HEALTH & SAFETY

To body vibration, trips or falls, poor posture or being overweight can also cause back pain.

Sprains and Strains

A sprain is when a ligament is stretched beyond its capacity, these are most common in the arm or wrist and generally happen as the result of an accident or poorly planned tasks. Fatigue is a factor in strains – not tiredness but the sudden use of a muscle that has been idle for a while. A strain is a stressing of a muscle that can result in muscular tear.

Abdominal Hernia

A common injury resulting from lifting or digging, it occurs as a result of a weakness in the abdominal wall which develops into a localised hole through which abdominal organs may protrude. The likelihood of a hernia is increased by a bad diet or smoking.

Employers and employees duties

It is clearly set out in the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 that both the employer and employee have duties in relation to managing health and safety. The employer has a duty to ensure - so far as is reasonably practicable - the health, safety and welfare of his employer. The employee has a duty to take reasonable care of themselves and others, and not to intentionally or recklessly interfere with anything provided in the interests of health and safety.

There are other duties relating to the management of risks, and these are set out in the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999. They also apply to both the employer and the employee.

The approved code of practice in Regulation 3 states that significant risks and hazards should be addressed, and that all activities including routine and non-routine should be reviewed. Regulation 6 Health Surveillance places a duty on the employer to offer employers health surveillance as appropriate with regards to risks to their health and safety. What this means is the employers are bound by law to identify any risk associated with work, and if identified, to keep records of any occurrences if they arise.

All these conditions can be caused or aggravated by work, or by normal daily activities or hobbies. If a task or piece of equipment is badly designed, it should be highlighted in the risk assessment, and managers should be aware that risk assessments are evidence that would be used in the eventuality of a claim.

Footnote

My personal experience has prompted me to write this piece. I spent five years in pain as a result of both medial and lateral epicondylitis, have suffered sciatica and had a slipped disc. When I was a Course Manager I lost my Deputy for 18 weeks due to two abdominal hernia operations and countless days for back pain.

I know too many greenkeepers with similar injuries and as much as we love golf and golf courses, later in life the price paid can be debilitating. It is well documented that agriculture is regarded as a dangerous profession and the similarities between the farm and golf course are too close for comfort.

To my knowledge there has never been a survey on the cost to the golf industry of days lost through these conditions - however I am sure that if one were conducted, the results would mean minds would become concentrated.

TIPS

Here are some quick tips on how to minimise the chances of being affected by the conditions mentioned above:

• Avoid manual handling and repetitive tasks
• Where it cannot be avoided reduce it by rotating tasks, reducing loads and using manual handling aids - (see HSE booklet indg398). If a task can be mechanised, it should be
• Remember manual handling is the moving of any load by bodily force including lifting, pulling, pushing or shoving
• Organise your deliveries and manage your storage to minimise distances travelled and loads carried (storing fertiliser bags at waist height, and liquids with handles at hand height avoids bending and stooping)
• Report concerns to a manager or supervisor
• Make suggestions to improve working conditions
• Use anything provided to prevent MSDs as instructed
• Take breaks from repetitive or forceful tasks
• Do not expose yourself to vibration beyond the exposure action level of 2.5 m/s² in an eight hour period
• Be aware of the early symptoms of hand arm vibration syndrome
• Do not use vibrating machinery in the cold, wet or whilst smoking (all reduce blood flow to the nerves)
Events Coming Up

North - Two outings next year at two great courses. Spring outing is at Moray GC on 1 May 2014 and the Autumn at Inverurie GC on Thursday 11 September.

Central - We are still working on staging a mini conference at Auchterarder GC in early December. Once all the speakers and subjects are confirmed then we will email the information to all Section members as normal as well as putting the information on Facebook and the Central Section website. What we can confirm is that the event will be free for Section members and depending on Facebook and the Central Section website. What we can confirm is that the event will be free for Section members and depending on the uptake places may be available to members of other Sections.

East - The 27th AGM will be held at Bavelston GC on Tuesday 5 November, registration will be from 10am with the AGM starting at 10.30am, this will be followed with a Guest speaker and 9 holes of golf to contest the Jimmy Nelson Trophy, this event is free and all members are welcome to attend. We are currently setting up our Christmas event/night, more details to follow shortly.

West - By the time you get this magazine the AGM at Haggis Castle GC will be over – I’ll report on this next month.

West - The annual dinner proved very successful with 28 turning up for a pre theatre meal and then on for a few drinks. This year a similar format is planned and the intended date is Friday 29 November, meeting at Quiraich around 6.30pm.

Ayrshire - AGM Thursday 14 November at The Irvine Golf Club, Bogside at 7pm.

News

Central - A report from the Section AGM on 29 October is available on the website. Prior to the meeting Lynn Jopling of the Scottish Golf Environment Group gave a presentation on the free services available to Scottish Golf Clubs by SGEG as well as offering many tips on how to improve the green credentials of your Golf Club without breaking the bank.

Central - Congratulations to Phil Hind and Scott Watson of St Andrews Links for winning the Pairs competition by 1 hole against Scott Robertson from Strathmore Golf Centre and Stuart Griffiths of Blair Atholl GC. Thanks also to Carnoustie Links for allowing the final to be played over the Championship Course just a couple of days after the Dunhill Links Championship. Beaten semi-finalists were Adam Turner and David Bruld from St Michaels GC and Richard Devlin and Alex Walker from St Andrews Links.

Central - Commendations to Gavin Neil at St Andrews Links. On the first practice day of the Dunhill Links Championship, a golf ball hit from the practice range came over the netting which protects the greenskeeping facility, bounced off the concrete yard and struck him directly in the eye. Gavin spent 3 days in hospital while doctors tried to reduce the swelling and assess the damage and he was off work for over 3 weeks.

Central - Welcome to David MacFadyen, a new member who has started at gWest.

North - The new look Patrons Award scheme has changed with just one winner nominated by their fellow members, and they will be asked to attend a dinner at Gleneagles to accept the award in December. The first winner of this award from the North section is Dennis Grant from Huntly Golf Club so congratulations to him.

North - Two new members Roddy Kelly from Moray Golf Club and Dylan Meinen from Newmachar Golf Club welcome to them both.

North - Royal Aberdeen are gearing up for the Scottish Open with a new practice tee platform being built for use next year. Championship tees at the 10th, 12th and 16th have been extended and rebuilt for the championship. The next job is 30 bunkers being retvented and new pathway irrigation will be installed.

East - Our Patrons Award winner this year is Allan Campbell (Carriacouros GC), well done Allan and we hope that you enjoy HTME.

East - It is with great sadness that we report the sudden passing of Steven Lamb (Muirfield GC), our thoughts are with his family at this time.

West - The outing held at Eastwood Golf Club on 19 September was a pretty drach affair with rain and wind for quite a few holes. The course was in great condition and having noted the recent changes enforced through the M77 construction the course has benefitted. The biggest difference I noticed was the height of the fir... trees at certain of the older holes, they were quite imposing. Well done to Neil Lindsay and his staff for their efforts. The Eastwood committee have to be commended for allowing our presence, this is very much appreciated, and please take my comments positively as I felt the course was a better layout than the old one but it’s sad to see a few characteristic holes missing. Thanks to the bar staff and catering staff for attending to our needs, I think all who attended enjoyed the day’s golf.

West – Well done to Gordon Sangster from Carluke Braes in winning the HIRGA National Championship. What a brilliant year he’s had winning this and the Scottish National. It’s brilliant to see somebody who has real talent although it means the rest of us need to get our act together and practice!

West - To Fraser Ross, everybody is thinking about you after the passing of your father. The section’s best wishes go to you and your family.

West - I bumped into Gordon Peebles of Tarrit who gave me his tales of woe regarding van engines falling to pieces and broken flywheels but it looks like everything has been sorted.

Ayrshire - We held an instruction day at West Kilbride Golf Club on the use of Grinders. Willie Nisbet of Bernhard Scotland provided an excellent talk and demonstration - thanks to Willie for providing this.

Ayrshire - Section patrons award winner is Gregor Wilson of Turnberry Hotel Golf Course. Congratulations to him - the Section Committee hope he enjoys the Harrogate experience.

In this latest article from a GTC Quality Assured Training Provider, Jon Allbutt, Britrisk Safety’s Technical Director reminds us of our responsibilities for Health & Safety whether you are an employer or employee.

There is no doubt that we have moved forward in golf course safety management in the last twenty years or so. The GTC rescued HS (G) 79 “Health and Safety in Golf Course Management and Maintenance” and produced an updated and expanded edition as a joint industry funded project, fully endorsed by HSE and The RHA.

We have also seen a whole series of workshops and roadshows involving BIGGA, the British Home Unions with support from industry experts, and HSE that drove home the message that practical safety management is essential and achievable with quality information, training and support.

Yet there are still accidents, dangerous incidents, investigations and some prosecutions that continue to cause concern.

A further problem is the low level of reporting, particularly of incidents and near misses. The lack of a positive safety culture dults an awareness of the importance of consistent reporting and investigating and the role this plays in managing the safety of a site for all.

Where any group of greenkeepers gather it won’t be long before someone tells a story of slipping into the lake, pond, bunker or down a bank, smiles and nods confirming the truth – yes we have all been there!

Such unreported incidents / near misses will quickly come to light when an individual is being interviewed - under a Caution – by the H&S investigating officer! Apart from the negative non-compliance aspects, it’s worth remembering that there are vital lessons to be learnt from accident and particularly near misses incidents.

If something could have happened and didn’t, next time there could be serious injury – or worse – so an investigation is called for to determine the root cause. How detailed this will depend on the nature of the event. What can we do to change our thinking on this?

The route to good safety management and the achievement of continuous development and improvement of standards is set out in HSE Guide HSG65 “A Guide to Measuring Health and Safety Performance”. As part of the review of health and safety by Professor Lister this document is changing to a new approach based on PLAN – DO – CHECK – ACT (see right page).

A new guidance document is currently in draft form and publication is expected soon. This is a fresh approach that greatly simplifies and streamlines the evidence an employer needs to have of his health and safety management of the workplace. The burden falls to the management team to make sure that the employer’s policies are put into an action plan based on this new approach.

David Golding, GTC’s Education Director, invited Britrisk Safety to write this H&S update. He added: "Jon Allbutt has for many years assisted the sector with his advice and guidance to make the workplace a safe environment. In many cases Health & Safety responsibilities have been taken seriously and great strides have been made. Jon’s business ‘Jon Allbutt Associates’ has been absorbed within the umbrella Britrisk Safety which now brings a new, innovative and in many ways altogether simpler approach to safety management and training within the golfing industry and wider land-based sector.”
Plan

• Prepare your safety policy
• Set out the detailed arrangements for managing safety
• Identify the roles and responsibilities of duty holders
• Prepare the organisation’s H&S flowchart – the family tree of H&S duty holders
• Plan the implementation strategy – a programme of actions for all

Do

• Present the safety policy and arrangements for approval and signing by the employer (the owner, committee or board of directors)
• Provide information and training, raise awareness, improve skills, develop positive attitudes by changing the negative H&S culture
• Identify and record the main hazards making sure to take account of seasonal factors
• Assess the risks to staff and others – be site and task specific – avoid trivia
• If the actions to be taken in a risk assessment do not effectively reduce the risk, prepare a method statement that sets out exactly how a task is to be carried out safely
• Implement your plan within an agreed timeframe

Check

• Measure your progress and performance with regular safety audits
• Record, investigate and review accidents and incidents/near misses
• Review the effectiveness of risk assessments and method statements

Act

• Review performance against the implementation strategy and programme
• Be prepared to learn the lessons, make changes, be active not passive about health and safety management

Tom Searle, MD at Britrisk, added: “I sometimes think that Health and Safety Consultants make compliance issues more difficult for their clients rather than easier.

Getting bogged down in paperwork and red tape doesn’t help to prevent accidents; in fact it can make them more likely to occur as people simply will not read long-winded policy statements and risk assessments, let alone apply the contents!”

About the author

Jon is co-author of the GTC’s new golf course management practice. Jon has authored many golf club managers and centres, see the Resources section – Cutting Edge sponsored H&S leaflets and other guidance material for many golf maintenance facilities. Both of these H&S leaflets are available from the GTC and will feature in a half-day workshop at BTME 2014. The workshop on Tuesday 21 January will feature Britrisk Safety and Swan Golf Designs, and will feature and explore the GTC’s Learn to Learn programme or visit the GTC website: www.the-gtc.co.uk

Speedcut Contractors have had one of their busiest years on record with sports pitch construction and golf course projects right across the UK – including Wales, Somerset, Oxfordshire, Surrey, Essex, Kent and Sussex.

From reservoir to bunkers, paths to greens drainage and tees to tees, Speedcut staff have used their considerable experience on a wide variety of golf courses.

At Fawkhills Golf Club and Nexos, Surrey, Speedcut have completed more green reconstruction and bunker reshaping projects as well as carrying out tee levelling, path work and drainage on several greens and the driving range. Also in Surrey, tee and bunker improvements have been made at Sunbury Golf Club.

And at Oxyangton Golf Centre, Kent, they have levied and regraded three tees – with a fourth built from scratch as an addition to the facilities at the centre.

The two courses at Ovington - Gray Valley and Rushley Park - are owned by MyTake Active, who use Speedcut as their regular contractor. Paths were also improved at Broomley Golf Centre for the same group. Speedcut have also completed tee levelling at Cumnor Golf Club, Essex, while at Hampstead Golf Club, North London, they relaid the Bromley Golf Centre for the same group. Speedcut have also completed more green reconstruction and bunker reshaping projects as well as carrying out tee levelling, path work and drainage on several greens and the driving range. Also in Surrey, tee and bunker improvements have been made at Sunbury Golf Club.

In Kent, Speedcut have also built a new tee at the 15th at Langley Park, Bexley – designed by James Edwards Golf Design - and created new paths and reformed existing bunkers on the 14th. At Chaltonham Golf Club they rebuilt the 7th hole to a Weller Golf Design. At Pittstown Golf Club, East Sussex, Speedcut are underwriting the complete rebuild of 14 greens amongst the re-established heather with seven being completed this year.

Dick Franklin, Speedcut managing director, says: “We have been busy with the weather in the summer months of 2013 and this enabled us to complete many projects on every type of sports surface.”
