was as cheerful as his usual quiet tone. Mary! Have you heard? I propose to marry you.

Mary's environment jerked her several points. That meant that she would be married to Dark. She would have to live with him. She would have to be his wife. She would have to be happy. She would have to be unfaithful. She would have to be obedient. She would have to be kind. She would have to be good. She would have to be everything. She would have to be everything.
