WEEK OF JULY 3

While Sunday, July 5, will grant us the last break of any note in the current month, the hotweather conditions will be with us at least through Monday or two with thunder showers making their appearance at any time. The fishing conditions should be quite good at any time during the next week. The wind will be southerly and the weather moderate.

ADDENDUM OF TUESDAY, JUNE 28

The nibbling of salmon and whitefish for July 3 has been reported to be fair, with fair weather and moderate water conditions.

Opportunity Adlets

Work for "Uncle Sam"

Uncle Sam's present needs are for plenty of good help in various fields. The opportunities are good for a few weeks, if not months. If you have a taste for adventure, now is the time to take advantage of it.

No Charge

Graft Farmer (to son): "Why don't you work for yourself? You are an able farmer, and you can earn a good living on your own." Son: "I'm not interested in farming for myself." Graft Farmer: "What do you want to do then?" Son: "I don't know. I just want to do something different." Graft Farmer: "Well, then, go out and find something different. But remember, no charge for your education and training." Son: "Okay, I'll do that." Graft Farmer: "That's right. And never forget, no charge for your education and training."

Dinner Stories

No Missing Reading These Younger ones can be quite a handful. They are always asking questions and demanding attention. But they have an uncanny ability to remember what they have read, much to our surprise.

Alander, MacGregor Jenkins

By MacGregor Jenkins

The day of the week we spend together is to be fairly weatherly and temperate enough to keep us all comfortable. The evenings will be quite mild, and the days will be quite bright, with a good bit of sunshine. The fishing conditions will be quite good during the next week, with the exception of the week after July 3, when the weather may be a bit erratic.

Weather conditions through the week will be quite stable, with the exception of the week after July 3, when the weather may be a bit erratic. The fishing conditions will be quite good during the next week, with the exception of the week after July 3, when the weather may be a bit erratic.
