A departure from the usual practice of poultry feed this year at any rate in any way, is the present ratio of feed to food, which is being studied by the farmer who is growing a few acres of flageolet, which indicate a definite

POULTRY SHOWS GROWTH

The farm population will be approximately 19,000,000 eggs per year by the end of this year, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, reports covering the 10 years from 1922 to 1931, the total will be close to the peak from population eggs ranking as of January 1, 1921. The number of eggs produced per farm in the population is charted from 1929 to 1931, and the per cent of increase from the years 1922 to 1930, the number of eggs produced per farm in the population is shown in the chart below:

The line represents the fact that a considerable part of the farmward movement in recent years has been by those farmers who have come from farm experi-

CASH CROPS SMALLER

Smaller cash crops and relatively lower prices have made the farm economy more difficult for farmers in the current farm prices. The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports that the real estate values in its September report for farm conditions for the next few months is expected to be very low, as the prices of land and buildings are expected to decrease. The total number of farm cattle is larger than a year ago, but the prices of wool and other farm products are expected to increase. The total number of eggs produced per farm is expected to decrease, as the number of hens is expected to decrease.

STATE TO BUILD NEW TYPE OF SEGREGATED ROADS

The Michigan state administrative board has authorized the construction of 156 U.S.-23 highway between Mount and the U.S. 34, a distance of 140 miles. This highway is to be on a straight course, with no corners, running from Detroit to Toledo. Eventually one will be designed for major urban areas and for other passenger traffic.

This is the first time that such proposals have actually been made by officials of the highway department. Michigan has already seen the trials that two roads would be constructed for purely commercial traffic to give access to parallel truck lines at passenger carrying terminals. Surveys and plans are now being reviewed by Mr. Dillman for the improvement desired, and if its proposal is carried out, M-22 will carry passenger traffic and M-24 will have all the facilities of a major truck and bus route.

"We may have some legislation and a matter of the concern of the heavy traffic conditions between Detroit and Indiana, Mr. Dillman said."

Dillman’s plan calls for the building of the four-lane concrete superhighway along the major trucking走廊, with the construction of an interchange at every 10 miles along the route. Smoking Cools, Fingers, Toes 1 to 9 Degrees

When you smoke you cool your feet and legs and toes from one to nine degrees while at the same time your hand pressure and pulse rate decrease.

This seemingly paradoxical finding showed very definite effects in experiments in which the circulation of the blood in the extremities and the accelerative effects of smoking on the metabolism of the lungs, as shown by Liebescher’s disease, to some. The tests, carried out as part of physiological experiments, were conducted by Dr. Fredrick C. Gumm of the University.

The results of the cooling of the extremities were found to be the effect of the sympathetic nervous system, which among other functions, causes the blood vessels to contract and thus to cause the circulation of the extremities.

In tests the smokers were placed in a room of over temperature, their pulse rate, blood pressure and eye pressure being taken before and after smoking. Once the findings were expected, but the results showed the value of the findings were not as great as was expected.

Four degrees. Central tests in which the subjects were placed in water of 4 degrees also showed that the effect of smoking on the circulation of the feet was due to the action on the nerves of the foot.

Bargains a European

Although the administrative council of the United States is sometimes in error and the demands, the true desires are in the interests only of the old world. The desire is a sort of dream among the real people and the nation. It is a dream of poverty, but it is a dream of a country where there is no poverty. It is a dream of seeing a man and a woman, and a fuller life for them, a fuller life for their children, and a fuller life for their grandchildren. It is a dream of seeing the world as it should be, and the world as it can be.

The Wife & Co.

Bob had cleared his machine in the store where he worked. It was a lot of work and he had to be on his toes all day to keep up with the demands of the customers. He was tired and he longed for the quiet of his own home.

Bob was walking home from work when he saw a beautiful woman standing in the doorway of a store. She looked attractive and he couldn't help but stare at her. He couldn't believe his luck when she noticed him and gave him a smile.

The woman was Mrs. Thompson, the owner of the store. She had been looking for a new assistant to help her with her work and she had found the perfect candidate in Bob. Mrs. Thompson offered him the job and Bob was overjoyed.

Bob started working at the store and he quickly became popular with the customers. He was always cheerful and he could always make people laugh with his quick wit.

One day, Mrs. Thompson decided to hold a party at the store to celebrate Bob's first year of working for her. The party was a huge success and everyone had a great time.

Bob was pleased with the turnout and he couldn't wait to find out what the future held for him at the store. He was confident that he would continue to be a valuable asset to Mrs. Thompson and the store.

The future looked bright for Bob and he couldn't wait to see what the next year would bring.
