POULTRY

One of the virtues of alfalfa which is so commonly praised is its high quality from the poultry standpoint, according to the latest reports from the Bureau of Animal Industry. The Bureau has recommended the potatoes as a special feature of this food for poultry from the time at which they become available to the consumers in large quantities.

"The principle of the potatoes as a feature of the corn meal and alfalfa ration is a matter of importance," said the Bureau's representative, "especially as the potatoes have a better feeding value than any other crop, and they are a valuable source of protein for the feeding of poultry."

A THRILLING MYSTERY STORY

By MILES BURTON

WEEK OF APRIL 3

Amid the latest developments, Michigan with its surroundings crooked. Although the weather is being quite unsettled, the city is clear to the west, following the early part of the month, and the skies are blue for some time towards Tuesday, to Thursday.

Following the middle days of the week, it is possible that the city will be generally fair. Temperatures will remain about the same or a little lower near the coast of the lake. For good weather in general towards the middle of the week.

Gull Stream Feeds Michigan

"We've got to be honest in our depart- ment for the week of February 26th. All during the time of March, the high temperature averages have been generally above freezing. Great for the farmers who are plowing."

This result is the extent of the weather in the state of Ohio for the next few days. The northern part of Michigan and the southern part of the eastern counties are expected.

This cold air was practically raining for the time being over the extreme southern portion of the state, which received the greatest of the coldness. This phenomenon is expected to last 24 to 36 hours and is a result of the cold air which is moving east from the southern part of the state.

McKinney Promoted

Packard Motor Car Company has announced the appointment of B. E. McKinney as head of a new sales department, in addition to his present duties as advertising manager. Mr. McKinney, now in his twentieth year with the company, has had wide experience in all phases of the motorcar business and has been a member of the company since 1913. He will be assisted in his new work by A. J. Grider and E. L. Logan.

Dinner Stories

The farmer's three labors were taken very seriously. The chickens were hatched from the farm yard into the garden. The corn was cut and the rice was harvested.

"You have to feed the corn and I'll take the rice, we have to cut the grass," the farmer argued.

Tom agreed, and they started off to work on the fields. Tom was tired, but he didn't want to show it and so they started off without a break. After a hard day's work, they came back home, hungry and ready for the meal.

Before Tom could reply a voice called out from the kitchen: "Tom!"

"Yes!" said Tom, "Tell me what you need.

For Nothing?

At this very moment, a girl in a blue dress walked into the kitchen.

"I'm sorry, I don't have anything to eat."

"What is your name?"

"I'm looking for something to eat."

"Take my cornbread," said Tom. "It's very good but I need something for my money."

"I don't have any money," said the girl. "I don't even have any work."

"If you don't want it, I'll give it to someone else," said Tom.

"I appreciate it," said the girl. "I'll remember your kindness."

"And how old are you?"

"I'm 18 years old," said the girl.

"Thank you," said Tom. "Just be at the same time next week."

Good Advice

If you are shaking hands and drinking, you'll never have another one like the first.

"But that's what you told me before."

"Well, I'm not."

"And how old are you?"

"I'm 18 years old," said the girl.

"Thank you," said Tom. "Just be at the same time next week."

Good for Something

Handcuffing is certain to stop the crowds of people gathered around the city block.

"We'd like to go, dear! I can't wait any longer!"

"But you said that you couldn't go."

"Well, I'm not."
Suggest Time Table To Boil Vegetables

A time table for boiling vegetables will be of practical assistance in preventing vegetables from being overcooked and losing their nutritive qualities.

For the average extension division of the home econ- omy worker or student, Michigan State College has prepared such a guide, which designates the length of time required for cooking vegetables in open kettles.

A large amount of water is required for producing an effective boiling action which will cover the vegetable, while young and old vegetables should be well saturated to ensure thorough cooking. Water should be kept boiling and the vegetables should be closely covered during the cooking time reported for each vegetable.

Authority for these recommendations is based upon the principles and theories of the food conserving department at the University of Illinois, where a laboratory study of the time required for boiling vegetables was made and the results are now being extended to the field of home economics education, with the result of overcooking, especially the less tender vegetables, and undercooking the tougher kinds.

The purpose of this chart is to give the home cooks more accurate information about the time necessary to cook various vegetables, which will result in saving fuel, time and money, and increase the nutritive value of the vegetables.

Senior's at C. S. T. C.

Sue of Positions

Alumni and Students of the Class of 1930 announce that the State Teachers College has been named a "Senior's" home by the Michigan Alumni Association, accord- ing to the announcement made by the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan.

Robert R. Johnson as principal of Central High School, is the first to be announced, followed by the name of one other principal in each of the other public high schools in the state. The announcement was made by the Michigan Alumni Association, and the new home will take the place of the old "Senior's" home, which was discontinued last year.

Mental Weeds

If you can’t speak well of men,
Why mention them at all,
Because the thoughtless chatterer
Is hanged for a fool.

The fish with whom you’re talking

And wonder just a little,
Sometimes we don’t know how to talk.

Keep thinking of the good things

Your friendly thought will be honorific

No matter where you go.

BRINGING CHEER TO THE HOME

The other day a mother asked me how she could bring cheer into her home. She had a six-year-old son who had been in the hospital for a month with an illness that kept him there for six months. When I started to explain, she interrupted me and said, "I know what you mean. Just now I don’t have the time to think much about it. All I can do is feed the baby, wash the clothes and keep the house clean."

I asked her if she ever thought of bringing cheer into her home. She said, "No, I just don’t have time." I told her that she could do it by thinking of the fun times in the past and the good times that are to come. She said, "That’s true. But I just can’t do it."

I told her that she could do it by thinking of the future and the good times that are to come. She said, "That’s true. But I just can’t do it."

I told her that she could do it by thinking of the past and the good times that are to come. She said, "That’s true. But I just can’t do it."

I told her that she could do it by thinking of the present and the good times that are to come. She said, "That’s true. But I just can’t do it."
