Cable-Suspended Railroad Roadway for World's Fair

A greenhouse representing Michigan's abundant automobile manufacturers has been designated to analyze the experiences and attempt to work out an adequate rate base, particularly for labor classes. The greenhouse is located by George M. Hemen, insurance commissioner of the Detroit Times. The greenhouse will consist of an elevated walkway with a large roof, designed to provide adequate lighting for the plant. The walls will be constructed of clear glass, allowing the plant to grow in a controlled environment.

Would Build Light Plant

As a result of the report by the Iron Range Light & Power Company to build a light plant, the الأولين Congress has decided to submit a $15,000 bond issue to the voters at the April election. Proceeds would be used to establish a municipal electric light and power plant and the city council. The Michigan legislature will consider the bill. The state house has passed the bill.

OUT OF STATE TRUCK OWNERS MUST HAVE MICHIGAN LICENSES

Track owners who reside in other states but who make daily regular or occasional trips into Michigan, must secure Michigan licenses prior to going into the state for the first time. The licenses are valid for one year from the date of issue and are renewable annually. All trucks operating in Michigan must be registered with the state. The cost of the license is based on the weight of the truck and the number of tires. The license fees are as follows:
- <10,000 lbs: $10
- 10,001 to 15,000 lbs: $15
- 15,001 to 20,000 lbs: $20
- 20,001 to 25,000 lbs: $25
- 25,000 lbs and over: $30

DIABETES

Diabetes is a serious medical condition that affects millions of people worldwide. It is a chronic disease that occurs when the body is unable to produce or use insulin effectively. Insulin is a hormone that helps glucose, or blood sugar, enter your cells to provide energy. B. W. G. EDWARD'S WORK

Various attempts have been made in various states to clean up B. W. G. Edward's work. To date, however, most of all who sell lambing has not taken place. The difficulty of finding a site for the flock is the major problem. But a simple method is used by the farmers and it is carried out in the farm in the Kansas City area. The flock is divided into two parts and the pieces are sold separately. The pieces are killed at a butcher, and then sold to the butcher who has previously agreed to take the pieces.

EVER OF APRIL 23

The week of April 24th is expected to bring more mild weather conditions in the most parts of the state as a new high pressure area moves in from the west. During the early days of the week, there is a chance of scattered thunderstorms and afternoon thunderstorms. Expect to have some rain or snow in the state of Nebraska. Temperatures will cool down as well.

During the middle of this week, temperatures will be fairly warm. A high pressure system will be building in from the western part of the state. Expect to have clear skies and sunny weather with temperatures in the 80s.

SALES TIP

Many store owners are looking for ways to attract more customers during this time. Here are some strategies to consider:

1. Run promotions and discounts to encourage customers to shop.
2. Offer in-store events, such as workshops or classes, to engage customers.
3. Use social media to promote your store and special offers.
4. Create a welcoming environment with comfortable seating, music, and warm lighting.

STUDENT GENERATION

Strikes and labor disputes have become common occurrences in recent years. Here are some key points to consider:

1. Labor unions have played an important role in improving working conditions and wages for many workers.
2. Strikers have often used peaceful protests, such as sit-ins and picketing, to demand better working conditions.
3. The use of weapons, such as guns and clubs, by the police or strikers has led to violent confrontations.

DINNER STORIES

As an Irish doll-seller was instructing the children of a neighboring farm, the envious farmer saw the doll-cabinet manufactured in the same manner. The next day, he took the doll-cabinet to a prosperous merchant in town and received an advance of $500. The doll-cabinet was built to order and delivered to the merchant.

CHAPTER XXXV

Dick had been waiting for the correct moment to strike. He knew that the merchant, Mr. Wildfield, would be expecting him to deliver the goods on time. Dick had planned the perfect strategy to get the merchant's money and run.

CHAPTER XXXVII

Dick traveled up to London next and found a job at the famous theatre, Lestrade's. He was given a small salary, but it was enough to live on. Dick continued to work, and eventually, he became a successful actor.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Mr. contender won the race and threw his arms around Dick. The two went to a nearby pub and had a few drinks. After they left the pub, they walked down the street and overheard a voice saying, "Hello, boy! Whose are you?"

CHAPTER XXXIV

The man turned out to be a gangster who was looking for a new partner. Dick agreed to join the gang and started working for them.

A MATTER OF MANAGEMENT
When Mrs. W. N. Bumpus dropped around yesterday afternoon to see the work on the new house at 604 South Main Street, she found her sister sewing on the sitting room.

"Come in and have a seat," said Mrs. W. N. Bumpus, who had had the children in the sewing room. "We are all busy today." For Mrs. W. N. Bumpus had been busy in the bedroom, trying to find the right material for the dresses she was to sew for the three little girls who were coming to town to visit their uncle.

"Are you going to make them a dress each?" asked Mrs. W. N. Bumpus.

"Yes, I am," said her sister. "I have been working on it all morning."

In another hour the sewing machine will be humming again, and the little girls will be able to wear their new dresses.
