CUSHMAN EAGLE'S debut at SUNTORY.

Greenkeepers with the new Cushman Eagle out on the course during the Suntory World Matchplay Championship at Wentworth.

GET THE FACTS RIGHT: JUST THE FACTS!

Last month we published an article on the Golfclub Beurberg following the editor's trip to Germany to meet Stewart Macintosh, (Note the spelling) the Lancastrian Greenkeeper in charge of this Southern Bavarian course.

During the course of the article's preparation, several letters were exchanged with Stewart to check the facts with the result that he has now written to say how pleased he was and that several of the club members who have read his copy were delighted to see their golf club featured.

Not so, concerning an article on Beurberg printed in Turf Management in September under the name of Lindsay Bransbury, another member of the press party sponsored by BASF.

For starters, lovely girl that Lindsay is, she committed the cardinal sin of spelling his name wrong - Stuart McIntosh (Could it have been the Scotch the night before?) Then, in discussing the need to incorporate finer quartz sand into the greens she suggests the size is from 0.3 to 3mm. Imagine putting over particles of 3mm. To add insult to injury the next line reads - 'a lot of phosphates have been used on greens and fairways' - No they have not.

But then, and this must be a classic, she suggests - 'at the height of the season Beurberg supports 1,000 - 1,300 rounds a day!' Assuming the matches are played from 7.00 a.m. to 7.00 p.m. to accommodate this number of players, they would have to tee off in three balls every one minute and 36 seconds and complete the eighteen holes in under 25 minutes. We all know the Germans are efficient but this is faster than Boris Becker can play tennis!

In a recent letter, Stewart, (note the spelling Lindsay) says 'What will people say when they read this. It made me feel a 'right Nana'.

To be fair the Turf Management article was professionally written, but Greenkeepers do get upset, with good reason, when the facts are wrong. Stick to Landscape writing Lindsay and leave the golf to the Greenkeepers.
A BREAKTHROUGH IN EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Following an initiative by the National Turfgrass Council's Education Committee, a major breakthrough has been achieved in education and training for the sportsturf industry.

A tripartite working party representing the Council, the IOG and the Lancashire College of Agriculture - headed by Barrie Dickinson, Chairman of the Council's Education Committee - has devised for a new Business and Technician Education Council (BTEC) National Diploma in Turf Science. Subject to approval, it will be offered by the Lancashire College for the first time in September 1987.

The syllabus is intended to provide a model for other colleges: its modular format, with compulsory and optional units, is meant to encourage the development of other courses leading to the BTEC National Diploma. Full- and eventually part-time courses, catering for the particular needs of all those employed in the industry, are envisaged.

The full-time three-year course has been developed for young people wishing to make a career in the turf science industry and to enable them, with experience, to hold posts of responsibility within local authority parks and recreation departments, golf courses and sports clubs. It contains a unique sandwich element which allows maximum integration between the college academic work and the highly practical industry it serves.

Two periods of industrial experience occupying one full year, usually in different aspects of sports turf, are included.

Established in 1894, the Lancashire College has a long and proud tradition catering for the particular needs of all those employed in the industry, are envisaged.

The Royal and Ancient states: "It is appreciated that the current prize limits of £150 or 350 U.S. dollars do not equate to the market exchange rates. It has, however, been decided to continue on this basis and use the same ratio."

For most club golfers who play in competitions of only one or two rounds, there will be a reduction in the value of prizes. For 36-hole competitions or less, the maximum prize will be £110 in Britain and Ireland.

There was previously no differentiation regarding the length of tournaments.

Sponsors will, in future, be allowed to pay the expenses on behalf of a player or team to compete in a handicap event approved by the governing body.

It will, however, no longer be permitted to win a prize of an expenses paid trip to take part in a golf competition.

The Royal and Ancient are making another attempt to ensure that the winner of a prize voucher does not handle any cash. In future the voucher may only be handed to a retailer in exchange for goods purchased and the retailer will send his bill to the committee for payment.

A player waiting reinstatement as an amateur may take part in a competition sponsored by commercial enterprises to promote golf to the public. There will be a reduction in the value of the prizes awarded.

The Mid West Friends of A.R.M.S. have recently rebuilt the Clubhouse and the group were encouraged to use the facility of the Golf Club groups to raise money to contribute to the fund. One of the first societies to use it. Special thanks are due to Don O'Leary, Club Secretary, for insisting this Charity Tournament be held at Filton, also to the Committee for allowing the players the courtesy of the course and for providing wine for the meal.

The Mid West Friends of A.R.M.S. Chairman Larry Williams and Filton Golf Club Vice Captain Peter Deadman officiated with the prizes and draw.

PRIZE LIMIT CHANGES FOR AMATEURS

The R & A in response to the increasing number of sponsored events used by commercial enterprises to promote their business through golf, have announced changes to the rules of amateur prize limits to take effect from 1st January next year.

The limit for a prize, in an event of more than two rounds, has gone up to £170, an increase of £20. This, however, applies only in Britain and Ireland. The rest of the world will be able to give prizes worth 400 dollars (£285), an increase of 50 dollars (£35) on present rates.
