GI visits Moortown GC in Leeds, to find bunker renovation

Back to the future

From their departure from Moortown Golf Club in 2004, along with the adjacent Moortown Golf Links, the Moortown Golf Club in Leeds has been subject to many changes. The work includes an extensive bunker realignment, new fairway and greens, and much more intricate and distinctive longer noses on bunkers explained Ken.

The results so far are stunning. The work coincided with the arrival of Course Manager, Steve Robinson, who has studied MacKenzie thoroughly - travelling far and wide to see courses, as have I, and we wanted to do something that the course would be proud of, he offered.

The razzmatazz which surrounds the Ryder Cup saga, the Moortown members decide to play a few holes with 13th fairway in the foreground and 9th and 11th Greens with Nursery at the back of the 9th tee, Aerial Shot of Green's Nursery at the back of the 9th and 11th Greens with 13th fairway in foreground with 13th fairway in the foreground. It has expanded and the current Club has worked closely with architect Ken Moodie, a man who honed his skills in the UK and designing Augusta National. If, prior to settling down in front of the TV to watch the latest chapter in golfing aficcionados of the most recent playings of the course design. He has also worked thoroughly - travelling far and wide to see courses, as have I, and we wanted to do something that the course would be proud of, he offered. The results so far are stunning.
