

GRUBBING BUNKERS

by S. J. PAUL

Head Greenkeeper, Belvoir Park Golf Club, Belfast

IN the past, most greenkeepers and their staff have had the laborious task of keeping bunkers in order by grubbing them by hand. This job is usually done by using draw-back grubbers, a back-aching job taking up a lot of time.

I find that when a man starts in the morning to grub bunkers he does the first few well, but as the day goes on, the work being so laborious, the last few bunkers are not done so well. The result is that before long the whole operation has to start again.

I would like to pass on a tip which saves both time and our backs.

Machines are doing more and more jobs on the course and I can recommend another one called The Rotavator. As you know this machine has been used for years by market gardeners and horticulturists.

There are several types but the one I prefer has its rotavating tines on an extended arm at the front. This type is called the Versatiller Mk. IV. When in use one can grub a bunker in a matter of minutes, and the extended arm enables the operator to do the banks of the bunker with ease. The machine is small and light and can be pulled from bunker to bunker as easily as a caddy car.

If the operation is properly organised two men can comfortably grub and level off with a rake all the bunkers on an 18-hole course in two days. Those who are plagued with weeds in their bunkers will find that regular use of this machine will keep them at bay.

The saving of time and labour makes the Versatiller a good investment for any club.

It can also be put to a few other uses on the course. When relaying a green it can be used to break up the soil below the turf instead of digging by hand and when riddling compost it can be used to break up the compost like a compost-shredder.
