Most people agree in one thing about the new tariff-being that it has been completed.

The members of the new tariff committee, the Senate Finance Committee, have completed their work and have submitted a bill to the President. The bill has passed both houses of Congress and has been signed by the President. It is now a law and will take effect on August 10th.

The Senate Finance Committee is now meeting in conference with the House Ways and Means Committee to resolve their differences and present a final bill to the President.

The bill provides for the imposition of new duties on a number of foreign goods, including coal, tea, sugar, and tobacco. The duties range from 5% to 25% on the value of the goods.

The bill also provides for the abolition of the import duties on a number of goods, including newspapers, books, and canned goods.

The bill has been favored by the President and has been signed by him. It is now a law and will take effect on August 10th.

TO THE STORE CLERK

ENDORSEMENT FOR SALES-MEN AND SALESWOMEN.

Ben. Talma Photographic to a Nightie Nurse at the Hotel Hayard for the Life that Now Is as Well as the Life to Come.

Our Washington special.

The manner of amplying the subject addressed in the article below, is narrated in the Journal of Commerce for the week ending Sept. 18th, and under the title "What Is the Ideal Store Clerk?" and "What Is She Like to Be Like?"

For the benefit of our readers, we extract the following paragraphs:

"In a large city, there is a store clerk who has been at work for several years, and who has a fine reputation for honesty and intelligence. She is a well-dressed woman, with a lively manner, and a ready smile. Her business is to receive and deliver goods, to keep a record of them, and to make change. She is also employed in taking orders, and in attending to the wants of the customers. She is a fair and honest woman, and is very popular with her employers.

"Another store clerk, who has been at work for some time, is a woman of the same age, but of a different character. She is a lazy, shiftless woman, who never does anything for herself, and who is always in debt. She is also employed in receiving and delivering goods, and in taking orders. She is, however, a dishonest woman, and is very unpopular with her employers."

"The following are the reasons why a store clerk should be honest and intelligent:

"1. It is necessary for her to keep a record of the goods that are received and delivered. If she is dishonest, she will not be able to do this properly, and will lose the trust of her employers.

"2. It is necessary for her to take orders. If she is dishonest, she will be unable to do this properly, and will lose the trust of her employers.

"3. It is necessary for her to make change. If she is dishonest, she will be unable to do this properly, and will lose the trust of her employers."

"The following are the reasons why a store clerk should be well-dressed:

"1. It is necessary for her to have a lively manner, and a ready smile. If she is not well-dressed, she will not be able to do this properly, and will lose the trust of her employers.

"2. It is necessary for her to have a fair and honest manner. If she is not well-dressed, she will be unable to do this properly, and will lose the trust of her employers."

The above extracts illustrate the importance of an employee in a store, and the necessity for her to be honest, intelligent, well-dressed, and well-behaved. It is therefore advisable for all store clerks to take care of their appearance, and to be always in the best possible condition for work."
