Healthfoods for greens and tees.

It's not easy keeping golf greens and tees naturally healthy and ready for play 365 days a year.

The Floranid range of high performance slow release fertilisers can help.

Help your Turf

Their concentrated balanced analysis give long term, all round feeding with both healthy root and leaf growth.

Help your Team

With their high slow release content, even high nitrogen inputs can be safely applied in only two applications per year. Less product to handle, less time spent applying the fertiliser.

Help Yourself

Because the slow release nitrogen in Floranid is released by a combination of temperature and moisture it can be applied when you want to use it. If it's cold it will wait for warmer weather. If it's too dry it will wait for rain.

No leaching in winter, no scorching in summer.

Floranid is safe to use when you want to use it.

Floranid®

The Floranid range - it puts you back in control

Floranid is a BASF trade mark.

BASF United Kingdom Limited,
Fertiliser Department, Lady Lane, Hadleigh, Ipswich, IP7 6BQ. Tel: (0473) 822531.

BASF Group.
Greenkeepers to the Rescue

Sheer mindless vandalism by a group said to represent animal rights campaigners, have dug up all but four of the eighteen greens at Fairhaven Golf Club near Lytham St. Annes.

The highly organised desecration of the beautifully kept greens, was done at night with gardening forks and spades in a so-called protest, by members of the Animal Resistance Group, against the Poultry Association, who were holding their annual conference in Blackpool.

The Secretary at Fairhaven Golf Club, Mr. Brian Hartley, told Golf Greenkeeping it was impossible to put a figure on the damage caused to the course, though thanks to the help immediately offered by neighbouring clubs at Royal Lytham St. Annes Old Links and Lytham Green Drive, most of the initial repair work had been completed within three days.

Greenkeepers from the three neighbouring courses joined Head Greenkeeper George Lloyd and the Fairhaven staff to repair up all over the greens to bring the course back to a playable state, though during the winter months much more will need to be done with top dressing and re-turfing to return Fairhaven to its usual immaculate condition.

Why Fairhaven was chosen to highlight these criminal protests against battery chicken farming is hard to understand. Perhaps it was because there was an announcement in the conference programme that a round of golf was available at Fairhaven for those delegates seeking a break from the weekend deliberations, though according to Mr. Hartley it was not an organised competition, simply the availability of the facilities for a small group to play golf.

Greenkeepers nationwide were horrified when news of the appalling damage to the fine putting surfaces was announced in the national press and it was not surprising the club had such instant offers of help from the greenkeeping staff of nearby courses.

Play continued immediately after the greens were dug up on the Friday night by cutting temporary putting surfaces, so the weekend competitions could take place and it is to the credit of the staff that they refused to bow down to the actions of what they consider to be the criminally insane.

Next year the Open Championship is due to be played over 200 acres is an almost impossible task regardless of the finance set aside for security fencing, electronic surveillance or manpower.

It is a sad fact of life that action groups, who invariably represent minority interests believe the only way they can make their mark is to cause damage and distress to innocent victims.

Their ideals would appear to be summed up in a recent piece of graffiti seen painted on the wall of a derelict building near a red brick University.

It read: 'Votes in the ballot box achieve nothing'.
THE GREENKEEPERS TEAM
Winners of the 1987 Kubota Golf Challenge

Left to right:
Standing: Philip Wentworth (North Hants G.C.), Richard Barker (Longcliffe G.C.), Mike Sheehan (Capt.) (Mere G.C.C.), Ivan Toon (Moor Hall G.C.)
Sitting: Edwin West (Broadstone G.C.), Ray Howlett (Cheshunt G.C.), Melvin Guy (South Leeds G.C.), Neil Whittaker (Woburn G.C.)

Do you think of Watermation as Europe's leading TURF IRRIGATION CONTRACTOR the one with systems in all the best places?
Quite right — WE ARE

Did you also know we are now Europe's leading MANUFACTURER OF TURF IRRIGATION EQUIPMENT?
Right again — WE ARE

No need to look any further, we can provide you with everything you need for your turf irrigation.
Telephone us on Woking (04862) 70303 or 21009 for our catalogue

WATERMATION LTD., Monument Way E., Woking, Surrey GU21 5LY. Telex 859224 FLEXON G.
Telephone Woking (04862) 70303/21009 or Stirling (0786) 70252, or Dublin (0001) 760964 or Paris (010 331) 47 06 04 19
The Kubota Golf Challenge.

In this year’s Kubota Golf Challenge played on October 12th and 13th at the Belfry, the greenkeepers swept all before them, for their third successive victory.

Young and fit, from a healthy outdoor life, they brushed aside the less athletic stewards by six matches to two in the semi-finals before overcoming the guile of the secretaries in the final. The margin was 5½ to 2½ and the greenkeepers were always in control, losing only the last two matches.

The Fourth Estate, represented by the golf writers, duly finished fourth, finding the combination of a wet and windy Brabazon course, a woman team member and stewards intent on dispensing defeat rather than hospitality too much to cope with. At least they had run the Secretaries, twice winners of the event, close in the fourth, finding the combination of a wet and windy Brabazon by the golf writers, duly finished fourth.

Out on the course, however, where it mattered, there was only one team member breaking down on the 13th at the Belfry, the greenkeepers swept all before them, losing only the last two matches.

The Fourth Estate, represented by the golf writers, duly finished fourth, finding the combination of a wet and windy Brabazon course, a woman team member and stewards intent on dispensing defeat rather than hospitality too much to cope with. At least they had run the Secretaries, twice winners of the event, close in the fourth, finding the combination of a wet and windy Brabazon by the golf writers, duly finished fourth.

The Kubota Golf Challenge.

GRAND FINAL 1st Tee (Brabazon Course)

Greenkeepers v. Secretaries

MATCH RESULTS:

Melvin Guy (5) halved against Elliott Proctor (3) (South Leeds G.C.) (Northumberland Union G.C.)
Richard Barker (6) beat 38.2 Bob Abercromby (7) (Longcliffe G.C.) (Woodhall Spa)
Mike Sheehan (6) beat 7&6 Ronnie Luckman (8) (Mere G.C.G.C.) (East Devon G.C.)
Ray Howlett (8) beat 2 up Colin Desmond (9) (Chessire Hunt G.C.G.C.) (Knott End G.C.)
Edwin West (6) beat 1 hole Lou Hatton (9) (Broadstone G.C.) (Unattached)
Ivan Toon (9) beat 58.3 John Crowther (10) (Moor Hall G.C.) (A.G.C.G.C.)
Philip Wentworth lost by 2 holes Jim Coutts (11) (North Hampshire G.C.) (Manings Heath G.C.)
Neil Whittaker (15) lost 28.1 Ray Hill (15) (Woburn G.C.) (St. Ives G.C.)

GREENKEEPERS WON 5½ to 2½

Greenkeepers v. Stewards

MATCH RESULTS:

Richard Barker (5) lost 38.2 Roy Mobbis (12) (Longcliffe G.C.) (Wortleybury G.C.)
Melvin Guy (5) beat 38.2 Pat McGreavey (13) (South Leeds G.C.) (Chipping Sodbury G.C.)
Mike Sheehan (6) beat 58.4 Tony Caldeira (13) (Mere G.C.) (Redditch G.C.)
Ray Howlett (7) beat 38.2 Harry Roberts (15) (Chessire Hunt G.C.) (Shire-Hampton Park G.C.)
Ivan Toon (9) lost to 38.2 Mike Moffat (16) (Moor Hall G.C.) (Upton-by-Chester G.C.)
Edwin West (9) beat 58.3 Roger Gregory (18) (Broadstone G.C.) (Southwick Park G.C.)
Philip Wentworth (14) beat 38.2 Bill Ireland (18) (North Hampshire G.C.) (South Beds G.C.)
Neil Whittaker (15) beat 2 up Lawrence Tippet (18) (Woburn G.C.) (Churston G.C.)

GREENKEEPERS WON 6 to 2

COSFORD GOLF LANDSCAPES

DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, EXTENSIONS, ALTERATIONS, IRRIGATION, DRAINAGE, ADVISORY SERVICE, FREE COMPETITIVE ESTIMATES.

TEL: ALBRIGHTON (090722) 4248

Turf Grass Diseases

The onset of winter is the time when the greenkeeper must keep a constant vigilance over his greens to spot and diagnose the first symptoms of disease.

The latest edition of an excellent publication from the Sports Turf Research Institute entitled "Turf Diseases", defines a disease as a harmful deviation from the normal functioning of physiological processes caused by a pathogenic organism.

Both bacteria and viruses can cause diseases in turf, but they are considered to be relatively unimportant compared to the fungi organisms.

In the introduction, author Neil Baldwin says much new information has come to light since the first booklet was published in 1979 and this new information and the advice for treatment is included in the 40 pages.

As would be expected Fusarium Patch occupies the first pages in the book as the most common and most damaging disease to affect putting surfaces. The small brown or orange circular spots appearing on the green surface, are the first visible symptoms. They can increase rapidly both in size and number to produce patches of dead grass, both in fine turf and particularly on poa annua greens.

It is suggested the best preventative measures are mechanical rather than chemical. Greens should be adequately drained, to amend the surface and aeration with the addition of a sandy based top dressing to make the surface less moisture retentive.

There are now a number of products on the market to treat Fusarium Patch once the first signs appear. During the winter months when growth is slow the contact fungicides such as chlorothalonil, iprodione, vinclozolin, and quinozoline, provide good control, though many of these products are expensive.

A total of eighteen turf grass diseases, which will cover almost all those known to the British Greenkeeper are described in detail, together with the visible symptoms, conditions in which the disease will thrive and measures and treatments to relieve the problem. There are also eight colour plates for instant identification of Fusarium, Take-All, Red Thread, Dollar Spot, Fairy Rings, and Damping Off.

This essential publication for any greenkeeper can be obtained from the Sports Turf Research Institute at Bingley St. Ives, priced £2.50.
NEWS ROUND-UP

PEOPLE, PRODUCTS AND DEVELOPMENTS
IN THE GOLF COURSE INDUSTRY

Nature Conservationists meet golfers on their own ground

To any greenkeeper, the tranquility and beauty of the golf course is as much a part of the game as the challenge and competition it offers. Yet, how many greenkeepers paused to consider the vital role they played in preserving and safeguarding the important wildlife habitats of this country?

To raise money for the British Wildlife Appeal, the British Wildlife National Golf Classic, is set to 'tee off' in January 1988, and some 500 golf clubs and 70,000 golfers are expected to participate. Club members will be invited to take part in their individual Club competitions between January and July 1988, with the winners progressing to one of nine regional finals being held around the country. Regional finalists will then go on to play in the Women's Professional Golf Association Pro-Am to be held in September.

Entrants will be asked to donate a fee of £5.00 and this, together with all monies raised by the event, will be used to support the British Wildlife Appeal in its fight for Britain's countryside. The Appeal, aims to raise £10 million by 1990 to protect and maintain the natural habitats of Britain's wildlife - a cause which any greenkeeper would be proud to support.

Further details on this project can be obtained from:
Lynda Cowan,
Tryangle Management International Limited,
6 Church Street,
Altrincham,
Cheshire WA14 4DW

New diesel rough cut mower from Cushman

A new 3-wheel model Cushman Front Line mower has been launched by the American manufacturers, OMC Lincoln.

Powered by a 21.5 hp three-cylinder diesel engine, both the engine and remote coolant radiator are fitted with rubber-isolation mounts to minimise vibration. The 806 has manual steering and is capable of zero turning radius with an outside turning circle of just 150 inches with a 72-inch mower deck.

Other available attachments include the Cushman Grass Caddy for picking up clippings, a 51-inch two-stage commercial snow blower, a 54-inch snow blade, 60-inch sweeper brush and a 60-inch flail mower.

Contact:
U.K. Cushman dealers for further information

Top Ten American Golf Courses

The November issue of Golf Digest has announced the biennial rankings of America's 100 greatest golf courses, and 86 have managing greenkeepers who are members of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America (GCSAA).

According to the magazine the criteria for selection are based on seven categories: shot value, design balance, memorability, aesthetics, tradition, conditioning and resistance to scoring.

The leading courses in the conditioning category are:
(1) Augusta National G.C.
(2) Muirfield Village G.C.
(3) Oakmont C.C.
(4) Shoal Creek
(5) Cypress Point Club
(6) Winged Foot G.C. (west)
(7) Seminole G.C.
(8) Scioto C.C.
(9) San Francisco G.C.
(10) Los Angeles C.C. (north)

Planning a new irrigation system for next season —
choose from the very best of equipment and service:

Prime Watermen Ltd
NEW GOLF MAGAZINE TO BE LAUNCHED NEXT YEAR
A new monthly golf publication is due to be launched in the Spring of 1988, with a £1 million pound budget. Published by the Peterborough based Pursuit Publishing Company, the magazine is to be called 'TODAY'S GOLFER' and will compete with the established golf publications such as Golf World, Golf Monthly and Golf Illustrated. The lucrative golf magazine market is already saturated with a great number of free regional publications piled high in the clubhouses each month for members to take away. This new golf monthly will be sold off the bookstalls and comes from the publishers of Angling Times, the leading group in the fishing magazine market, and is aimed at the amateur player.

Bill Robertson, currently the Editor of Golf Illustrated will head the editorial team and moves into the Editor's chair on 30th November.

Five Weeks Work - Without Pay!
Would any golf course care to offer a five week working experience to a keen, 6' 3" German Schoolboy from Hamburg, who has set his heart on joining the profession? Seventeen-year-old Franz Bach lives alongside a new course at Grambek, owned by his family where he spends all his spare time assisting on the course. He is already experienced in many aspects of golf course maintenance, but wants to come to Britain during his summer holidays to work alongside greensstaff, particularly on green's maintenance.

Franz is not looking for any payment, though if a club would care to make some contribution to his living costs, he no doubt, would be very grateful. This is an excellent opportunity for a club to benefit from the services of a most willing extra hand during the height of the season and at the same time give him valuable experience in our greenkeeping techniques.

Golf is steeped in the family. His sister plays for Hamburg and his Mother has represented West Germany.

Offer to either the Editor of Golf Greenkeeping (0937 63181 or through a London based friend of the family Mr. John Schouw, 39, Holly Tree Close, Inner Park Road, Wimbledon, SW19 Tel: (01 686) 4411.

Polymark Beaver Take-Over
F. H. Tomkins P.L.C., the industrial management company, has acquired Polymark Beaver Equipment Ltd., manufacturers of professional and commercial grass cutting equipment.

Tomkins already owns Hayters P.L.C. and this new acquisition will compliment the current range of Hayters' rotary grass cutters. It will significantly strengthen Tomkins' position in the professional lawnmower market and further establish its products overseas, particularly in America.

Recently, Tomkins have invested more than £1m in improved production facilities at Hayters' Bishop's Stortford factory and this will benefit the combination of Hayter and Beaver and aid the strengthening of distribution arrangements.

Greg Hutchings, Chief Executive of Tomkins, said, "We are very pleased to be making this infill acquisition which will complement and extend our already strong position in the lawnmower market. It clearly demonstrates our commitment to developing and expanding our existing business".

F. H. Tomkins recently made unsuccessful overtures to Britain's biggest grass cutting company - Ransomes Sims & Jefferies, and this take-over of Polymark Beaver confirms their determination to gain a sizeable piece of the turf maintenance market.
They are at it again, as you have no doubt noticed. I refer to professional golfers. In times gone, they designed the world's earliest golf courses. Then, as the purses got bigger, they concentrated on their own game while Colt, Alison, Morrison, Simpson, Mackenzie, Mackenzie Ross and many others, all amateurs, developed a profession and set out a few rules on how to do it best. Now, just when the purses, the prizes, the sponsorships, and the rewards for endorsing somebody's tee shirt have anything up to five noughts on the price tag, the pros are back with a vengeance and a few more noughts are being added to the price of today's new lay-outs.

Well, it's a free country with a market economy and we all like to see our lads doing well even if we ourselves pay for it in the end. But I am bothered by those extra noughts and by some of the reasons for them appearing on the bill. There is no need for me to declare an interest as we of riper years can rise entirely above all that is petty, envious or malicious.

Let's first take a look at where all these extra noughts on the cost of today's golf courses are coming from.

First of all, the top names in any sort of job do not come cheap. The sportsman probably costs so you do not need me to tell you that those mounds of earth all over the place cost 200,000m$ \times £0.25 = £50,000 to put there. Another quick calculation suggests that when we spread all that top-soil out again, we shall be spending another £50,000 on top of the first. And now we can start building the golf course. So it's no wonder the green-fee has to be £25 and upwards and you can't always get a comfortable round.

But don't rush off to get your clubs yet. There is more - much more. All those exotic earthworks have got to be maintained because they don't really belong in their new situation and do not easily adapt to our native routine. I am indebted to Donald Steel, current Chairman of the British Association of Golf Course Architects who ferreted out the vital figures while he was covering the Ryder Cup at Muirfield Village for 'The Sunday Telegraph'. The reason, his article concluded Muirfield Village's condition was so perfect is its maintenance budget of £850,000 a year, including salaries for 43 greenkeepers to give it tender loving care.'

See what I mean? A whole new golf course every twelve months. He also said that it was a mistake to compare any aspect of American and British golf. I am not so sure about that if they are attacking us in our own back-yard although the general premise is very true. It has taken at least fifty years to get rid of the image of golf as a rich man's game. Then just as it is finally shed, along come super-luxe developments which risk putting off the whole of the new wave of enthusiasts. What we really need is more developments along...
Another sobering thought occurs to me - this anonymous character in the background who draws the plans and instructs the contractor between the annual visits of his overlords. Who is the real designer? The pro? Or the chap who sweats it out on the site? The wheel has come full circle. When James Braid or Harry Vardon used to lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation... And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.

JOHNNY MILLER

lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation...

And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.

Another sobering thought occurs to me - this anonymous character in the background who draws the plans and instructs the contractor between the annual visits of his overlords. Who is the real designer? The pro? Or the chap who sweats it out on the site? The wheel has come full circle. When James Braid or Harry Vardon used to lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation...

And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.

Another sobering thought occurs to me - this anonymous character in the background who draws the plans and instructs the contractor between the annual visits of his overlords. Who is the real designer? The pro? Or the chap who sweats it out on the site? The wheel has come full circle. When James Braid or Harry Vardon used to lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation...

And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.

Another sobering thought occurs to me - this anonymous character in the background who draws the plans and instructs the contractor between the annual visits of his overlords. Who is the real designer? The pro? Or the chap who sweats it out on the site? The wheel has come full circle. When James Braid or Harry Vardon used to lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation...

And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.

Another sobering thought occurs to me - this anonymous character in the background who draws the plans and instructs the contractor between the annual visits of his overlords. Who is the real designer? The pro? Or the chap who sweats it out on the site? The wheel has come full circle. When James Braid or Harry Vardon used to lay out a golf course in a day's visit, it was the greenkeeper or local contractor who had to make it work afterwards. And very little credit he got for it. It was not such a big deal in those days. But now that a new project needs the full publicity treatment to create maximum 'impact' why do we never hear the name of the man who is doing the real work while the big name poses for 'pix' holding a spade, of all unlikely implements. They simply don't use them any more. (If you find this scenario a trifle far-fetched, turn back to a recent issue of this magazine for confirmation...

And still another thing. If the invisible man is clever enough to translate a few lordly waves of the hand in between air-port transfers, why does he not put his own signature on the result? He certainly deserves as big a medal as the part-time pro. Most ghost writers in golfing literature (With one possible exception) get a mention in such titles as "The Day I won the Open" by Fred Hawtree with Joe Bloggs'.
Two new guides to the golf courses in Britain will hit the bookstalls in time for the Christmas stocking.

The AA Guide to Golf Courses in Britain and the PGA - Golf Guide - Where to Play and Where to Stay

Price wise, the best value for money is undoubtedly the PGA Guide, offering 364 pages of information for £3.95. The AA Guide has 268 pages and costs £7.95.

This year’s eleventh issue of Where to Play and Where to Stay contains a wealth of information not only listing every golf course in England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands, but each section of the country is introduced by a leading provincial golf writer who has used his local knowledge to introduce the ‘little gems’ in his region. The golf courses that may not be to championship standard but are nevertheless a joy to play.

So many golfers set off on a golfing holiday with only the big names in mind and miss out a nearby 18 holes of golfing paradise known only to the locals.

Discussing Barnham Broom he says the course is notable for its rivers and lakes, some of which are quite deep. “The last time I was there I heard a bit of a commotion behind the reeds in one of the ponds. I supposed it was a swan, but to my surprise a diver, fully equipped for the job started to emerge from the water. He threw a bag of balls onto the steeply sloping bank and there was nothing he could do as they rolled, one by one, back into the deep muddy water!”

Similar articles prefacing the sections are included from such notable journalists as John Drake from the Yorkshire Evening Post, golf writers John Reece in the West Country, Bob Jenkins of the Scottish Sunday Post, Brian Barron, Northampton Chronicle and Echo and Chris Smart, Welsh correspondent for the Western Mail.

This golf guide with a forward by Europe’s Ryder Cup Captain, Tony Jacklin is excellent value for money and an essential reference for any golfer tempted to stray from his home course.

Although the AA Guide lists the British Golf Course alphabetically it was puzzling to discover they have completely ignored those in Northern Ireland, particularly as the main article, by that doyen of golf writers Peter Doberainer, occupies nine pages telling the reader what a marvellous golfing experience awaits one in the Emerald Isle.

Perhaps the AA are producing a supplement for their members. If not there is always Where to Play and Where to Stay to refer to for details!

Written applications with full details of age, experience and qualifications etc. to:

The Secretary,
LINGFIELD PARK GOLF CLUB
Lingfield Park, Racecourse Road,
Lingfield, Surrey, RH7 6PQ

ENVILLE GOLF CLUB

Require a
Head
Greenkeeper

Applications are invited from experienced persons with suitable qualifications and a thorough knowledge of course management and machinery maintenance, combined with proven man management ability

Written applications with full C.V. to:

The Secretary Manager
ENVILLE GOLF CLUB,
Highgate Common,
Enville,
Stourbridge,
West Midlands DY7 5BN
Golf Course Management (Richmond) Limited

HEAD GREENKEEPER

Required to work in conjunction with golf architect and construction contractor on development of 54 hole course in France (Paris)

Applicants must be fully experienced in all aspects of greenkeeping and have a thorough knowledge of modern course machinery and irrigation systems with the ability to control and supervise staff.

Excellent salary, conditions and housing plus re-location expenses.

Applications in writing with full c.v. to:

Gilbert Lloyd,
Golf Course Management (Richmond) Limited
Richmond Park, Roehampton Gate,
Priory Lane, London S.W.15 5JR
Telephone: 01 878 8432

---

SICKLEHOLME GOLF CLUB

require a

HEAD GREENKEEPER

Applicants must be of proven ability and fully experienced in all aspects of course management and maintenance, have a thorough knowledge of modern machinery and be able to supervise and control staff.

Salary negotiable.

No accommodation

Applications in writing, stating age, experience and qualifications to:

The Secretary,
SICKLEHOLME GOLF CLUB,
Bamford,
Sheffield S30 2BH

---

HESSLE GOLF CLUB

Invite applications for the post of

HEAD GREENKEEPER

Situated in a pleasant rural area approximately 7 miles west of Hull.

Large 18 hole parkland course opened 12 years ago has matured rapidly under the current retiring Head Greenkeeper to one of the finest in the area.

Applicants should be fully experienced in all aspects of greenkeeping including machinery maintenance and be capable of controlling and motivating staff.

Excellent modern equipment and facilities.

Salary package negotiable

No accommodation available

Apply in writing with full C.V. to:

The Secretary,
HESSLE GOLF CLUB,
Westfield Road, Cottingham,
Hull HU16 5YL

---

BATH GOLF CLUB

(Sham Castle - 18 hole course)

Invite applications for the post of

HEAD GREENKEEPER

Applicants must have full knowledge of all aspects of greenkeeping and a full knowledge of machinery maintenance.

Good commencing salary

Apply in writing giving qualifications and experience to date to:

The Secretary,
BATH GOLF CLUB
Sham Castle,
North Road,
Bath BA2 6JG
Twice the machine... ...and 'honest' with it!

We believe that our experience based on over 100 years of research and development has produced probably the finest lawn mower grinding machines available today. Our customers tell us the "EXPRESS DUAL" is a really 'honest' machine that's built to do the job and do it well! It will successfully grind cylinders 'in-situ' or 'separately', just as efficiently and just as accurately and it will keep you going when repair work builds up.

THE MASTER is a heavy duty lawn mower grinding machine particularly suitable for gang mowers and rebladed cylinders.

THE ANGLEMASTER has been specially designed and developed for bottom blade grinding.

...there's no substitute for experience!

ATTERTON & ELLIS LTD
Iron Works, Haverhill, Suffolk CB9 8QH. Tel: Haverhill (0440) 702312/3

Manufacturers of fine lawn mower grinding machines for over 100 years.

Berkhamsted Greenkeeper returns to his first course to win the Jacobsen Tournament

The third annual Jacobsen National Greenkeepers' Tournament played over the Hunstanton links in Norfolk last month again produced a nail biting finish with three players tying on 36 Stableford points.

The winner, first assistant Gerald Bruce, a four handicap golfer at Berkhamsted made sure of the trophy at the first extra hole in the play off by sinking his putt for a birdie at the par four first hole.

The two others in contention, Alan Patterson (11) an 18 year old apprentice greenkeeper from Powerfront, the delightful seaside course on the Solway Firth and Andrew Toomey (13) Head Greenkeeper at the Rochford Hundred Golf Club in Essex needed three extra holes before Patterson emerged as runner-up.

For Gerald Bruce, his triumph was the more memorable because Hunstanton was the course where, under the tuition of Head Greenkeeper Jimmy Reed, he served his apprenticeship before moving to Berkhamsted to become the first assistant. The son of a police inspector at Kings Lynn, Gerald's success has delighted the members of his new club.

The Captain of Berkhamsted Golf Club, Mr. M. J. Howard, has issued his congratulations to Gerald Bruce in a letter to members and wished him well for his forthcoming educational trip to Houston, Texas.

The Jacobsen final has now become an established fixture over the demanding Hunstanton course, where the hospitality and welcome to greenkeepers nationwide could not be bettered. The club professional, John Carter ran the tournament from start to finish with a degree of organisation to match any major golf event. The course was presented in immaculate condition by Jimmy Reed, despite torrential rain over the previous three days which many thought would make the links unplayable.

His greens, naturally, cut with the latest diesel Greensking fitted with the Turf Groomer, were like putting on polished glass. Certainly the fastest greens any of the competitors had seen this year. Over dinner Jimmy said he was cutting at 3/32nds, every day during the summer, but might raise the cutters slightly and reduce the mowing to three times a week as the winter progressed. If this is his greens maintenance programme, then for this course it cannot be faulted.

At the presentation dinner in the Hunstanton Club House, Jacobsen's General Manager for the UK, Mr. Chris Smith, said it was the company's intention to continue this tournament which has proved so popular both in the preliminary rounds and at the final. "It is our Intention to make everyone a winner with Jacobsen" he added.

Gerald Bruce, in addition to his trophy and voucher for £100, has been invited to represent greenkeepers from all over the country at the GCSAA Convention to take place in Houston, Texas in February 1988. He will also be able to participate in the series of seminars, lectures and debates, which are part of the seven day programme in conjunction with the largest indoor turf exhibition in the world.

If he takes his golf clubs with him there will certainly be an invitation to play some of the excellent courses outside Houston, that is if he has the time to fit in a round between a host of other invitations likely to come his way.

This year the Jacobsen final produced a number of new faces among the competitors as well as a few 'old stagers' and no disrespect is intended to Bob Plain, and Gordon Payne! Once more the luxuries of the Caley Hall Motel were made available to all the players kept in strict order by mine host the hospitable Olive King, whose stature and girth is a living example of the delights of fine living.

Breakfast at the Caley is only surpassed by the dinner at night, closely followed by the entertainment to suit all tastes.

At the time I was working in the printing industry and over several months saw this 332 page book put together. It is a complete history of the game of golf from its earliest beginnings to around the start of the first World War, with pages and pages of the most detailed research, into not only the game itself, but the development of the clubs and balls and the personalities of the earliest exponents of the game.

Now, nineteen years later, David Stirk, one of the leading historians of golf, is the author of a magnificent new book entitled ‘Golf - The History of an Obsession’. This time, David Stirk has reviewed the game from its commencement in Scotland or maybe Holland, perhaps China, though it is doubtful whether one country of origin had any influence on the other. This beautifully illustrated reference book takes golf through to the present day touching on clubs and balls, fashion changes for both men and women golfers, the growth of tournament golf embracing Tom Morris, father and son and of course the great Triumvirate, Vardon, Braid and J. H. Taylor. Finally the author discusses the Modern Game, the continuous year long, world-wide round of activity, with its megastars earning millions, supported by the hard working 'bit players', never likely to make a fortune but able to earn a comfortable living by graft, dedication and living out of a suitcase.

The book concludes with a chapter on the modern courses with superb double page colour illustrations of Turnberry, Cypress Point, Pebble Beach, Augusta and one of St. Andrews from the air, showing the course completely surrounded on three sides by the sea fringed by the most inviting stretch of golden sand any Thompson Holiday Guide would be proud of.

David Stirk, FRCS is a West Country Surgeon and a member at Westward Ho! He has twice won the Devon Open Championship and was runner up in the British Seniors Championship. As a student of golf history and a collector of golf memorabilia, no one has better qualifications to produce such a fascinating study of the game.

A quote from the opening chapter perfectly sums up the author's reasons for writing the book and the reader's justification for buying it.

"I have always been fascinated, not only by the game itself, but by the history of the sport. Given man's propensity for throwing, rolling and kicking balls, and hitting them with several bats, rackets, clubs and cues, the development of the notion of hitting a small stationary ball across turf, with a stick, for fun, was inevitable".

Replaced Them With Toro, The Top People's Choice!

Ask your Head Greenkeeper if he's totally happy with the performance and reliability of the sprinklers around your course. If there are doubts, call your nearest Toro Distributor for helpful professional advice. He will show you the range of Toro gear, driven sprinklers designed especially for golf course watering. He will tell you just how technically superior they are - how they can improve watering efficiency and just how simple it is to improve your existing system.

Top people's choice? You'll find Toro Sprinklers watering the sacred turf of St. Andrews, Centre and No. 1 Courts, at Wimbledon and the pitch at Wembley Stadium...

P.S. Toro make sprinklers to water greens, approaches, fairways and tees - putting areas too!
Greenkeepers Win Trip to Houston

More than 100 people attended the Institute of Groundsmanship's third annual Education and Training awards ceremony held in the main library of the Reform Club in London's Pall Mall on Friday 30th October 1987. Although more than 40 awards were made, highlight of the evening was the announcement of the winners of the 1987 Groundsman of the Year competition, organised by the Institute, sponsored by Scottish Agricultural Industries pic.

Greenkeepers won the two top prizes of a trip to the GCSAA Convention in Houston in February. Winner of the Young Groundsman of the Year title was 21-year-old Huw Morgan, Head Greenkeeper of Fairwood Golf Club, Swansea. He received a framed certificate, engraved crystal whisky decanter, as well as the top prize of an all-expenses-paid trip to Houston, Texas.

Winner of the Master Groundsman of the Year competition was Laurence Pithie (35), Golf Course Manager of the Minchinhampton Golf Club near Stroud, and runner-up in last year's competition. He received a similar prize.

Twenty-one year old Huw Morgan has been at Fairwood for two years and is responsible for the maintenance of the 147 acres parkland course, along with his staff of four.

Married, he enjoys all sports, but especially golf and football, and he is also a keen gardener. His father, Vivian, is Course Manager at the Pontadawe Golf Club.

Laurence Pithie (35), has been at his club since 1981 where he is responsible for two golf courses: one, on National Trust land, has to be run without any of the aids of modern sprays and chemicals, but at the other Mr. Pithie is free to use whatever modern devices the budget will allow! On this New Course Laurence has undertaken a number of major construction projects during 1987, including the addition of a lake.

Married with two young children, he has a famous next-door neighbour. The Minchinhampton Club borders on the estate of the Princess Royal at Tetbury. His hobbies and interests include, playing golf, badminton, football, travel photography and stamp collecting.

During his 1970-72 apprenticeship he gained all four City & Guilds certificates in greenkeeping, and last year successfully completed a correspondence course in golf course management.

New 3-wheel Drive Triplex from Triplex

Greenkeepers can now get 3-wheel drive on Jacobsen's Tri-King 1471. The new option gives golf course managers better traction and maneuverability for improved performance on slopes and in wet conditions.

Jacobsen's 3-wheel-drive option was developed after discussion with turf managers who said there was a definite need for 3-wheel drive for hill-climbing, side-slope mowing and traction in wet conditions.

The hydraulic motor on the rear steering wheel significantly improved traction performance. The 3-wheel-drive Tri-King is able to mow up slopes where other triplexes either slip, stop, or must raise their reels to get traction.

The new 3-wheel-drive option - together with other options such as 5- or 10-blade reels, grass catchers, grooved or solid front rollers, front micro-height adjusters, and traction wheel weights - lets greenkeepers set up the machine to match their conditions.

For more information, contact: Chris Smith, Jacobsen Division of Textron Bergen Way, Kings Lynn, Norfolk Tel: (0553) 763333
ARTIFICIAL GRASS

ASTROTURF Artifical Grass, PSA Ltd., Vorda Works, Highworth, Swindon, Wilts. SN6 7AJ. Tel: (0793) 764301. Contact: Mr. C. J. Sutton. (Tel: (01) 476 6321. Contact: W. W. Burrows & Co. Ltd., Boughton Quarry, Boughton, Northampton. Tel: (0903) 76241. Suppliers of Turf for both domestic and commercial purposes.)

DRAINAGE TUBES AND PIPES

W. T. BURDEN LTD., Mill Lane, Bramford, Ipswich, Suffolk IP8 4BZ. Tel: Ipswich (0473) 830492. Suppliers of Loams, Sports and Horticultural Dressings. (Boughton Quarry, Boughton, Northants. Tel: (0604) 847814. Suppliers of Turf for both domestic and commercial purposes.)

FERTILIZERS & TOP DRESSINGS

Fisons plc, for the comprehensive turf fertilizer range, and both bagged and bulk peat and peatbased top dressings, delivered nationwide. Professional Horticulture Department, Paper Mill Lane, Bramford, Ipswich, Suffolk IP6 4EZ. Tel: (0473) 850492. (Contact: W. T. Burden Ltd., 5 Vigo Place, Piccadilly, London, W1X 1AH. Tel: 07-134-2578. Design, supply and installation of a completely artificial grass system, specifically tuned to golf greens and tees.)

CONSULTANT AGRONOMISTS

MARTYN T. JONES, Consulting Agronomist in Landscape (Commemorative Plaques, Seat Plates, etc.)

GRASS MACHINE RANSOMES DISTRIBUTORS

BURROWS G.M. LTD., Wigan Road, Leyland, Lancs. PR5 2UE. Tel: (0772) 421778. Contact: Mr. J. G. Webster. (Tel: 03943-3344). Suppliers of Waterers Nurseries, Chobham, Woking, Surrey. Tel: (0903) 830492. Suppliers of Lagoon, Sports and Horticultural Dressings. (C. Martin & Co., 36 High Street, Market Harborough, Leics. LE16 7NL. Tel: (0903) 830492. Suppliers of Lagoon, Sports and Horticultural Dressings.)
Turf Rollers
- Hydrostatic Drive
- Forward and Reverse Transmission
- Ease of Operation
- Two Models
- Versatile
- Two for One Conversion

Sod Cutters (Mk II)
- Simple Lawn Replacement + Renovation
- Lightweight and Compact
- Ease of Operation
- Minimum Service
- Easy Transport and Storage
- Adjustable Handles
- Interchangeable Blades for Edging
- De-thatching + Shredding

The Brouwer Vac
- Economy
- Fast and Reliable
- Self Unloading
- Easy Access in Difficult Areas
- Efficient
- Optional Extension Hose
- 335 Cu. Ft. capacity

The Brouwer Reel Mower
- 3.5, and 7 Gang
- Fixed or Floating Head
- Lightweight
- High Stress Steel Frame
- Hydraulic or Manual Lift for ease of Operation
- Transportable
- 4, 5, 6 or 7 Bladed Reels
- Easy Hook Up
- Versatile System

Turfland
Complete Turf Technology
Dutton, Warrington, Cheshire WA4 4LL.

Turf Machinery
Tel: 09286-272 or 261

Turf Nurseries
Tel: 09286-340 or 336