Branson could get new golf layout

BELLA VISTA, Ark. — Cooper Communities Inc. has proposed building at least one golf course of nearby Mayfield, offered to invest $2.5 million in the project, run the golf course and pay the city parks department $10,000 a year in exchange for keeping more than 96 percent of the profits.

The developer, National Golf Operations Inc., of nearly Mayfield, offered to invest $2.5 million in the project, run the golf course and pay the city parks department $10,000 a year in exchange for keeping more than 96 percent of the profits.

However, according to Mayor Joseph Migliorini, the city wants to reap more revenues from the deal.

Some still want a course built in Macedonia, as Migliorini explained to the Akron Beacon Journal: "The city can't do anything with this land otherwise than use it for recreational purposes."

Nick Molnar, a City Council member, added, "I think it [the course] would be a plus for the city."

Macedonia, Ohio — The City Council recently rejected a developer's bid to turn 104 acres of unused parkland into an 18-hole golf course.

The developer, National Golf Operations Inc., of nearby Mayfield, offered to invest $2.5 million in the project, run the golf course and pay the city parks department $10,000 a year in exchange for keeping more than 96 percent of the profits.

Celeste Boland, a City Council member, said she was surprised the council rejected the proposal. The developer, National Golf Operations Inc., of nearby Mayfield, offered to invest $2.5 million in the project, run the golf course and pay the city parks department $10,000 a year in exchange for keeping more than 96 percent of the profits.

However, according to Mayor Joseph Migliorini, the city wants to reap more revenues from the deal.

Some still want a course built in Macedonia, as Migliorini explained to the Akron Beacon Journal: "The city can't do anything with this land otherwise than use it for recreational purposes."

Nick Molnar, a City Council member, added, "I think it [the course] would be a plus for the city."

However, according to Mayor Joseph Migliorini, the city wants to reap more revenues from the deal.

Some still want a course built in Macedonia, as Migliorini explained to the Akron Beacon Journal: "The city can't do anything with this land otherwise than use it for recreational purposes."

Nick Molnar, a City Council member, added, "I think it [the course] would be a plus for the city."

DELAND, Fla. — Despite criticism by private operators that government would be competing with private business, the County Council has approved a preliminary proposal to build an 18-hole golf course atop the former Plymouth Avenue Landfill.

A development firm will now look over the proposed $3 million project to determine a final price tag. If an executive-length "short course" can be built for less than $3 million, the project could be a "financial winner," according to the development firm.

Private golf course operators questioned the project's viability.

Dick Gardner, vice president of Southridge Golf Course, told the Daytona Beach News-Journal: "There's absolutely no demand. There's an excess supply of golf courses."

The National Golf Foundation's consulting subsidiary, which developed a marketing and feasibility study for the county, disagrees. Its report concludes there are plenty of championship-quality courses in the area, but not enough shorter courses.

Second-class postage paid at Yarmouth, Maine. Also, additional mailing office. Golf Course News (ISSN 1054-6844) is published monthly by United Publications, Inc., 38 Lafayette St., P.O. Box 997, Yarmouth, ME 04096. Phone number is 207-846-6600.

The publisher assumes no responsibility for unsolicited material or prices quoted in the newspaper. Contributors are responsible for proper release of proprietary classified information. Copyright 1993 by United Publications Inc. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole and in part, without the written permission from the publisher, is expressly prohibited.

Reprints and permission to reprint may be obtained from Managing Editor, Golf Course News, P.O. Box 997, Yarmouth, ME 04096. Back issues, when available, cost $3 each within the past 12 months, $10 each prior to the past 12 months. Back issues may be billed to American Express, Visa, or MasterCard, paid by check, or billed when ordered via purchase order.

Golf Course News is distributed in the U.S. without charge to qualified personnel of golf course facilities and to golf course builders, developers and architects. Subscriptions to Canadian golf facilities cost $25 annually. Other paid subscriptions to the U.S. and Canada cost $35. All foreign subscriptions cost $135 annually to cover air delivery. All payments must be made in U.S. funds drawn on a U.S. bank.

For subscriber services, please call 215-788-7112.

Send address changes to Golf Course News, P.O. Box 3047, Langhorne, Pa. 19047.

Fla. municipality to get executive track

DELAND, Fla. — Despite criticism by private operators that government would be competing with private business, the County Council has approved a preliminary proposal to build an 18-hole golf course atop the former Plymouth Avenue Landfill.

A development firm will now look over the proposed $3 million project to determine a final price tag. If an executive-length "short course" can be built for less than $3 million, the project could be a "financial winner," according to the development firm.

Private golf course operators questioned the project's viability.

Dick Gardner, vice president of Southridge Golf Course, told the Daytona Beach News-Journal: "There's absolutely no demand. There's an excess supply of golf courses."

The National Golf Foundation's consulting subsidiary, which developed a marketing and feasibility study for the county, disagrees. Its report concludes there are plenty of championship-quality courses in the area, but not enough shorter courses.

All We Really Wanted Was To Make Grass Grow Better.