Scary. I was 18 and knew nothing about the shop
I was just a kid. Regulators - 1st job.
Makes the windows go up and now.
Greasy job. Gloves + arm sleeve for protection some were manual + others electrical.
We riveted it on.
Did this job 2 or 3 yrs.

It took 3 days to break in + there were 4 of us doing the job on 4 door cars.
I did the front door driver side.

I have a twin brother.

I told my dad I was going to get a job
I put one suit to put in my application.
When we hired in they just picked you out of the group of 10 in the room.

I only remember one from that group.

holidays + Strikes.

In 1976 - a day strike
1979 - a couple day strike.

I stayed in TRIM for 24 yrs. as utility
Now I'm in Sanitation and am a Booth Cleaner.

Had confined space training, lockout.
coordinator training.

Utility takes care of absentees. So you had a different job everyday and that kept me from being bored.

I like glass best. You worked together and had young people like myself.

Regulator job changed from big metal to plastics.

As I matured the plant matured.

Health & Safety -

I was a booth cleaner for 3 1/2 yrs.
They had air blowers?

Booths - Paint falls into water -

We put down soap, and mow it

Then we

Good Boss - They left me alone to do my job.
and I left them alone.

Name change - We always called it Fisher Party

MUSIC - was loud & killed time sometimes others didn't like it - The boss came around and turned it down.

How about after lunch -

Most of us did our job -
