Back in time looks back at cuttings of greenkeeping news from days gone-by. 2012 will be a landmark year, as it will be the centenary of Greenkeeping Associations, as well as 25 years since BIGGA was formed. Each month we will look back at the current month, but in a different year, from over the last hundred. This month we travel back to October 1982.

BGGA Chairman, Harry Herrington, of Lindrick Golf Club, was featured on the front cover, while the Association’s newly appointed President, Peter Alliss, wrote an article expressing his appreciation of the work of the country’s greenkeepers. Peter, who was elected for a three year period, also wrote of some of his personal dislikes on golf courses – daisies on the fairways and the need for good housekeeping around the course. He also called for some fresh thinking by both golf clubs and the Association to move the game forward.

The Letters page included contributions from Sid Arrowsmith, urging people to contribute articles to the magazine; Honorary BGGA Secretary and Treasurer, Walter Heeles, welcoming the magazine’s new Editor, John Lelean; and Bill Pile describing a problem with a hydraulic pipe on a greens machine.

Do you have any old artifacts from days gone-by? Perhaps your grandad was a greenkeeper and has something stowed away in the loft? Maybe an Association tie, or a journal? If so we would love to hear from you. We are particularly interested in the early part of the last century, but anything you have would be worth considering for future editions of this article.
