CHILD STUDY (Third Paper.)—It is certainly true that there is an emotional relation between the growth of the child and the growth of the body. This relation is based on the idea that growth results from the action of certain forces which are inherent in the organism itself. The growth of the body is not due to the influence of external factors, but is the result of the interaction of the forces within the organism. This idea is supported by the fact that the growth of the child is very much affected by the conditions under which it lives. The growth of the child is not only a matter of physical growth, but it is also a matter of mental and emotional growth. The emotional growth of the child is as important as the physical growth, and it is often more difficult to measure.

LETTER-CARRIERS PUZZLES HIS SUPERIOR OFFICER.

Postmaster-General May Have to Be Persuaded to Cut His Hair.

A letter carrier of the United States Post Office Department has a puzzle which he hopes will be solved by the Postmaster-General. The puzzle is the question of whether the Postmaster-General, J. P. O'Sullivan, will cut his hair or not. The letter carrier, who has been on the job for 15 years, has always been known as a model of neatness and tidiness. The question is whether the Postmaster-General will adopt the same standard of neatness. The puzzle has been the subject of much speculation among the letter carriers of the Department.

ORANGES TO BE SHIPPED TO ENGLAND.

Oranges to Be Shipped to England.

A large shipment of oranges is to be shipped to England. The oranges are of the finest quality and are expected to sell well in the English market. This is a significant event, as it marks the first time that oranges from the United States have been exported to England.

The news was received with much excitement in the town. The citizens were proud of the fact that their oranges were being recognized as the finest in the world. The shipment was carefully packed and insured to ensure its safe delivery to England.

The oranges were transported by train to the port of Savannah, where they were loaded onto a ship bound for England. The journey was expected to take several weeks, and the oranges were to arrive in England just in time for the holiday season.

The shipment was a landmark moment for the town, as it showcased the quality and abundance of its agricultural products. The town was known for its oranges, and this shipment was a testament to its reputation.
TALMAGE'S SERMON.

HE PREACHES UPON A RAPTURE.

"He must fulfill the word of God before he shall sit upon the right hand of the Majesty on high."—Heb. 1:3.

"The day of the Lord is near."—Zeph. 1:7.

The day is at hand.

If the Lord delay, it is not because he purposes to tarry a day longer than he will. "He must fulfill the word of God before he shall sit..." The "time of the end" is at hand. The "day of the Lord" is near.

And there is another aspect of the subject that is not less interesting. It is not only the "day of the Lord" that is near, but the "day of the gentiles" is also near. The "day of the Lord" is not just a religious day, but it is also a political day. The "day of the gentiles" is also near.

"The day of the gentiles" is the day when the Gentiles will be brought to the knowledge of the Lord. "The day of the Lord" is the day when the Jews will be brought to the knowledge of the Lord. The Gentiles will be saved, and the Jews will be converted.

And so, the "day of the Lord" is near, and the "day of the gentiles" is also near. The Lord is preparing the way for his return, and for the salvation of his people. The "day of the Lord" is near, and the "day of the gentiles" is also near.

And so, we must be ready for the Lord's return. We must be ready for the salvation of the gentiles. We must be ready for the salvation of the Jews. The "day of the Lord" is near, and the "day of the gentiles" is also near.

REAL MONEY.

It is evident to every candid, thoughtful mind that there are two great forces or agencies at work among mankind, as the leading ones, in an acceptable progress to higher plains of joy and prosperity. The one is a pure religion, and the other is real money. These are what the masses of mankind desire, but do they always get them?

It is the universal order in nature that man, in his disciplinary course comes into possession of both, through a system of training devised and presided over by a competent and never-failing teacher, our Creator and Heavenly Father. If man will accept and practice the teachings and counsel of “Jesus of Nazareth,” to, “seek first the kingdom of God and its righteousness,” real and unchanging money will become unmistakably apparent. Now such is the command of Almighty God, that man must and shall personally and positively acquire both the genuine and counterfeit. The counterfeit brings loss and confusion, the true, gain, order and contentment. Man must know both in order to know either. Hence, man, a creature of education, while a scholar never knows positively the whole book, until it has been thoroughly considered.

Until he is thoroughly posted, he is liable to think and determine right the reverse tomorrow of what occupies his mind today. Knowing such to be the fact, we do well to be governed by true charity or love towards each other, respecting differences of opinion, correctly calculating that in due time we shall all see and agree, and rejoice together.

HURRAH BOYS, A FIGHT! A FIGHT!!!

Two metal gods! Behold the sight! With ballots marshaling for a fight, Each one the other to subdue, By hook, or by crook; either will do. The “gold god” wears the “British crown”, And views “free silver” with a frown, Saying you FOOL; the earth is MINE: Do well. Submit without a whine. Rothschilds, Wall street and bankers all, Fall into line when’er I call, And for their services and care They get from ME, the “lion’s share.” Mankind has always WORSHIPPED me And sought beneath my care to be, For I do meet every demand, At home, or in a foreign land. Take off your hat and make a bow Or instigate a hellish row, That will when ‘lection time is o’er, Find you pounded, lame and sore. Your place is trotting up behind, With ruling NEVER, in your mind; Except as “change” of handy form, Where you can do the smallest harm. Don’t bring us both into disgrace By wishing with me an equal place. I’ve scored a day’s march as you see, So vantage, ground belongs to me, And you be sure I’ll firmly hold, You; as to me forever SOLD. The second place you now may fill, Subject to my future will. The “silver god” with wrathful mien It’s former power to regain, Stands up: to face the “golden god” And sets at naught its ruling nod. You “golden god” of HELLISH greed I’ll meet and down you: yes indeed. And teach you next November day, I’ll accept nothing, but “fair play.” Your name and mine were spelled the same,* Until you played that hellish game, Through humankind of traitorous mould, Declared the standard ONLY gold. I might aspire to be your boss, And thus create an immense loss, To your soulless faithful few Whose love of self never says you, Only when you shall want a tool? With which to “kill” the common fool. You know “twas never fairly done, To make me give “sixteen to one.” I gave an inch, you took an ell And set on fire a very hell. Well, hell it is: and I’m your man, Now then whip me if you can. Come “pop’s,” come “prob’s,” come “silver gray”: United we can win the day, And bury Shylock with his gold Where ’tis said, it’s never cold. Come “copper god” put in your say, Just see how you have SHRANK away, And though you do your value hold You’re made the drudge of “BRITISH GOLD.”

Now tariff low, or tariff high; ’Tis plain, is all right in your “eye”; For the consumer pays the SHOT, Whether at home or foreign bought. Attention; now, ye toiling hoards Ballots must be our conquering swords, And until the decisive day We’ll buy and lie, just as we may. (OVER)
Then when the "gold bugs" camp is found,
We'll fight them on their chosen ground.
We'll ransack hell the same as they
For means and ways, to steal the day.
We would be honest if we could
And live with gold in blissful mood,
But "golden rules" we cannot trust,
And so must give back thrust for thrust.
They can agree and as one man
Carry out a chosen plan.
Now if we cannot do the same
Our fate is sealed; we lose the game.
The "gold god" laughs while silver scowls,
And threateningly sends forth its growls,
For has not it as much the right,
The home and nation's hopes to blight,
By gambling with the "people's pence".
A debt on labor's expense.
O, Protection; you spoiled child
You drive the parties crazy wild,
You advertise the "nation sold,"
To Johnny Bull, for "British gold;"
Or through a bargain lately made,
Sold, gone. By the way of "Free Trade."
O, America! Hast thou a den
Of devils, in the form of men,
Who "Arnold" like for "British gold,"
Have "fair America's" labor sold?
Sold into bondage, toil and pain,
To give to Shylock, o'er the main?
"Queen of the world," "child of the skies,"
Art thou among the so-called wise,
To give consent to traitorous man
The sale of thyself o'er again?
Take down those titles from thy brow
And put instead, the lion's paw.
A debt for unborn babes to pay,
A drain on life by night and day,
A ball and chain of money made,
A silver hilt, a golden blade,
A bond or note that pays no tax,
A politician, soft as wax.
What else does "freedom's soil" grow
That devils only dare to sow.
But hark! An angel voice we hear;
Saying to Labor, cheer, boy, cheer.
Look! Read over Shylock's ground,
ALL metals "WEIGHED, and WANTING," found.
So far as metals can produce
A general and widespread abuse.
The "ship of state" can managed be,
By gold or silver, one to three.
When once the people grant, the game,
Through "tit or tat," twill be the same.
"Intrinsic worth" and metal "base,"
"Sound money" and "good for its face,"
The cunning Shylock heralds loud
And laughing, leads the silly crowd.
Tis said there is no room to spare,
Where women wrestle by the hair;
So, 'tis not strange that metals fight
And pound each other left and right,
When each aspires to take the lead
Only, to satisfy its greed.
In times of greatest need you fled
TREACHEROUS METALS EVERY TIME;
Therefore curses on your head,
Through coming age and every clime.
Cursed be your memory left behind
To earth's remotest day,
Because you did on mortals bind
A blinding, dazzling sway;
That drove the laborer to despair
And his employer to curse and swear.
Fight on, fight on, you "metal gods,"
Until you're both beneath the sods,
Your desolating power gone
And FIAT MONEY; left alone.
Don't those men know who scorn "fiat,"
That METALS, help them to get FAT,
And in a way that's ever bad,
And making labor crazy mad?
Now "FIAT BILLS," no promise bear,
Nor for the metals have a cure.
The GOVERNMENT STAMP makes it all RIGHT
And always gladdens, labor's sight.
"Shylock" will live and "hoolie flow,"
And lobby money be the "go,"
In dealings between man and man
But BETWEEN NATIONS, never can.
From east to west, from pole to pole
While age on age unceasing roll,
The MONEY OF THE WORLD SHALL BE;
The people's choice, not one to three.
They'll say what silly fools were they,
(Our fathers of a former day)
To let the few their money hold
Of TREACHEROUS silver and of gold.
Two more facts and then I'm done,
No nation 'neath sun glorious sun,
That then shall owe outside itself
A debt; demanding worldly pelf.
No "Shylock" then with sordid soul,
Shall the people's, wealth control.
For "Freedom's sons" shall understand,
How in "FINANCE," to command
Their "medium;" in trade or sale
That shall in no way change or fail.
The fool has spoke, the fool has heard;
Now dare you criticise each word,
And show through reason and common sense
FIAT WON'T REIGN, THREE GENERATIONS hence.

PHIAT'S PHOOL,
Sillytown, Crazy Co.
(State of) Nonsense.
