Graham Cooke corners Maritimes

By HAL PHILLIPS

HALIFAX, N.S., Canada — With four new course projects in various stages of construction, a high-profile renovation in the books and a club management contract in the offing, Graham Cooke & Associates has single-handedly created critical mass here in the Canadian Maritimes.

"I much enjoy the Maritimes," said Cooke, whose design firm is based in Montreal. "The economy has perked up recently, and the provinces understand this is a way to establish a [tourism] connection with New England and other parts of Canada. I suppose I was in a good position because it's really taken off."

Fresh off his restoration of Stanley Thompson's Highland Links in Ingonish Beach, Cape Breton, Cooke and his colleagues will open Osprey Ridge Golf Club in Bridgewater, N.S., next spring. While construction continues on separate 18-hole projects in Inverness, Cape Breton, and Fox Harbour, N.S., the firm will try its hand at club management when Glen Arbour Golf Club opens for play here in spring 1999.

"This will be our first management venture," said Cooke. "We'll go on a contract basis with good people who have golf knowledge of the Maritimes. Our first review will include people involved in the golf course industry, people with suitable experience running something as recreational as Glen Arbour."

Cooke said his firm will hire a club manager for Glen Arbour "sometime next year," during which time the clubhouse will be built and the course — 6,710 yards of rollicking

An ambitious 500-acre project, Glen Arbour is the first integrated residential golf project in the Maritimes. Annapolis Basin Group, Inc., a first-time golf developer, has planned some 200

National Fairways, RDC joint venture picks up Forsgate CC

GREENWICH, Conn. — Forsgate Golf LLC, a joint venture between National Fairways Inc. of Greenwich, Conn., and RDC Golf of Parsippany, N.J., has purchased Forsgate Country Club (CC), a private 36-hole club in Jamesburg, N.J.

Forsgate CC, situated midway between New York and Philadelphia on exit 8A of the New Jersey Turnpike, is a private country club offering 36 holes of golf along with a 23,000-square-foot clubhouse.

National Fairways will manage the day-to-day operations of Forsgate CC. RDC's food and beverage experience will play a major role in the club's operations.

The Forsgate acquisition gives National

Fairways 19 courses with an additional two under development.

"The Forsgate purchase is part of a proactive plan to increase the number of golf courses in the National Fairways fold to 50 over the next several years," said Marc Bergschneider, founder and chief executive officer of National Fairways in a prepared statement. "We are focusing on the Northeast because we believe it's more efficient and cost effective to stay close to home. We also see numerous development opportunities here because the Northeast is not yet overdeveloped like parts of the Southeast."

RDC plans to add three to five golf facilities per year on the East Coast.

Capitol Golf takes Jones Creek

By PETER BLAIS

BETHESDA, Md. — Capitol Golf Group, a Maryland-based course acquisition and management firm, has purchased Jones Creek Golf Club in Augusta, Ga., and plans additional acquisitions in the coming years, according to Director of Operations David Allen.

Jones Creek is an 18-hole, Rees Jones-designed layout that opened in 1985 as the centerpiece of the 520-acre master-planned community of Jones Creek. The semi-private, 400-member facility has been ranked among the top courses in Georgia and the Southeast.

The company hopes to acquire additional daily-fee and semi-private clubs in the Eastern United States, particularly the Southeast.

"The Southeast has a longer playing season and a good mix of metropolitan and resort areas," Allen said. "We have a familiarity with the people in that region."

Allen said Capitol Golf has no numerical goals in terms of course purchases. The firm has the financial resources to purchase one or several facilities at a time if they fit the company's growth plans and then operate them through Capitol Golf Services, the company's management arm.

What differentiates Capitol from other management firms? "We
