Mammoth Station in New York City's New Subway

The immense underground station in New York City's newly opened Eighth Avenue subway system is said to be the largest of its kind in the world. Located between 82nd Street and Eighth Avenue, it is designed for the huge crowds of office workers daily to travel in and from that busy section of the city.

OLD-TIME COACHES IN THRILLING RODEO DRIVE

These ancient stage coaches, which before the days of railroads, were the chief means of long distances travel in the west, are shown in a thrilling drive before tonight's opening at the annual rodeo held recently at Flemington, Washington.

Farm Champion

Kent county farmers are reported by their county agricultural agent to be raising good crops of winter barley, which has produced yields of high 40 bushels per acre. The barley being grown by the Howard County region of the Iowa Agricultural Association in the November 1916 and 1917 crops has been inspected and approved by the Iowa Agricultural Association. Winter barley is being grown in the county and a very popular and interesting section in the crop was demonstrated by the Howard County farmers. A very cool and fresh barley crop was harvested by the Kent county farmers, which was grown on the acre.

The barley has not been seen to reach yields of 40 bushels per acre, which is very rare for any farm. The grain is poured in the molasses, is a very good quality, and the barley has been used in many of the best curinghouses. The yield of barley has been excellent this year, and the farmers have been very pleased with the results.

HARVEST THIS YEAR IN STATE SHOWS A GAIN

An encouraging harvest outlook today is over the entire state of Iowa. The wheat, corn, oats, and other crops are all doing well. The weather has been favorable, and the crops are expected to be good this year. The farmers are very pleased with the results and are looking forward to a good harvest.}

FEEDING THE WINTER FLOCK

L Ayers and Bredmers

In the FAYCOWAN county, Iowa, the wheat, wheat, wheat is growing in a steady and regular fashion. The corn is doing well, and the farmers are very pleased with the results. The weather has been favorable, and the crops are expected to be good this year.

LOVELY DANCERS Round for London

In London, England, there are no restrictions on dancing. The ballrooms are open, and the dancers are having a good time. The music is good, and the atmosphere is friendly. The dancers are well-dressed, and the ballrooms are well-lit. The event is highly anticipated, and the dancers are looking forward to a memorable evening.

Eclipse Egg

This amusingly marked hen's egg was laid at the exact hour of the recent total eclipse of the sun. The occurrence was a wonderful coincidence, and it is said that the appearance of the eclipse at the moment of totality, in the same spot where the egg was laid, is extremely rare.

College Stock Wins National Awards

Horses, cattle, and sheep exhibited by Michigan State College at the Ohio and Michigan State fairs again won an imposing array of ribbons and premiums. One prize in each is the grand champion, which is presented to the exhibitor of the best exhibit of any animal entered in the contest. The other prizes, which total 45 cents, are divided among the other exhibitors.

Gotham's Jeep Are

The Jeep is a favorite among yogurt makers and the children of New York City. The yogurt is a popular item, and the children love the bright green color. The yogurt is made from milk, and the children enjoy the creamy texture. The yogurt is available at most supermarkets and grocery stores.

Black Buck

"I believe," said the cheery philosophe to his preposterous brother, "I believe in free will, but not in free gratification." The cheery philosophe had always been a stickler for econs, and he was determined to prove his brother wrong. The black buck, however, was not convinced, and he insisted on proving his point. The two brothers had been friends for many years, and they always enjoyed a good debate on the finer points of econs.

The green food should be fed at a rate of 1 to 3 pounds per 100 lbs.
A refuge in the Curtis desert and public hunting ground area which was purchased by the department of conservation two years ago has been established as the official boundary of a new refuge by the time the fall hunting season opens.

The establishment of more than four thousand acres in Tipton and Sanborn counties will push the length of the refuge into四 thousand acres in Tipton and Sanborn counties and will greatly increase the number of people hunting in the area. The refuge is protected by national and state laws.

There are forty miles of roads and trails on the refuge and the park will be open to the public during the fall hunting season.

The refuge is located in the northwestern part of the state and is accessible by car and by horseback.

MADSTON FOUND AT MT. CLEMMNS

Visual evidence that Michigan once had its share of prairie chickens is now on display at the T. P. Harrigan Montana Museum, two miles south of the town of Maine. The exhibit is a loaner lower jaw bone, which is on display in the Montana Museum.

The exhibit fills a niche in the museum and is the only exhibit of its kind in the state.

The entire collection of the bone has not been found, and the jaw bone was in the collection of a museum in the city of Montana, which has been identified by experts.

Mastodon, Prof. Cusack, said, was a large elephant which had been found in the area.

The Mastodon exhibits have been found and preserved in the museum in the immediate section.

The Mastodon exhibit is the first exhibit to be made in the Idaho Museum. The museum has been closed for the past two months because of the bad weather.

Times Are Picking Up

By PARKER HICKS

The prospects for recovery from the depression are brighter than they have been for a long time. The business situation is improving, and there is a general feeling of optimism among business men.

The recovery is due to a combination of factors, including the reduction of taxes, the increase in the money supply, and the reduction of unemployment. The reduction of taxes has helped to stimulate business activity, and the increase in the money supply has helped to increase the purchasing power of the people.

The reduction of unemployment has also helped to improve the business situation. The reduction of unemployment has helped to increase the purchasing power of the people, and this has helped to stimulate business activity.

The recovery is likely to continue, as long as the government continues to采取 steps to reduce taxes and increase the money supply. The government should continue to采取 steps to reduce taxes and increase the money supply, as this will help to stimulate business activity and improve the business situation.

It is generally assumed that the child who will not conform to society at home or in school is the victim of some form of underachievement. If he will not learn the things that are necessary, he must be something fundamentally wrong with the child. When you consider that he is a boy or a girl, society takes its role, and society sets up standards, a child who is not adherent to those standards is held in low esteem in the State or community.

The idea is, to get him to conform, to put pressure, and to mold children into society, and then mold to society. Indeed, long before the child is ready to conform, he must be ready to receive the pressure and mold to society.

He learns early to receive and have them look upon it as a normal thing. The whole society acts to mold him, and he learns to conform to the standards of the community.

The child is then, to get him to conform, to put pressure, and to mold children into society, and then mold to society. Indeed, long before the child is ready to conform, he must be ready to receive the pressure and mold to society.
