Turf Growers announced their course as part of their training tending will receive three finding an increased need to international Golf Greenkeepers credits towards the newly laun-tization" says David Golding, BIGGA's Education Officer.
BIGGA has organised this course as part of their training programme and delegates attenting will receive three credits towards the newly launched Master Greenkeeper Certificate.
The course induces lectures and demonstrations by Brian D. Pierson, one of the country's leading golf course constructors and Robert Laycock, Rolawn's Technical Director and a turf scientist in his own right.
Also on the programme is a visit to Rolawn's turf production fields near York, to see the latest developments in the cultivated turf industry.
Rolawn's sponsorship of the course means delegates will only have to pay a nominal fee (£30 residential, £10 day) for this BIGGA course, although places are strictly limited and early application is advisable. Rachel Selwyn, Rolawn’s Marketing Director says of their sponsorship, “We are please to have been asked to sponsor this course as part of BIGGA’s programme to improve standards and training of greenkeepers.
In the cultivated turf industry there have been many changes and developments that make construction and renovation more feasible for more greenkeepers, but only if they have the knowledge and training.”

LESSONS ON THE LAWN
N January Warwickshire County Council’s Sports and Ground Services Department took delivery of £160,000 worth of ground care machinery from Murley Agricultural Supplies Limited of Warwick. The nine Agris 9300 triple cylinder rear-on mowers and three Ford 3910 tractors will be used by sports and ground services throughout Warwickshire, where they maintain in excess of 5.5 million square metres of grass.
Grounds Maintenance Manager, Mike Butler, said: “Our decision to buy the Agris 9300s was reached after extensive research into the equipment available and more importantly after extensive working trials.”

Of the working trials, Phil Garrett, Area Manager for Sports and Ground Services said: “The Agris came through with flying colours!”
Simon Tullrett, General Manager of Agria UK Ltd, said that he was especially pleased that Murley’s got the order, as Warwickshire County Council, where possible, like to procure equipment from suppliers within the County.
Murley Agricultural Supplies Limited of Warwick, who supplied the machines have been Agria dealers for two years and Richard Forty, Sales Director, said: “We have a reputation for quality and service and the Agria range completely supports our policy.”

HAWTREE - NEW CONCEPT IN GOLF COURSE PROVISION
ANY farmers are deterred from converting their land into a golf course because of the high production costs involved. With 700 courses required by the year 2000 to meet demand, the irony is that these landowners have ideal sites but feel limited by finance.
Now Hawtree, the international golf course architects, have come up with a revolutionary idea for what in essence are do-it-yourself golf courses, in which they submit a simple design and then allow the farmer and his workforce to build it in their own time, while maintaining a supervisory role.
By this method the Oxford-based practice, responsible for more than 300 courses worldwide is making golf course ownership more attainable. The first example of this new concept is the Sandford Springs Golf Club near Kingsclere in Hampshire on the site of Sandford Farm owned by Raleigh Place. The complex was opened by Nick Faldo U.S. Masters champion earlier this year.

CRICKET SQUARE SAVED, THANKS TO “CHARTERHOUSE OVERSEEDER” CKERETERS in Reading have an extra cricket table, thanks to the versatile Charterhouse Overseeder, from turf management specialist Charterhouse Turf Machinery.
The pitch at the Sol Joel Playing Fields, owned by Reading Borough Council, had been overgrown for some years and was proving difficult to re-establish. But then the Borough’s grounds maintenance unit contracted services decided to use the Charterhouse Overseeder, which had been bought in May this year. “Having failed the long grass, we overseeded, and the new turf came up a treat, in the middle of the season,” said Miles Milner, grounds maintenance manager. “The wicket will be in play next year.”
Mr Milner said that, in the past, many groundsmen would have been wary of using so large a machine on a cricket wicket. “But we gave the Sol Joel pitch the intensive over seeding it needed - and it worked.”

THE VICTA RYAN CHANGEOVER
ICTA (UK) Ltd announce that with effect from July 1 they will be relinquishing the distribution of Ryan turfcare equipment. After that date Ransomes, new owners of Ryan will arrange their own distribution.
Commenting on the situation, Vicia’s managing director, Bill Brooks said: “To ensure that our customers are not inconvenienced, we have negotiated with Ransomes for spare parts to be available from our dealers until June 1991. Every effort will be made to make the transition as smooth as possible.”
