GCSAA installs new leaders

Faubel assumes presidency; Cadenelli beats out Roberts

Gerald L. Faubel of Saginaw (Mich.) Country Club was elected president of the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America during the association's annual meeting in Orlando, Fla., on Feb. 26.

Faubel succeeds Dennis D. Lyon of Aurora, Colo., as immediate past president.

As immediate past president, Lyon will continue to serve for a year as director.

Stephen G. Cadenelli of Metedeconk National Golf Club in Jackson, N.J., was elected vice president.

"I'm very pleased and excited to be vice president," said Cadenelli, a superintendent and GCSAA member since 1973.

"I've been involved with the association for a long time. This is a great opportunity to work for the business and profession. I'm really looking forward to the next couple of years."

William R. Roberts of Lochmoor Club in Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., lost the vice presidential race but was re-elected as a director and appointed secretary/treasurer.

Also re-elected as directors were Joseph G. Bailey of Acacia Country Club in Lyndhurst, Ohio and Randall P. Zadik of Rolling Hills Country Club in McMurray, Pa.

Charles T. Passios of Hyannisport (Mass.) Club was appointed to the board to fill Cadenelli's vacated director's post.

Gary T. Grigg of Shadow Glen Golf Course in Overland Park, Kan., and Randy Nichols of Cherokee Town & Country Club in Dunwoody Ga., continue to serve as directors.

W. Va. superintendents expand educational opportunities in turf

The West Virginia Golf Course Superintendents' Association has elected John C. Cummings of Berry Hills Country Club in Charleston, W.Va., as president for 1990.

Serving with Cummings are Charles A. Murray of Edgewood Country Club in Charleston, W.Va., and Howard H. Lott of Bridgeport Country Club in immediate past president.

The WVGSJA has mirrored the growth of golf and the growth of the national GCSA, boasting more than 100 members up 28 percent from 1988.

Recognizing their obligation to their profession, the directors have expanded their regular monthly meeting schedule to accommodate the diversity of education that the superintendent now requires.

In addition, the association will conduct its first annual turf conference at Cedar Lakes Conference Center near Ripley, W.Va. The three-day conference, Nov. 13-15, will include equipment and product demonstrations as well as 3-1/2 days of concurrent educational programming.

Fund-raising for turfgrass research and scholarships will also be a focus for the association. More than $23,000 has been raised and distributed over the past four years and this year's goal is $10,000.

Tournament Chairman Charles A. Murray will host the event at Edgewood Country Club on June 11 and plans are underway to expand it.

Murray said: "The WVGSJA board of directors recognizes that we have a very real need to be progressive in this area. Our distributors and membership have responded beautifully in support of this worthy endeavor."

"It is our hope that, with this program, we can contribute to the positive direction that golf is taking within our state."

tered and the right to produce them canceled. Eighty percent of those cancelled hadn't been used in three years, Williams said.

"It's purely an economic decision whether to re-register or not," she said.

The net result has been the removal of many obsolete pesticides from the EPA's approved list, a move that should increase public confidence in pesticide use, she added.

"We've found that risk is a combination of real hazard and public fear. We're trying to reduce the fear component," Williams said.
