When We Girls

"Do you remember that wonderful Sunday night, Mary?"

"Ay, how?"

"The one when we heard the comet--the day when the snow fell?"

"Oh, yes, I remember! It was so cold and white, and the wind blew so hard."

"And all the children played outside, and we sat by the fire and listened to the stories."

"Yes, and then we went out to look at the stars."

"And we had a picnic on the hill, and we all laughed and sang."

"Oh, how I miss those days!"

"But life goes on, and we must move on to new adventures."

"Yes, but we will always remember those happy times."
