GRANDMA’S PRAYER

I pray for all my family and friends,

For health and happiness and good fortune too,

And for the day when we can all be together,

I pray that love will last forever.

NIGHTTIME PRAYER

Dear God, please bless my family,

And keep us safe from harm.

May we always be kind and loving,

And may we never take each other for granted.

END OF DAY

We have had a good day,

Whether we were happy or sad.

But we have learned something new,

And we are grateful for that.

END OF WEEK

Thank you for the week,

And for all the good things that happened.

We look forward to next week,

And to all the new adventures.

END OF MONTH

What a month it has been,

With its ups and downs.

But we have grown stronger,

And we are ready for the next.

END OF YEAR

What a year it has been,

With its highs and lows.

But we have learned so much,

And we are grateful for that.

END OF LIFE

Thank you for life,

And for all the experiences we have had.

We are grateful for each other,

And for all the people we have met.

END OF THE WORLD

Thank you for the world,

And for all the beauty it contains.

We are grateful for each other,

And for all the love we share.

END OF TIME

Thank you for time,

And for all the moments we have spent.

We are grateful for each other,

And for all the joy we bring.

END OF ETERNITY

Thank you for eternity,

And for all the love we share.

We are grateful for each other,

And for all the moments we have spent.
PERILOUS WOOSING.

At one time of my life I was government, and in the face of all that,
my only pupil was the little changeling
William Morris and the little changeling
Mary Josephine Morris. Thus it was, in my time, that the woman who conceived Frank had lived the life of a monkey, and the children who were born of her were as happy as monkeys.

Thus it was that the woman who conceived Frank had lived the life of a monkey, and the children who were borne of her were as happy as monkeys.

The Blue and the Gray.

Both men and women are apt to feel a little blue, when the gray hairs begin to show.  It's often the signal of a real feeling of the passing of the days.  They have no business whitening the head and cannot get rid of it.  It is one of the signs of age, and cannot be spared, or from loss of color, from lack of care.

When the hair fades or turns gray, there's no use to fight them.  The normal value of the hair is restored and retained by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.
