TRAPPED BY TELEGRAPH.

There were a great many news stories about the great cyclone that was wrecking the West. Here is another, which is perhaps the most important of all.

The cyclone was meeting with its greatest opposition in the small town of Wynona, a city of 2,000 people, situated in the middle of the state, where it has been described as the greatest cyclone that has ever occurred in the history of the world. The cyclone was in the form of a great column of air, which was rising from the earth at a rate of 100 feet per second, and was accompanied by a loud roaring sound. The town was in the path of the cyclone, and the inhabitants were in great fear of their lives. The cyclone had been described as the greatest cyclone that has ever occurred in the history of the world. THE DAY I CARRIED THE DUCK.

'The day I started to carry the duck.'

With my mother and my father.

We went to the duck pond.

We fed the ducks.

They were very hungry.

We had a lot of fun.

The duck pond was very small.

It was a sunny day.

My mother and I.

We were very happy.

The duck pond was very beautiful.

It is often difficult to control possitive conditions, and to avoid positive consequences, blame, suffer-ning, or death. This is the fault of the devil, who is always at work.

Head Quarters for Spring and Summer Goods.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

WING to the low price of farm produce and the uncertainty of time, we have marked our entire line of merchandise at closer margin than we had ever thought of before. We buy direct from New York and can meet the closest competition. In buying there and with our small expense we can undersell our city merchants in the same line of goods. By courteous treatment and at all times looking to the interest of our customers, we hope to receive a continuance of your valued patronage.
