LEGAL CORNER
Harassment, discrimination part of golf workplace

oss, you had better think twice before commenting on how tight that co-worker's skirt looks, or passing around jokes based on race, sex or national origin. You might have to reach deep into the company's coffers to pay for it. Businesses have always had to worry about risk and lawsuits, but this was usually in connection with injured bodies, and savvy business owners have no choice but to familiarize themselves with the potential risks in this area and to put into place a set of rules to deal with it.

The Bible has a lot to say about how you treat guests. The Orient has forever been known for its traditions concerning guests. The word hospitality truly transcends all cultures and religions. To say that someone is hospitable, that they practice hospitality, is to pay them a wonderful compliment. And everyone loves to receive genuine warm hospitality from their host or hostess. Don't you? I certainly do. Why, to be Continued on page 32

Dakota Mgt. signs on in Sioux Falls

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. — The city of Sioux Falls and Dakota Golf Management, Inc. have announced the signing of a long-term contract for management services at the City's three municipal courses.

Dakota Golf Management, founded by PGA Professionals Terry Comstock and Tom Jansa, has managed the courses since 1995 when the city of Sioux Falls decided to privatize operations at the courses. The new contract is for four years, with a four-year extension based on satisfactory performance by Dakota Golf.

"We are very pleased to be able to continue our work with the city," said Terry Comstock, Dakota Golf's president. "The new contract will allow both the city and Dakota Golf to continue to make real improvements at the courses."

The city owns three courses with a total of 54 holes. Elmwood Golf Course is a 27-hole facility, with an 18 hole course designed by Larry Packard and a nine-hole layout that has been redesigned by Comstock and Jansa. Elmwood was listed on Golf Digest's original list of "America's 200 Toughest Courses."

Kuehn Park Golf Course is a par-30 executive course that opened in 1976. The city's newest facility is Prairie Green Golf Course, which opened in 1995. The course has received numerous honors. It was designed by Dick Nugent and built by Landscapes Unlimited.

The three courses hosted more than 130,000 rounds in 1997.

Under the agreement, Dakota Golf will continue to manage all aspects of course operations. The courses are completely funded by user fees.
