MEMORIES ARE SHORT

If you are anything like me you are much too busy dealing with the here and now to have any time left to look back. I say this because if we did I'm sure we'd be shocked at what we put ourselves through, and what we put up with, in previous lives.

I can think of extended periods in the last dozen years when I've worked away from home, living in rented or B&B accommodation through the week, eating less than wholesomely and suffering the consequences of a poorly sprung mattress. Financially it was crippling and it was compounded by a long drive home on a Friday evening, followed by an early rise and the reverse journey on the Monday. The thing is I coped and had some very happy times in what were less than perfect circumstances.

The reason I mention it is that there are times now, when stuck in a traffic jam on my relatively short journey home, or I've forgotten to put the Chablis in the fridge that morning, that I think I'm the unluckiest bloke on the globe. The old me would have scoffed at such a lily-livered approach to life.

It's the same with BIGGA as an Association. I can recall in the mid-90s climbing the stairs to my attic office in the old rented building and having to charge down stairs again every time I wanted to print something off my computer or send a fax – no email in those days.

Nowadays we are in the superbly appointed BIGGA HOUSE, and the Editorial department has grown to incorporate an Assistant Editor which makes editing the magazine far less of a seat of the pants operation. Illnesses don't have to be postponed until an appropriate time slot becomes available any more.

Back then BTME had already established itself as a superb event, but compared to now it was a fraction of the size and the busiest day was quieter than the quietest day nowadays.

BIGGA was seen in some quarters as very much as a young upstart in the world of golf administration. Nowadays we punch our weight, have a voice within the game in the UK and talk with other organisations on a regular basis on matters of shared interest.

On a personal level I'm sure many of you would find the same if you thought back. I'm not saying it would be as stark as, "remember when we weren't even allowed in the clubhouse", although for some of you it may be the case, but there will be quite a number of improvements to your working life which have been introduced in recent times. Some of these will have been down to health and safety legislation but many will have come about as a result of your improved status within the club.

As I say, it does pay to think back on occasions, not just to recall how much we were capable of tolerating, but also to show just how much our lives have improved over the years.

OLD COURSE VOTED NUMBER ONE

The Old Course at St. Andrews has been awarded the accolade of the best golf course in Britain and Ireland by Golf Monthly magazine.

The panel of judges, composed of golf writers, administrators, course designers and photographers, assessed over 500 courses and rated them according to the challenge presented to players, course condition, visual appeal and off-course facilities.

"It is only fitting that the Old Course stands on top of the pile as it prepares to host the Open once again in 2005," commented Jane Carter, Editor of Golf Monthly. "The off-course facilities for visitors have improved out of all recognition at the Home of Golf in recent years and there really is no finer place to play."

In a further honour to St Andrews Links, the 107 year-old New Course was voted number 34 in the rankings.

"We are delighted to receive this recognition from so prestigious a source," said Alan McGregor, General Manager of St Andrews Links Trust. "All our courses, including the Old, are open to the public and clearly remain a favourite with golfers, even after 600 years of history and with so much high quality competition out there today."

75 NOT OUT

The STRI celebrated their 75th anniversary with an open day and dinner for invited guests last month.

During the day the Bingley headquarters, the trial grounds and the Bingley St Ives Golf Club played host to 13 "zones" where STRI staff gave demonstrations on their departments and looked forward to what can be expect in the years ahead.

The 170 guests at the evening dinner at nearby East Riddlesden Hall heard speeches from STRI President Lord Griffiths and R&A Secretary, Peter Dawson.

NOMINATIONS OPEN FOR UNSUNG HEROES

Terrain Aeration's unsung heroes Brian Payne and Tim Parker opened nominations for this year's awards as part of the STRI's 75th Birthday celebrations.

Dr Tim Lodge, Senior Agronomist and Southern Area Manager for the Institute, who hosted the proceedings, praised the awards saying that they acknowledged the hard work of ordinary groundsmen and greenkeepers that keeps the entire Turfgrass Industry moving.

"They are the absolute opposite of the self promotion that so often leads to less than ideal individuals occupying the limelight," he continued.

Dr Lodge is one of a three man judging panel, including Gordon Child, of BIGGA, and Derek Walder, of the IOG, which will send one groundsman and one greenkeeper to the South of France next year for a week's holiday with their families.

Terrain Aeration's Unsung Hero Awards are open to all UK practising greenkeepers and groundsmen, judged by their contemporaries or clubs to regularly put in that little bit extra.

Nomination forms can be found on the pitchcare website or with Lynda Green at Terrain Aeration Tel: 01449 673783.

Welcome
NEW MD FOR RANSOMES JACOBSEN

David Withers, a well known and popular figure within the industry, has become the new Managing Director of Ransomes Jacobsen Ltd.

He takes over from Steve Chicken, who continues in his role as Managing Director of Jacobsen International, Ransomes Jacobsen's holding company.

David has been with Ransomes Jacobsen - through the Jacobsen side of the company - since 1992 and for the last two years has been Sales and Marketing Director.

Following on from David's promotion, Alan Prickett has been promoted to Sales Director from the position of UK Sales Manager.

A NEW ROLL FOR A GREENKEEPER?

Mike, in his waders, contemplates what to do about the roller.

Mike Gash, of Moseley Golf Club, had an interesting problem to solve recently after vandals set a cricket roller running. The machine then ran over the cricket pitch, over the golf course and into a pond.

"Fortunately it avoided our greens otherwise it could have caused much more damage than it did but it didn't prove to be easy to get out of the pond," said Mike.

When it was finally removed by a crane, the problems were not over as the pollution left by the roller caused the water to turn a particularly unpleasant colour.

A SAD FAREWELL FOR TERRY

Broadstone Golf Club said farewell to one of its long-serving greenkeepers recently when Terry Elborn left to become a Conservation Office and Ranger with Poole Borough Council.

The 30 year old had been at the club since 1990 and such has been his dedication to conservation on the course that Broadstone was presented with an environmental award in 2001.

"Terry was instrumental in us winning that award," said Club Secretary Colin Robinson. "He has done tremendous work on habitat projects, building dew ponds for dragonflies, installing bird boxes, making reptile and bat surveys and many other things.

"He has also organised course walks for members and visitors and been instrumental in aiding all the wildlife we have here."

After being presented with a commemoration plate by the Club Captain, Ian MacFarlane-Thompson, to mark his 15 years at Broadstone, Terry said, "The club has been very supportive with my conservation work. I've also had cooperation from my fellow greenkeepers which has sparked more interest among them about conservation. This has made the job so much more enjoyable.

"We are lucky to have so much land around the course which enables the wildlife to thrive. We have all three species of snake here as well as all the native reptiles. There are also many types of insect while we also have bats and many birds including nightjars and buzzards."
A WIDER VARIETY FOR DAVID

Amenity Technology have appointed David Evans as their new Area Manager for the South Wales, Somerset, Wiltshire and Bristol regions and the M4 corridor to London.

David has been involved in the turf market for more than 12 years, with the majority of his time spent with Maxxi-Crop, and his vast experience will service his new company well.

"I'll be servicing the same sort of clients and I expect to continue along the same lines as I always have.

"What is different though is that I am able to offer a few ideas and avenues into a wider variety of sports turf. Yes, I am pleased to come on board and widen the scope a little bit," said David.

SAFETY ON GOLF COURSES

A recent statement by Master of The Rolls, Lord Phillips stated that, "Many Councils are no longer providing everyday leisure activities because of the fear they will be sued if people hurt themselves."

This has presented a big question about the future of municipal sports provision, in particular golf courses.

Lord Phillips said that Councils were effectively 'blackmailed' into paying compensation because it was cheaper than fighting false claims.

However, he did warn that it would become harder for people to sue councils successfully if they were hurt pursuing a risky leisure activity, such as golf.

"What's called for is for the population as a whole to have a reasonably balanced approach to indulging in these pastimes. They should not expect if they have an accident, which is always liable to happen, that there must automatically be somebody else who carries the can."

"If you are too obsessed about the risk of getting sued, you can take steps which stop people enjoying the kind of pastimes that people always have in this country," said Lord Phillips.

In the Best Value analysis demanded of local authorities, the future of local sports provision is likely to be affected by the consequences of accidents, as Councils decide whether to retain or dispose of the facilities they provide. Too often they cannot afford to fight claims and it is cheaper for them to settle.

With more proprietary pay and play golf courses and driving ranges they are bounded to ask themselves, is it right and proper to continue to own and operate our own golf courses and driving ranges?

PGA Design Consulting Ltd, the technical design and consultancy advisors to the PGA frequently act as Expert Witness. Bob Hunt, Managing Director said, "Recently, we have seen a considerable growth in accidents at golf courses and ranges and even greater increases in the level of claim settlements being awarded by the Courts. These accidents do not restrict themselves to municipal courses and ranges but are experienced at all types of facility including members' clubs and proprietary golf facilities."

SLICK SELLING SEES 5,000 BARRELS SOLD

Course Care has recently sold their 5,000th barrel of oil since David Mears and Andrew Vincent took control of the company in June 2001.

To mark the occasion a special barrel was produced. Finished in a red metallic paint and decorated with extra graphics the barrel was sent out to the 5000th customer.

The lucky recipient was Ian Pullan, Course Manager at Marriott Hollins Hall Golf Club near Bradford.

Said Ian; "I have been buying a number of lines from Course Care for years, but had only just decided to take their engine oil. I was amazed when the fancy barrel turned up!"

FORSYTH THE WHITELAW WINNER

The Whitelaw Bowl was played recently at Penrith GC.

The day was sponsored by Rigby Taylor and there was a belter turnout this year than in previous years.

David Forsyth and his staff had the course in great condition and, after all the rain this year, looking much greener than usual.

The results were:

The overall winner of the magnificent Whitelaw Bowl was David Forsyth.

Many thanks to Rigby Taylor and especially John Molt for their sponsorship, which I hope will continue for many more years, the caterers for a superb meal and, of course, Penrith GC for allowing us courtesy of the course.

Barry Heaney, past Chairman of BIGGA, was also presented with a gift for his support over the years.

There will also be a seminar at Penrith GC on November 25 entitled "Environment Issues". Anybody interested contact Peter Larter on 01476 550115.

GALLEY TAKES ON AMENITY GRASSES

Keith Galley has been appointed National Product Manager for amenity grasses for leading seed company Nickerson.

He will be responsible for the highly successful Top Green brand, which uses high performing cultivars in mixtures suited to every sports, amenity and landscaping situation.

Keith joined the company in 1990, spending two years in France working for Nickerson's parent company Group Limagrain - the largest plant breeding and seed development company in the European Union.

Keith will work from Nickerson's UK headquarters at Rothwell in Lincolnshire, and the company's seed mixtures production plant in Falkirk, Scotland.

NEW APPOINTMENT AT PLM POWER

PLM Power Products dealerships in the north of England, Scotland and Northern Ireland will benefit considerably from the appointment of Roy Duncan as Area Manager.

Roy has a wealth of knowledge spanning 23 years in both the sales and technical side of the outdoor power equipment industry.

In his new position Roy's responsibilities will include the developing the sales of PLM's high quality outdoor power equipment ranges and providing full dealership support.

INTURF CHOOSE SOUTH EAST REPRESENTATIVE

Andrew Lofting, formerly of Driving Force Leisure, has been appointed by Inturf to service existing clients and sell to new customers in Greater London and the Home Counties Inturf’s comprehensive range of products for all sports and landscaping markets.

Andrew's wealth of experience and knowledge in the turfgrass industry is well known and will be a great asset to Inturf in an area that has been relatively untapped, apart from the high profile and prestigious projects synonymous with the turf growers from Yorkshire.

Andrew will be based in Kent and will be dealing with Inturf's general turf sales, the Custom Grown Turf products and the Installation Services available from this fast growing.

SO WHO ATE ALL THE PIES?

At Saltex last year we reported how Johnny Beck, of Sheriff Amenity, had successfully passed his catering exams to enable him to man a barbecue for visitors to their stand.

It was a huge success, not least because the wonderful smells and accompanying smoke ensured that everyone knew Johnny was about.

This year a new approach produced slightly less smoke but kept the visitors fed just as well.

Armed with an on-site oven, Johnny dispensed over 1200 pies and pasties of all descriptions over the course of the three days.

TOUGH TEST FOR CENTRAL SECTION

Avoiding fusarium patch

The autumn months are when many inland courses suffer from fusarium patch.

My simple tip is always carry out dew removal on the greens, including after light frosts, and always include the collar of the green as often fusarium will start in the collar before spreading to the green.

We at Brocket Hall Golf Club have two forms of dew removal, which are:

1. When cutting the greens we always finish off by putting the mowers out of cut and running them round the collar to remove the dew.
2. We use a large dewy brush, which again takes in the collar as well as the green.

This is a very simple but effective way to aid in disease control.
Education and Training Manager, Ken Richardson, is into the busy part of the training and education year, including making arrangements for the new conference.

Turf Managers Conference - speakers announced

Things are getting even more hectic in the Education and Training Department as Sami and I strive to present education and training opportunities for all members of BIGGA.

The Regional Conference season has begun. Regional/Section Courses are in full swing, BTME & ClubHouse is just around the corner and the British and International Turf Managers Conference is ready to launch.

The British and International Turf Managers Conference

With so much happening at Harrogate during BTME & ClubHouse, the BIGGA Board of Management decided to move the Education Conference from Harrogate in 2005. They also decided that we should concentrate on Golf Course Management and the title of The British and International Turf Grass Managers Conference (BITMC) was chosen.

Therefore BITMC, which is supported by Syngenta Professional and by the John Deere Team Championship and endorsed by the R&A, the Scottish Golf Union, the English Golf Union, the Welsh Golfing Union, the STRI, the GTC and the IOG, will take place over the weekend of 19 and 20 March 2005 at the Staverton Park Conference Centre, nr Daventry.

The draft programme is:

Friday 18 March

Arrival and informal Dinner

Saturday 19 March

Session One
Dr James Murphy, Specialist in Soil Physics, Rutgers University

Session Two
Mr Brin Bendon, Management Trainer

Session Three
Mr Peter Jones MSc, Greengrassing Consultant

Session Four
Darin Bever, USGA Green Section Consultant

Session Five
Dr Ruth Mann, STRI Scientist

Session Six
Mr David-Bancroft Turner, Management Trainer

Session Seven
Mr Steve Jones MG, Greengrassing Consultant

Session Eight
Dr Alan Gange, Biological Scientist, London University

Session Nine
Mr Roger Greenwood, Broadcaster, Film Maker, Journalist

Session Ten
Mr Richard Hayden, Environmentalist

Session Eleven
Dr James Murphy

All the speakers have confirmed their attendance and subjects include: Research into Soil Biology, Current USGA Research, An Holistic Approach to Disease Management, The Use of Modern Technology in Golf Course Management, Obligations to the Environment, People Management on the Golf Course, Maintaining Personal Relationships and Dealing with the Media.

Staverton Park is a purpose-built Conference and Training Centre that has four star accommodation, excellent food and full leisure facilities including its own golf course.

The intensive two-day learning programme will cost less than £400, including VAT, that includes two nights accommodation in a single room, all meals, including the Conference Dinner, two days of top level education and full use of the leisure facilities (except golf).

Continue to Learn at Harrogate

Some people seem to think that Continue to Learn week at Harrogate has been diluted, but the opposite is true. As you should have seen from the Continue to Learn Brochure in last month’s edition of Gl, the number of opportunities for education and training has increased, with more Workshops than ever before, three days of Seminars, instead of two days, plus a full day of presentations by the Association of Golf Club Secretaries.

Places on the Workshops are limited and we have received a large number of bookings already, so make sure of your place by booking early.

For further information, contact Sami at BIGGA House on 01347 833833.

Regional/Section Courses

Some of this Autumn’s courses are fully booked, whereas some are in danger of being cancelled. Remember, use them or lose them. Places are available on:

- Essential Management Skills
- Ross on Wye Golf Club
  - 9 & 10 November
- Communication Skills
- Cleethorpes Golf Club
  - 17 & 18 November
- Management Skills for Head Greenkeepers and Course Managers
- Old Fold Manor Golf Club
  - 22 & 23 November
- Next Steps in Management Skills
- Dunham Forest Golf Club
  - 25 & 26 November
- Negotiating Skills
- Exeter Golf Club
  - 30 November

Each two day course costs £49 + VAT (£57.58) thanks to a massive subsidy from the BIGGA Education and Development Fund.

Regional Conferences

Education Conferences are being held at:

- Midlands
  - Warwickshire College
    - 10 November
  - West South & South Wales
    - Caernarvon College
      - 17 November
  - North
    - Penrith Golf Club
      - 25 November

Contact your Regional Administrator for details of how to book your place.
David Golding, the GTC's Education Director, clears the mist which sometimes surrounds the "who does what" in terms of greenkeeper education and training.

Some things change for the better, some things change for the sake of change and some things never change, thankfully in greenkeeper training. Work-based training remains the tried and tested method of giving staff the skills they require to maintain the golf course.

In my privileged position with the GTC I can offer any disgruntled greenkeepers a very optimistic outlook for the profession. More and more golf club employers are looking for professional Course Managers who can maintain and manage their course and are willing to pay for that talent.

The balance between spending time ensuring the course is to the required standard and the management responsibilities now demanded is a fine line.

However, I think most top Course Managers will agree that you are judged on the golf course and that might give you a strong clue as to where I see the priorities in time spent.

Hopefully most readers in recent years will have seen how the GTC has focused much of its resources in the training of Course Managers as work-based trainers/assessors and to ensure the sectors qualifications reflect the employers needs from craft to management level.

This initiative has received not only excellent financial support from the GTC's funding bodies, including the EGU, SGU, WGU, PGA European Tour, BIGGA and the R&A but also these bodies have actively promoted to golf clubs the importance of having a well trained, competent Course Manager.

In recent years we have seen the Home Golf Unions hosting seminars to inform the golf clubs they represent about many subjects, including the importance of having well trained staff, the various training schemes available and the link to legislation.

The R&A's website, www.bestcourseforgolf.org, has clear references to the role of the Course Manager and BIGGA promotes professionalism as the key to successfully managing a golf course.

One of the most important skills a Course Manager must have is that of staff motivation or team building.

Who was it that said the manager is only as good as his team? If the team play for you, you are judged on the golf course and that might give you a strong clue as to where I see the priorities in time spent.

On-line learning is now an option available from a major provider and the tried and tested distance learning for a HNC still continues to be popular.

The more traditional part-time route of day-release or block release has somewhat been overtaken by the learning "on the job" option.

Many GTC providers now give the employer and Course Manager the options of which delivery system they chose in order to suit their needs, and the most successful providers are the ones who actually visit the employer to discuss these options.

The GTC is at the heart of all the developments in greenkeeper education and please do not hesitate to contact us to discuss the options and your club/staffs' training needs.

David and the GTC may be contacted on Tel: 01347 838640 or email: golf@the-gtc.co.uk
